room of his secluded canyon home yesterday. A .38 caliber revolver, one chamber emptied, was clutched in his hand and there was a bullet wound in his temple. Another loaded revolver was nearby.

Ten feet away, on a dressing table, authorities found a note addressed to Miss Harlow, his bride of two months. It read:

"Dearest Dear: Unfortunately this is the only way to make good the frightful wrong I have done you and to wipe out by abjoce humiliation. I love you. PAUL.

"P. S.—You understand that last night was only a comedy."

The body of Bern w.s discovered by John Carmichael, his butler, at approximately 11:45 a. m. Authorities were not notified until approximately 2½ hours later.

Attendants at the Price-Daniel mortuary, in announcing an autopsy over Bern's body for this morning, reported that the film producer had been dead at least 12 hours before his body was received at the funeral parlors.

Chief of Detectives Joseph F. Taylor announced that he had assigned members of the police homicide squad to make a complete investigation. He said he felt that discrepancies existed in versions of the apparent suicide. He also wanted to know why police were left out of the case for so long a period after discovery of the body.

Miss Harlow was working in a starring picture at M-G-M studios when she received her first word of the tragedy. The actress, hysterical, was taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. Martino Bello.

the boys call it "driving the mules." In our optical examination we call it driving the car—be it Ford or Pierce Arrow its the same test for all.

In aviation you must estimate the distance to the ground. In auto driving, the distance from the passing car. Can you pass the depth perspective test? Even if you have an auto license its well to check up as "safety first" is a good slogan.

chairman to draft a statement to accompany the biennial reports of the presidents of the institutions, and of the board, required to be laid before the governor and the legislature.

It was particularly desirable at this time, Mrs. Pierce said, that a statement of what had been done by the board, and of what had been accomplished, be set up "so clearly and interestingly that the public will be fully informed, and before the November election."

In response to a request from Ray W. Gill, master of the state grange, for clarification of the board's prior action regarding the activities of state agents for or against the oleomargarine bill which is to be on the November ballot under referendum, it was set out by the board that county agents or other employes of the educational institutions are not to take part in political matters or to make political appearances in such manner as would appear officially to bind the board or the institutions under its control, nor to make such appearances, or statements, on any property under board control, or to be billed for political appearances as county agents or other employes of the educational institutions.

NEW DISCOVERIES CONFIRM VIRTUES OF BRAN IN DIE

Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now, millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a delightful pleasant way to overcome common constipation—with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that often result from this condition.

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron by weight, as beef liver.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is unlike the "bulk" in lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Think how much better it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to take endless pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Two tablespoonfuls daily—in serious cases with every meal—are usually sufficient. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
