

McDonald Offers Laurel and Hardy Comedy; "Last Mile" Playing State

"Office Girl" Opens At Colonial; Rex Features "Bring 'Em Back Alive"

Eugene theatres are planning to make a big week of it, and have booked in some of the season's best pictures for showing here. The McDonald is opening Sunday and Monday with Laurel and Hardy in "Pack Up Your Troubles." On Tuesday and Wednesday comes "Wild Girl," with Helen Twelvetrees, Ralph Bellamy and Eugene Pallette. "Grand Hotel," with Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, the Barrymores, Lewis Stone, Jean Harlow and Wallace Berry, will play Thursday to Saturday. The Colonial is opening Sunday with "The Office Girl," rated by the newspaper's theatre editor as one of the season's most entertaining musical comedies. Ten reels of comedies and novelties together with action returns will be offered Tuesday evening. George Bancroft will be seen at the Colonial Wednesday only in "Lady and Gent." "Viennese Nights" will play Thursday only. "Speed Demon," with Ben Turpin, Stuart Davis, Zasu Pitts, Ben Turpin and others will be seen Friday and Saturday in "Make Me A Star." At the Rex Sunday and Monday will be Frank Buck's "Bring 'Em Back Alive." Helen Twelvetrees, Robert Young and Lewis Stone will play Tuesday and Wednesday in "Unashamed." William Collier, Jr., and Joan Marsh will be seen Thursday and Friday in "Speed Demon." John Wayne will play in "The Big Stampede" and the four Marx Brothers will be seen in "The Cocoanuts" on Saturday's double bill. The State will open Sunday for three days with "The Last Mile," from the play by John Wexley, featuring Howard Phillips and Preston Foster.

turing Howard Phillips and Preston Foster, Warren William and Marian Marsh will come Wednesday and Thursday in "Beauty and the Boss," along with vaudeville. Friday will be amateur night and the Friday and

MOVIE EDITOR IS PLACED ON SPOT

The ability of Roy Craft, movie and sports editor of the Register-Guard, to "pick 'em" will be tried at the Colonial theatre Sunday and Monday, where the musical comedy treat, "Office Girl," will be shown, according to Glen Godfrey, production manager. For weeks Roy has contended that this picture is the very best of the year from the standpoint of entertainment. "It is a happy picture, one that tickles you, that makes you feel that life is worth while," Roy has been saying. "You look at it and everybody will rave about it."

The picture is coming! With a first-class beautiful and charming cast, including funny Jack Hulbert, it is also regarded by critics as a picture that is a great production.

The presentation is composed of sparkling wit from start to finish and one of the complete comedy type. The plot has to do with the manner in which a smart working girl employs both her beauty and brains to get success in a retail bank office. The editor has her way into a job in the office and before the bosses are aware of it she has the controlling reins in her capable hands.

The handsome and talented Owen Nares plays the role of the bank clerk who is captivated by Renate Muller, playing the part of the office girl. Jack Hulbert, famous comedian, has a splendid performance as the year-old office boy.

"VIRTUE" TO PLAY AT HEILIG THEATRE

The Heilig theatre, which closed down several weeks ago for lack of pictures, has been able to book several outstanding hits and will inaugurate a "week-end policy" starting Friday. The theatre will be closed during the early days of the week but will be open each Friday, Saturday and Sunday with first-run pictures.

The production to be featured this week-end will be "Virtue," with Carol Lombard, Pat O'Brien and Mayo Methot. The picture was directed by Eddie Buzzell.

The story, by Ethel Hill, is a down-to-earth picture of all the seething drama that is life in a big city such as New York, climaxed by a spectacular murder that further entangles two already tangled lives.

Colonial Plans Election Program

A variety program of short subjects with the announcement of election returns on the quarter hour will be the entertainment offered at the Colonial theatre Tuesday night, it was announced by Glen Godfrey, production manager. Inasmuch as the election night program comes on Tuesday which is the regular Colonial "Dime Nite" the policy of the theatre will remain the same.

"Let Me Call You Sweetheart" is one of those musical comedies which have been given much recognition and is one of the outstanding numbers on the program. "Spunky," "Trout Fishing," "Sea Soldiers," "Sweeties," "Red Noises," and "Strange As It Seems" are also included on the bill.

COLONIAL

Listen Folks!!

For weeks I've been trying to get the Colonial to book this show "Office Girl." I've seen it twice, and I want to see it again. Believe me it's a honey! It's got everything—a cute girl who can sing and act—one of the funniest comedians I've ever seen. It's the kind of a show that makes you glad there are movies—laughter and life! Without reservation I recommend "Office Girl" as one of the best shows of the year!

"THE LAST MILE" NEW FILM TREAT

"The Last Mile," one of the most sensational successes of the stage, has finally come to the talking screen.

World Wide Pictures presents the revolutionary drama of a prison death house, opening today at the State Theatre, with one of the best chosen casts in years.

"The Last Mile," laid almost entirely in a row of prison death cells, and literally laying bare the souls of men, was, on the stage, the play that launched Clark Gable to fame in the role of "Killer" Mears. In the screen version this famous role is played by Preston Foster, noted on the screen in "Life Begins," "Dr. X," and others, and on the stage for his appearances with Richard Bennett in "In Command."

Sam Bischoff directed the screen production, adapted from the original John Wexley play by Seton Miller. Among the players are Howard Phillips, Alec B. Francis, Louise Carter, George E. Stone, Alan Roscoe, Albert J. Smith, Daniel L. Haynes, Walter Walker and many others of note.

