

Robnett To Resign As Rosson's Assistant

"DOC" WILL STUDY AT HARVARD FOR MASTER'S DEGREE

Ronald H. "Doc" Robnett, for the past 4 1/2 years assistant graduate manager of the associated students at Oregon, will resign his position this week, Robnett plans to leave soon for Harvard university where he will work for his master's degree in business administration.

Robnett's resignation has already been submitted and will be given formal action by the executive council at its meeting Wednesday evening.

Robnett had originally planned to leave next fall and start his course at Harvard in September, 1933, but by leaving now will be able to enter the special session which starts in January and will permit him to get his degree in June, 1934. Robnett's resignation at this time came as a surprise to the associated students but there is no doubt the executive council will act favorably on his request that he be relieved of his duties here.

It is not probable anyone will be named in Robnett's place at the present time. Hugh B. Rosson, graduate manager, and Tom Stoddard, assistant, will take care of the work during the winter months.

Robnett's work has been with the detailed handling of sporting events, ticket sales, forensics, publications and music.

Prominent Webfoot

He has been a prominent figure on the Oregon campus for many years. Robnett graduated with honors from Oregon in 1928, being awarded the Joseph H. Albert cup by vote of the members of the senior class. He was also elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national honor society and was outstanding not only as a student but in extra-curricular work, being senior man on the executive council as well as manager of the music activities.

Mrs. Robnett will accompany her husband east and they will make their home for the next year at a half in Cambridge, Mass. Robnett will be enrolled in the Harvard graduate school of business administration.

Since working on the Lane county industrial survey in 1928, Robnett has been interested in research work and his studies at Harvard will give him a background for continued effort in that field. His resignation at Oregon is voluntary, Robnett being highly regarded on the campus and in downtown Eugene.

CRAIG WOOD WINS SOUTHERN TOURNEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The title of 1932 San Francisco national match open champion and $500 went with Craig Wood, blond gunner from Deal, N. J., as the golfing army today headed for southern California fields to carry on the winter tournament.

Wood, 31, won the title yesterday, after a final round in which he provided a freak setting for his concluding match but the few hundred fans who braved the chilling weather were treated to a hard, close-fought battle.

Pitches that under normal conditions would have produced perfect shots saw the balls skid off the greens. Accurate putting was difficult.

The visiting golfers were enroute today to prepare for the Pasadena, Los Angeles and other tournaments in southern California.

Anderson, Achiu, O'Reilly Winners

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Des Anderson of Seattle took two falls out of three from Joe Kirk of New Haven, Conn., here last night. Anderson weighed 154 and Kirk 153.

Anderson took the first fall in a little more than six minutes with an airspin and body slam. The second fall went to Kirk 11 minutes later with a Boston crab hold. In less than two minutes Anderson took the deciding fall with a body press.

Walter Achiu, 135, Dayton, Ohio, Chinese wrestler, took two straight falls from Jimmy Powers, 154, Des Moines, Iowa, in the semi-final.

In the three round opener, Art O'Reilly, 147, Eugene, defeated Bearcat Arnold, 145, Boston, in two straight falls.

NO SCHOLARSHIPS

Officials of Villanova college, Villanova, Pa., have ruled that athletic scholarships at that institution are to be abolished.

PLENTY OF COACHES

In round numbers, there are some 6000 coaches teaching football in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

100,000 SEE TROJANS WHIP IRISH!

One hundred thousand persons, the largest crowd to witness a football game in the United States this season, packed Olympic Stadium in Los Angeles Saturday as the University of Southern California defeated Notre Dame, 13-0. NEA photo shows Homer Griffith, star Trojan back, on the start of a three-yard end run in the first quarter. Nick Lukats, No. 48, and Steve Banas, No. 60, Irish backs, stopped him. Referee Herb Dana is the official. Dana, incidentally, is the new Coast conference commissioner who will handle the selection of football officials for the Coast teams.

DANA IS NAMED SUPERVISOR OF GRID OFFICIALS

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The Pacific Coast conference lost a commissioner of athletics today and gained a supervisor of football officials.

