IN "ILLEGAL" AT HEILIG!

Isobel Elsom, "Ruth Chatterton of the London Stage," is shown here with two young men-about-town as she appears in "Illegal," which opened Thursday at the Heilig theatre. The picture was filmed entirely in London by Warner Brothers.

has been employed by the government in building a rock wall near Waldport, was injured recently and is spending a few weeks at the home of his brother, Scott Lyons, route 2, Eugene. Lyons suffered an injured hip in a rock slide following a blast. His son, Guy, is still on the job and Lyons plans to resume work in a couple of weeks. Lyons handled powder work on the Eugene power ditch and is well known here.

Russell Praises Labor's Attitude

Praise for the work being done in Oregon by organized labor was expressed by T. O. Russell, president of the Eugene chamber of commerce, in commenting on the resolution opposing the proposed school merger passed at the convention of the Oregon State Federation of Labor Tuesday.

"I wish to express the sincere thanks of this body to Ben Osborne, state secretary, and the delegates of the local union who secured this fine endorsement," said Russell. "To Robert Flecher, Jr., Van Kemery, Charles Sullivan, W. R. Armstrong, George E. Griffin, Wm. Morberg, and any other members of the local union who may have been at the convention go credit for the work."

"In my opinion," Russell continued, "the anti-school grab has viewed matters pertaining to state welfare in the past years. It reflects the fine common sense demonstrated in other matters of this kind, and is further evidence of the friendly feeling of local organized labor toward the city and university."

"Texas Cyclone" Coming To State

Dickie Moore and Chic Sale, co-stars in "The Expert," will end their run at the State theatre Thursday. The story is by Edna Ferber and the cast includes Lois Wilson, Tarle Foxe, Ralf Harold, Adrienne Dore, Walter Catlett and others.

Tim McCoy, western star, will appear at the theatre Friday for two days in "The Texas Cyclone." Action starts with the first scene of this picture when McCoy, as Pecos Grant, rides into the Arizona town of Stampede and is greeted by everyone as Jim Rawlins. Rawlins was supposed to be dead. Pecos tells the bartender he isn't Rawlins, but as there promises to be a lot of thrilling adventure when one of Rawlins' enemies flings a knife at him and another draws a gun, he decides to wear the name until he gets at the bottom of the trouble.

He nearly weakens when he finds Rawlins had a very beautiful wife who faints with surprise and joy when she thinks her husband has returned from the dead, but when he finds that she is being robbed by her own cowboys, he stays until he has established law, order and fair dealing.

YOU are cordially invited to attend a salon of the New Ford V-8. For the first time all fourteen of the new Ford body types will be on display here. You can inspect them conveniently, carefully and at your leisure.

One of the features of the show is that arrangements have been made for you to ride in and drive the cars if you wish. There is, of course, no obligation. We sincerely want every one to ride in this great new car and realize, first-hand, the thrill of its amazing performance. Don't miss this splendid opportunity.

A cutaway chassis is also an display. You can examine every working part, see how it functions, learn the care with which it is made and realize the simplicity and sturdiness of Ford construction.

There are talking pictures and special exhibits which show many of the new features.

Attendants will be on hand to give you any information you might wish about the cars, or the details of their construction.

If you phone your Ford dealer he'll gladly pick you up at your home or office and take you to the salon.