The dramatic highlights include the grim death march, the suspense

"GRAND HOTEL" TO PLAY AT MCDONALD

Seven stars instead of one shine brightly in "Grand Hotel," the most costly picture made in recent years which will be featured on the Fox-McDonald screen Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The story from the pen of the celebrated Vici Baum, has probably attracted more attention than any screen production of the decade.

In bringing "Grand Hotel" to the screen, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer placed seven stars in the central characterizations and engaged Edmund Goulding to handle the assignment. The remarkable cast is head by Greta Garbo with John Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Berry, Lionel Barrymore, Jean Harlow and Lewis Stone playing the outstanding roles.

The story, which takes place entirely within the confines of a fashionable Berlin hotel, entwines the lives of a varied group of persons, including an exotic Russian dancer, whose romantic interlude with a reckless baron saves her from suicide, but results in her lover's murder. Involved in the drama are a scheming business man, a seductive stenographer, a consumptive clerk spending his savings on one last fling in life,

"Unashamed" Will Play At Fox Rex

The Fox Rex theatre offers for Tuesday and Wednesday "Unashamed," starring Helen Twelvetrees and featuring MGM's newest screen idol, Robert Young, the youth who made a grand slam as an actor in "The Wet Parade." This picture might well be called a second "Free Soul" production as the plots of the two pictures are fairly similar in nature.

The plot revolves about a girl, very wealthy, who becomes enamored with a young man-about-town who strives to marry into her millions. Her brother senses the situation and in an attempt to thwart this avacious character, kills him to free his unsuspecting sister. The girl creates a sensation in the court room scene when she defies her brother's attorneys and refuses to testify in favor of her own brother who faces the electric chair for protecting her honor. The climax is one that will long be remembered. The supporting players are Lewis Stone, Monroe Owsley and Robert Young. A Laurel and Hardy comedy is booked to furnish the laugh fodder on this exceptional program.

"Wild Girl" Will Play At McDonald

Bette Hart's immortal story, "Solomy Jane's Kiss" has been brought to the screen in a stirring story re-titled "Wild Girl," which will be featured at the Fox-McDonald Tuesday and Wednesday.

The screen story features Charles Farrell, Joan Bennett, Ralph Bellamy and Eugene Pallette. One of the highlights of the sojourn of the "Wild Girl" unit in the Sequoia big tree country, according to Director Raoul Walsh, was the courage shown by Joan Bennett, during the filming of scenes in which she appears with a number of bears.

MCDONALD OFFERS COMEDY FEATURE

The screen's funniest male team, Laurel and Hardy comes to Fox-McDonald today and tomorrow in their second feature length comedy "Pack Up Your Troubles," a travesty of the late war in which this celebrated laugh team get into all sorts of troubles over a child of one of their pals.

More than a year ago they were starred in "Parson Us." Since that time they have been diligently searching for a new idea for their second feature. How well they have succeeded in bringing to the screen one of the most humorous offerings of the season will be revealed when "Pack Up Your Troubles" is shown at the McDonald theatre.

The title will undoubtedly bring to the minds of many people the refrain of one of the popular songs sung during the World War. Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and smile, smile, smile. Laurel and Hardy have tried to carry out the meaning of the song, though the story has no connection with the melody.

Bancroft Scores In "Lady And Gent"

A picture crammed with action, fast comedy dialogue and one of the finest plots of the year is "Lady and Gent," which comes Wednesday to the Colonial theatre. Featuring George Bancroft at his best, the production has a host of stars to make it particularly outstanding.

Bancroft is excellent in his role. No one can be quite so good-natured when good nature is required; so brutal, when brutality is demanded; or anywhere near quite so sheepish when sheepishness is called for, as Bancroft's Mr. Bancroft. And Miss Gishbrook, skydiving to stardom, puts herself several notches nearer with her interpretation of a tough cabaret owner suddenly gone domestic. It's more difficult than it looks when she does it, as any actress will testify.

"Speed Demon" To Play Rex Theatre

A first run feature is in store for those patrons of the Fox Rex theatre Thursday of this week when "Speed Demon" opens.

Demon" opens for two days. The picture is a true delineation of a young race driver's career from the time he starts out as a mere wiper until he becomes a race track driver barnstorming from county fair to county fair. The next step is to the hard surface tracks in the larger cities of the country until he reaches every racer's ultimate goal the Avco 500-mile jaunt at Indianapolis on Memorial day. This scene alone costs almost as much as the entire production because of its lavishness. A romance of convincing merit is interwoven throughout the production by its two stars, William Collier, Jr., and Joan Marsh, who has not been seen in Eugene since she played her memorable part in "Bachelor's Affairs."

FRANK BUCK FILM PROVES REAL THING

Many have called the picture opening Sunday at the Fox Rex theatre one of the best films of its type ever produced. "Bring 'Em Back Alive" guarantees its onlookers a thrill a minute. Adventure, strife and comedy run through this astonishing wild animal picture, in which everything that occurs is unstaged, unhearsed, and real. Fact once more proves more astonishing than fiction and there can be no doubt in any one's mind that "Bring 'Em Back Alive" is fact.

Anyone who witnesses the death struggles between the crocodile and the black leopard, the python and the man-eating Royal Bengal tiger; anyone who sees the shots of the elephant herd and the pathetic plight of the last baby elephant; anyone who sees any part of this remarkable picture knows that the picture which Frank Buck produced is the real thing. "Bring 'Em Back Alive" is of interest to everyone for its convincing jungle episodes, its sure fire entertainment value and for its purely educational value. This picture is rated as one of the best of the year and has that rarity of rarities—something really new and amazingly different.