Herbert Dana, prominent grid mediator in the west, and former star player at the University of Nebraska, was appointed to the supervisory job late yesterday by unanimous vote of the faculty representatives and graduate managers of the ten conference members.

At the same time the report of Jonathan Butler, temporary commissioner, completed his report of athletic conditions to the faculty representatives. He had been employed for one year and his term later was extended to fourteen months.

This report was not made public. At the outset, Butler informed the faculty group he was not a candidate for any office. He intends to take a vacation of several months, but indicated he would make the west his home. Butler came here from the middle west.

Faculty representatives said the complete report, exactly as Butler submitted it, would be printed and sent to each member of the conference. Thirty days thereafter it will be made public.

It was generally assumed that the report contained nothing of a startling nature and that the members of the conference had been given a clean athletic bill of health by Butler.

To Present Plans

Dana will set up plans for appointment of grid officials and present them to the conference for approval at the meeting June 2 and 3 at Spokane. His position will be for part time only, with a nominal salary. He will not be eligible as a grid official after January 2.

If the system proves popular, Dana also may be given jurisdiction over basketball officials in 1934. His services also will be available to non-conference schools of the far west if they so desire.

The question of barring further radio broadcasts of football games was tabled for the spring meeting along with the drawing up of football schedules for 1934. There appeared to be an increasing sentiment against radio broadcasts, with the indication that the ban might be voted in next June.

Football schedules were delayed because of the squabble between the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles over the question of preferential rights to the municipal coliseum here.

Southern California won the first move in its efforts to gain a ten-year first option on the dates when its petition passed the city council yesterday, 12 to 3. The petition also must find favor from the Los Angeles county board of supervisors. They are expected to meet Wednesday.

The conference also passed a rule requiring all non-conference schools to comply with all the rules of the group in all athletic competition with members of the group.

Most of the Pacific Coast conference representatives journeyed to Agua Caliente, Mexico, today where they planned to participate in a golf tournament as the crowning touch to the winter meeting.

Eugene High Has Games at Oakridge

Fritz Kramer's Eugene high school basketball squad will journey to Oakridge Tuesday evening for practice games with Gilbert Sprague's Oakridge team. The first teams of the two schools will meet in the main event of the evening while the second teams will also play.

The first game will start at 7 o'clock. Kramer has not yet lined up his regular first string for the season but has a squad of nearly 20 men working for places. He will probably start himself at center with Hugh Mercer and Roy Northam at guards and John and Joe Hill at forwards.

HIGHCLIMBER Looks em over

By ROY CRAFT

GOLFERS of 50 years and over are coming into their own in Oregon. A "Senior Golf Association of Oregon" is being planned for golfers over 50 years of age and the first meeting and tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 17 and 18. The membership will be made up of members of private golf clubs and all Eugene Country club golfers over 50 years of age are invited to join.

The invitation came from Roscoe P. Hurst, Portland attorney, to Dr. J. M. Miller, chairman of the country club tournament committee. Dr. Miller is passing the word on to all interested. The "senior golfer" idea has been tried with great success in Victoria, B. C., and is being carried on in Washington and California. The Oregon association is the first of its kind in the state.

The organization meeting and tournament will be held at Gearhart, Ore., and the cost will be $4 per day for everything, which includes room and meals at the Gearhart hotel and green fees for the tournament. There will be in addition a very small tournament fee to cover the cost of the handsome trophies. The tournament will be run on a handicap basis.

"Eugene Country club members 50 years old and over are eligible for the senior golfers' tournament at Gearhart, Dec. 17 and 18," says the letter from Hurst to Miller. "We earnestly desire all senior players to meet us at Gearhart and take part in the affair. Inter-city play between clubs will be carried on next season and inter-state tournaments between Oregon and Washington, and Oregon and California. The organization will permit older golfers to get acquainted and play in competition with other golfers of their own class. We anticipate a great time."

Any Eugene men interested may contact Dr. J. M. Miller for entry blanks, and other information.

