Chatter---

By M. L.

WHAT the Congregational Women's League "Curiosity Shop Tea" did—sent us all scurrying home to bring forth the antiques of the family to see if there was not one of date earlier than any displayed. It could scarcely be done. Truly the exhibit was one to create envy among Cal Young and others of our pioneers who make it their hobby to collect pioneer relics. And the exhibit brought a story, too. One lady, they tell us, has some rare dishes of old Spode. She hesitates to display them, because, so the story goes, she says to show them off is just the same as saying, "I have blue dishes in my house." Do you have blue dishes in your house?

Football games, wrestling and boxing matches, and on down the line are mainly men's interests, still, some tell us; yet it is interesting in our office to note the ever increasing number of women who call in for the progress or final results, and show their enthusiasm over such.

True, Thanksgiving is not here yet, but Christmas is soon following. For some fine ideas on making inexpensive gifts for children, plan to hear Miss Hazel Fishwood, school art supervisor, in one of the talks she is giving on the subject. She has been appearing before P. T. A. groups and clubs and is due to give other talks soon.

For originality in decorations, the week's honors go to members of Blue River chapter, Order of Eastern Star, who honored their past worthy matrons and past worthy patrons Friday evening with a social. The dining room was decorated with a large collection of trophies of the World war, complete to a camouflaged airplane and the flag, kept moving by means of a fan. The trophies were loaned by C. F. Hyde, W. H. Williams, and Dr. M. G. Howard.

Eugene's oldest "homemaking art" organization, the Home Science club, celebrates its twentieth anniversary Monday. There were six original members, but the club today knows but one, except so far having failed to reveal the others' names. The Home Science club has been one of the leading groups in the city to advance the work of homemaking for Eugene women.

Golden Wedding Is Event Today At Bailey Home

TODAY Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bailey are celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary which came Saturday.

A family dinner, with places for twenty-two, will be given at the home of Mrs. Bailey's sister, Mrs. Louise B. Kellems.

From three until six o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will hold open house at their residence, 1389 Pearl street, for relatives and friends.

Pouring will be Mrs. Joseph Bradley, Mrs. Guy E. Barton, Mrs. Andrew Hill, Mrs. I. P. Inman, Mrs. S. E. Stevens, Mrs. S. E. Childs, and Mrs. Bailey's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Flint, five miles west of Eugene. Mr. Bailey is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, pioneer residents of the Bailey Hill section. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have four children living, Edward F. Bailey of Eugene, Mrs. C. A. Doran of Portland, Mrs. J. B. Stam of Seattle, Mrs. Harold A. Moore of Portland; and eight grandchildren, who are Thomas and Edward Doran of Portland, Dorothy Carol and Marian Stam of Seattle, Berton and Priscilla Moore of Portland, and John Edward Bailey of Eugene.

Out-of-town guests for the observance are Misses Mary DeHoney and Eleanor Tasche, both of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were married November 12, 1882, at the residence of Mrs. Bailey's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Flint, five miles west of Eugene. Mr. Bailey is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, pioneer residents of the Bailey Hill section. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have four children living, Edward F. Bailey of Eugene, Mrs. C. A. Doran of Portland, Mrs. J. B. Stam of Seattle, Mrs. Harold A. Moore of Portland; and eight grandchildren, who are Thomas and Edward Doran of Portland, Dorothy Carol and Marian Stam of Seattle, Berton and Priscilla Moore of Portland, and John Edward Bailey of Eugene.

Mrs. Bailey is widely known for her active work in the Christian church, serving for many years as president of the state missionary society, which office she now holds, as well as being a Sunday school teacher in the First Christian church here for many years.

Girls' League Has Tea For Mothers

The Girls' League of the Eugene high school entertained with its annual mothers' silver tea on Wednesday of this week. Miss Virginia Endicott was chairman for the affair.

TODAY'S RECIPES

By SISTER MARY

IT is perfectly possible to provide a cheap but adequate dietary without sacrificing the essential food values if you study the properties of natural foodstuffs. Money also can be avoided if you use your imagination and creative ability and develop the art of good cooking.

Several factors influence the amount the average family ordinarily spends for food. Individual tastes, nutrition requirements, avoidance of waste and economical planning control the food budget as definitely as does the size of our pocketbook.

It frequently has been estimated that not more than one-fourth of the income should be allowed for food. But when the income falls below what might be considered even a moderate sum, the allowance for food may be above the allotted one-fourth, due to the fact that food is of first importance on the list of necessities.

When the World War enforced a combination of economy and conservation, the U. S. Food Administration advocated the division of the food allowance into fifths. Miss Lucy Gillet of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor gives this simple, workable basis for the food division: "One-fifth, more or less, for vegetables and fruits."

"One-fifth, or more, for milk and cheese."

"One-fifth, or less, for meats, fish and eggs."

"One-fifth, or more, for bread and cereals."

"One-fifth or less, for fats, sugar and other groceries and food adjuncts."

If you try this arrangement for a week or two you will find that you are serving well balanced meals which furnish protein, fat, carbohydrates, mineral constituents and vitamins.

In your meal planning don't overlook the cereals. The germ part of grains especially is of great value and is rich in the "protective foods."

Dried fruits and dried vegetables are cheap sources of energy and mineral salts.

The root vegetables and cabbage have a long season and are very inexpensive. They supply many valuable nutrients for the minimum outlay.

Cheese should not be forgotten as a means toward economy. A concentrated food, it contains no waste and is rich in calories. It's an excellent source of vitamin A and a good source of vitamin B.

There are many varieties of fish meals.

Monday's Menu
BREAKFAST: Chilled tomato juice, whole grain cereal cooked with dates, top milk or cream, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Potato and parsley soup, cheese sandwiches, baked winter pears, ginger cookies, milk, tea.
