

RUSSELL WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE FOR C. OF C. REELECTION

With the approach of the annual chamber of commerce election next month, members are beginning to shop about for a new president. T. O. Russell, president for the past year, has definitely announced he will not be one of the running candidates. He does not feel he can continue to neglect his own business.

The election is slated for the third week in September. The chamber of commerce has accomplished much during the past year and those interested in the organization are already beginning to think about candidates for the head man's job.

In speaking of prospects for the new year, Russell has explained his reasons for not seeking the office again. "I have been glad to serve during the past year," he said, "and was pleased to devote practically all of my time to the job. I feel, however, that I can no longer afford to take so much time from my own work."

It is common knowledge that Russell, a contractor and engineer, has held off on several important jobs until the expiration of his work as president of the chamber. As soon as his term of office expires, Russell plans to concentrate on his own business. He has maintained an office in the chamber of commerce building during the past year, where he has met with anyone and everyone wishing to discuss chamber of commerce affairs.

So far, no candidates for Russell's position have stepped into the limelight but it is probable that several names will be brought forth before the election nearly a month hence.

This position they had abandoned this morning, while the deputies were being mobilized for another attack upon them.

It was reported that some of the picketers on highway 34 were armed. Many carried sticks, clubs, and other weapons. Only the experienced deputies and police among the sheriff's crew were armed. The newly deputized men carried no weapons.

Several deputies were sent to the highway about three miles from here to mingle among the picketers and act as spies upon their movements.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting
Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be secured with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls are weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leitch was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 3000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 1900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist with a right money back guarantee.

Dr. Leitch's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. So why waste time on external treatments or worry about an operation when Tiffany-Davis Drug Co. has a very Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 25.—(AP)—

Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, the first woman to fly the Atlantic alone, straddled out of the west today, and with a perfect landing at 10:31 a. m. (E. S. T.) (official) became the first woman to make non-stop transcontinental flight.

The official time for her flight was 19 hours, 4 minutes and 6 seconds, or 1 hour, 28 minutes, and 57 seconds more than the transcontinental record of 17 hours, 39 minutes and 50 seconds held by Captain Frank Hawks. Mrs. Putnam left Los Angeles yesterday at 12:26:54 p. m. (P. S. T.).

Although she failed to better Hawks' time she established a transcontinental speed record for women, there being official classification of women's records now, and also chalked up a new distance flight record for women, by exceeding the 2,000 mile mark made last year by Miss Ruth Nichols in her Oakland, Cal., Louisville, Ky., flight. Mrs. Putnam probably flew considerably farther in fact, but for the purposes of her record she is only credited with the air line distance, approximately 2,435 miles.

It was a tired-looking blonde flier who climbed out of the crimson and gold high wing plane today at the airport, and was almost knocked over by the enthusiastic crowd that rushed to greet her.

Photographers asked Mrs. Putnam to smile.

"I don't feel much like smiling," she told them. "I'm so tired."

En route to Newark, Mrs. Putnam's food consisted of what she called "good old tomato juice." The sandwich and the vacuum bottle of cocoa, which she carried at her husband's insistence, were not touched, she revealed.

HURD NOT "KEEN" FOR SAWYER IDEA

Judge Robert W. Sawyer's plan of bonding the counties to build the coast highway bridges was opposed Thursday by County Commissioner Clinton Hurd.

Sawyer, a former state highway commissioner, suggested his plan to the commission Wednesday to keep the state from piling up further debts. His plan was to divide the cost of the bridges among the coast counties and let them vote bonds to be used as security for loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Tolls would be put on the bridges, and the proceeds would go to the counties. The state would pay the counties an amount equal to the present cost of ferry operation.

"Under this arrangement," Sawyer told the commission, "the state will not become further indebted, the counties will assume all hazards with respect to toll income, and the tolls may be lifted whenever the participating counties request."

The bridges would be built at Florence, Reedsport, Waldport, Newport and possibly North Bend, where ferries now are operating. A loan of $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 would be required.

"I favor building the bridges," said Mr. Hurd Thursday. "But I am opposed to Mr. Sawyer's plan of letting the counties take all the risk. The state should assume its share.

"I doubt very much that the people of this county would vote a bond issue upon themselves at this time."

Mr. Hurd recently urged that the bridges be made of wood to save money.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

THE KING OF BEASTS

"Nature in the Raw" — as portrayed by the great animal painter, Paul Branson . . . inspired by the brute force and savage cunning which has made the lion ruler of the African jungle.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies . . . the mildest cigarette you ever smoked in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"

That package of mild Luckies

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