The business men's locker room at the Y. M. C. A. has proven too small for the winter's needs and an addition had to be built, according to Dick Strite, Y. M. C. A. secretary. Eugene men are taking advantage of the opportunity to enjoy handball, swimming and other sports at the "Y" during the winter months and for the first time, the locker room has been taxed to capacity.

Eugene duck hunters are a hardy lot. While the rest of us remain huddled in our warm beds during the wee small hours of the morning, the duck hunters are out breaking the ice and bagging their limit of ducks. All of the regular ponds are frozen up these days but the hunters chop big holes in the ice and the ducks go for the exposed water in a big way. Dr. Carl Robbins and his son, Carl, Jr., and Harry C. Farley report a fine bag of ducks Monday.

Hunting in the river is not good at this time as the only clear water is in the middle of the stream and it is hard to get close enough to the ducks to shoot 'em.

This Joe Kirk, who is to wrestle Walter "Sneeze" Achiu in the armory Thursday evening is a Danish wrestler with pop eyes and a big mouth. He resembles Frankenstein, according to reports, and frightens little children.

Plans have been completed for the broadcast of the Oregon-Louisiana State football game Saturday over radio station KORE, Eugene. The game starts at 2 o'clock, central standard time, and will begin over KORE at 12 o'clock noon.

Among the royal stamp collectors, in addition to the King of England, are the Queens of Italy and Belgium, Prince Leopold, Crown Prince of Sweden, and King Faisal of Egypt.

BILL TERRY OPENS BIG LEAGUE MEET WITH PLAYER DEAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Inspired by the first big player deal of the annual conclave, the magnates of the American and National League settled down today to three solid days of barter, lobby lounging, and serious efforts to prune the baseball business of all unnecessary expense.

In every corner of the major league hotel headquarters, a kind of closed doors, on lobby settees, in fact everywhere that two rival managers could find space to argue, bidding for talent broke out afresh at the example set by Bill Terry, young manager of the New York Giants, the Giants received Glenn Spencer, a young right handed pitcher from the Pirates, and George Davis, a fine outfield prospect from the Phillies.

To balance the third corner of the trade the Pirates sent Gus Dugas, 21 year old outfielder, and a sum of cash not announced, to the Phillies. Experts Okay It

To the mind of the experts assembled in great numbers for the annual meetings, Terry's second big swap of the off-season gives the Pirates just about the strongest outfield in the National League in the two left handed Waner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, and the right handed Lindstrom, and materially enhances their chances of dethroning the championship Cubs.

Freddie, in eight years with the Giants, first as a star at third base and then in center field, has hit an average of .325 despite a drop to .270 last season. He hit his peak in 1930 when he set up a clouting mark of .370.

Davis, who probably will take over Lindstrom's place in center field, is 28 years old, a New York university graduate who came up to the Phillies only last year after a sensational season with St. Paul in the American association. He proved a steady hitter, batting .309 in 137 games, and a fast, sure fielder.

The record of Spencer in two years with the Pirates is just fair. He is only 26 years old and in 1931 won 11 games while losing 12. Last season he won four and lost eight, mostly as a relief pitcher.

Fullis with the Giants four years, has never achieved the status of a regular. He is 28 years old, averaged .265 at bat for four years, and hit .208 in 96 games last season.

Although the club owners, in separate league meetings, had before them the recommendations of the joint "steering" committee of the two major circuits for drastic economies, trades still were of absorbing interest.

Oregon Star Ends Down With "Flu"

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Coach Frank Callison, who passed through Tucson Monday with his University of Oregon football squad enroute to Baton Rouge to play Louisiana State, said two of his best players are very ill with influenza.

Callison said that in only two games during the entire season has he had his full playing strength on the field at one time. Injuries or illness have kept some of the best players on the side-lines.

Oregon's two star ends, Wishard and Morse, were confined to their bunks with influenza when the team passed through here, Callison said. A physician was called to attend them at Casa Grande.

The players going to Baton Rouge expressed in front of the depot here during the 15 minute stop.

MEETING POSTPONED SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 13.—(Special)—Monthly meeting of the city council scheduled for Monday evening, was postponed because of the illness of Mayor W. P. Tyson.

WALTER ACHIU TO WRESTLE JOE KIRK

Walter "Sneeze" Achiu, Chinese grappler, will meet Joe Kirk, rough-and-ready mat artist, in the second of two main events on Thursday evening's wrestling program in the armory. Roy Roy, the red-haired Scot, will meet Bunny Martin of Topeka, Kans., in the other main event.

Achiu, always popular here, is known as the best dressed wrestler in the ring and has become a sensation on Herb Owen's cards in Portland. Kirk, his opponent, is a rough-neck grappler with a big following in Seattle and Portland and his appearance here promises plenty of action.

The Rob Roy-Bunnie Martin go-as-comes local fans of a stellar card on Thursday night. The four grapplers are all outstanding in the national wrestling picture and all are known to the promoter. Owen took another promoter's word for it last week when he booked in Billy Caxon last week, and Caxon proved hardly a match for the Chinaman. Owen does not plan to mis-match any more boys that way.

This week's card will probably give mat enthusiasts some good, old-fashioned wrestling. None of the boys are inclined to take anything from their opponents, but they will probably confine their activities to bruising each other rather than the referee.

BUTTER DROPS TWO CENTS ON MARKET

Butter dropped two cents on the Producers' Public Market, Tuesday, bringing the country butter down to 26 cents a pound.

Few other prices were reported for the day, following the boosts on carrots, parsnips, turnips, cabbage, and rutabagas during Monday.

Eggs and poultry remained unchanged.

This week-end should see some turkeys coming in, although the main business for the market will come during Christmas week. Growers are being ever reminded to bring in only their prime birds, to insure a better price and a better trade.

A fair trade was out for Tuesday. Following were prices for the day:

Turkey Prices Varied; Stock Selling Sluggish

HOGS REPORTED AS SLIGHTLY HIGHER; PRODUCE IS STEADY

Shifts in turkey prices and a slight advance on live hogs were the main changes for the local markets, Tuesday. Turkey prices here are showing some confusion. Local buying prices dropped to 11 cents on No. 1 stock, 8 cents on mediums, and 5 cents on No. 2, the prices being subject to change at any time during the day.

Swift and company announced they would be receiving until Friday for their California shipments, listing their prices at 12, 9, and 6 cents, respectively on No. 1, mediums and No. 2 birds.

The Oregon Turkey Growers' association was receiving at the Eugene Fruit Growers' plant throughout the day, Tuesday, and expected to be at work late at night. The turkeys were reported to be coming in fairly well during the day, but it was uncertain as to whether the association would take out as many turkeys as it did earlier this month when about 4000 were sent out.

Live hogs here advanced to $3.25 @ $3.50 on tops Tuesday with corresponding advances on other grades.

Butter, luffarat, grains, poultry and eggs all remained steady for the day.

Turnips, carrots, parsnips, cabbage and what few other local vegetables are coming in now are showing slightly higher prices as the cold wave continues.

PORTLAND BUTTER JUMPS HALF CENT

PORTLAND, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Advance of 1-1/2c in the price of prime first cube butter during the late session of the produce exchange reflected weather conditions more than anything else. The advance simply took care of the loss of a similar amount during the closing session of last week.

Market for butter is naturally showing more strength all along the coast as a result of the record cold snap, which has invaded the so-called non-water state to the south with heavy snowfall even on the desert.

As yet there is no appreciable decrease in the supply of butterfat and churning operations here continue much the same as last week but decrease is sure to follow, at least for a time.

Butterfat values continue mixed but mostly either at the high point or within a fraction of it.

Steadiness is generally reflected in the egg market with no general change in prices. Some price cutters of recent days have come up to the open values listed by the Pacific Co-Op.

Fractional price advance was followed the betterment in demand for country killed calves. Sales are reported up to 7c, lb. for extreme top. Very slow trading one is showing for country killed lambs as a direct result of the recent boosting of the price to a dime a pound. All sorts are moving slowly. Hog market is firm to higher along the coast.
