

Rob Roy And Thor Jensen To Meet Tonight

ART O'REILLY TO MEET STEWART IN 45-MINUTE EVENT

Thor Jensen, Elktion grappler, and Rob Roy, Michigan Scot, will tangle Thursday evening in the main event on Herb Owen's wrestling program at the Eugene armory. Their match, brought about by popular demand, will give Roy a chance to redeem his first defeat at the hands of the thunder and lightning boy.

Art O'Reilly, University of Oregon wrestler and one of the meanest little men in the business, will meet Stanley Stewart, Portland, in the 45-minute special event. O'Reilly and Stewart went to a draw in Portland two weeks ago and plan to finish it here.

The card has attracted wide attention in this part and Owen anticipates another big house. Jensen defeated Bunny Martin, Oklahoma, in last week's match.

Rob Roy, a lineal descendant of the great Scottish "Robb Hood," claims he was still and tired from a week's bus ride when he appeared against Jensen last time but that he is in good condition now to take their fight to a decision.

The match will start at 8:30 o'clock. There was some question early Thursday as to who the referee will be as Harry Elliott, who has been handling the matches here of late, was ill at his home. Owen was getting in touch with Elliott, however, to see if he will be able to officiate.

Golf Season Is Promising

By HERBERT H. RAMSAY
(President, United States Golf Association)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Competition in the game of golf appears to be getting keener each year and 1933, on the basis of the unusually interesting year we have just closed, is going to show some sensational performances.

We have, in particular, a group of young amateur players who will make a determined attempt to bring back the title which that fine sportsman, Ross Somerville, took to Canada last season for the first time.

In international affairs, a team of professional golfers from this country will meet the British team for the Ryder cup, and likely most, if not all, of the members of that team will stay in England to compete in the open championship there.

The open championship of the United States will be held in June at the North Shore Golf club, Glen View, Illinois; the amateur championship will be held at the Kenwood Country club, Cincinnati, Ohio; the Women's championship will be held at Foxmoor Country club, Highland Park, Illinois; and Public Links championship will be held in the far west for the first time in its history, the venue being Eastmoreland municipal course, Portland, Oregon.

CROWLEY SIGNS AS FORDHAM MENTOR

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—James H. Crowley, "Sleepy Jim" of Notre Dame fame, has been appointed head football coach at Fordham University.

Announcement that Crowley, head coach at Michigan State for the past four years, had signed a three-year contract was made last night by Jack Coffey, graduate manager of athletics at Fordham. He succeeds Major Frank Cavanaugh who resigned two weeks ago.

Coffey declined to reveal salary terms, but it was understood Crowley would receive about $11,000 a year, some $5,000 more than he was paid by Michigan State.

A star in the famous "Four Horsemen" backfield of the Notre Dame team of 1924, Crowley's contract at Michigan State had still another year to run but he obtained his release, effective February 28.

He will have a free hand in naming his assistants. His chief aide, it was revealed, will be Glen Carberry, captain of the Notre Dame team of 1922 and Crowley's assistant at Michigan State. Others will be selected later, but whether or not Hiker Joy, Cavanaugh's first lieutenant, would be retained was not known.

Coaches Continue To Interest Public

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The pastime of wondering who will coach what football teams next year has been stimulated anew.

The wonderers had just nicely settled down to waiting until T. N. Metcalf, new athletic director at the University of Chicago, should appoint Dan Peden, Jimmy Phelan, Pat Pize, R. Charley Bachman, Judge Walter P. Steffen or someone else to succeed Amos Alonzo Stagg, now want to know who will replace Crowley at Michigan State.

Likewise they wonder who will succeed Warner at Stanford, and if Paden is signed by Chicago or Michigan State, they still can get exercise wondering who will coach at the University of Washington, where Philander has been since 1920.

THE HORSE THAT COST 10,000 LIVES

LYLEE, AN ENGLISH RACE HORSE, CAUSED A WAR BETWEEN YAN MOHAMMED KHAN, RULER OF PESHAWAR, INDIA, AND RAJESINGH, THE MAHARAJA OF PUNJAB, A NEIGHBORING PROVINCE.

MORE THAN 100 YEARS AGO, THE "LION OF THE PUNJAB," COVETING THE KHAN'S GOLDEN CHAIR, LED AN ARMY AGAINST HIS NEIGHBOR AFTER FABULOUS OFFERS TO BUY THE HORSE HAD BEEN REFUSED.

CHRONICALLY ESTIMATED 10,000 WARRIORS WERE SLAIN IN THE CONFLICT OVER THE HORSE.

BEFORE PEACE HAD BEEN REGISTERED, LYLEE HAD DEGENERATED INTO A FEEBLE, OLD FLEA-BITTEN HIDE.

HUSKIES, BEAVERS AND COUGARS ARE TITLE FAVORITES

By FRANK G. GORRIE
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE, Jan. 5.—(AP)—One of the closest basketball races in the history of the northern division Pacific Coast conference is looked for this season when two potential champions start the 40-game schedule at Pullman, Wash., tomorrow night. Washington State College will entertain Oregon State with two games this week-end to two games this week-end to two games this week-end.

Washington will seek its sixth consecutive northern division title this season. The Huskies won the crown last year in a hair-raising finish, conquering Washington State in the last two games of the schedule to nose out the Cougars by one victory.

Three-Way Race
Oregon State and Washington State are figured on paper to be exceptionally strong this year and a three-cornered race is expected between the two schools and Washington.

Coaches Jack Friel of W. S. C. and Slats Gill of O. S. C. and Hec Edmundson of Washington all report stronger lineups this season. They admit they have a chance to win the championship but respect the strength and ability of their opponents.

Friel believes Washington is the team to beat for the crown; Gill rates Washington state as the favorite and Edmundson figures Oregon State the strongest title contender.

Following the Cougar-Beaver two-game series this week-end, Idaho will swing into action on its home floor against Oregon State Monday and Tuesday, and Oregon and Washington will join the competition next Friday and Saturday when Washington State travels to Eugene, and Idaho journeys to the Husky battleground here.

The season will close March 4.

Operation Restored Pep, Says Burleigh

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Burleigh Grimes, veteran pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, says he's a "new man" now that he has separated from his trouble-making appendix.

He expects his recent trip to the operating table of a St. Louis hospital—along with the big pitchers of milk he's drinking down on the farm—to make trouble for the slugger who walks up to the plate when he is on the mound next season.

Grimes described that "bubbling over" feeling while in St. Louis yesterday after driving in from his farm near New Haven, Mo., to which he returned after leaving the hospital. He reported he had gained eighteen pounds since the operation, and now weighs 194.

COACH RESIGNS

LARAMIE, Wyo., Jan. 5.—(AP)—President A. G. Crane of the University of Wyoming today announced the resignation effective June 30 next of John "Choppy" Rhodes, athletic director and head football coach.

OREGON TO MEET ASHLAND IN TWO WEEK-END GAMES

Eugene fans will have an opportunity to see the University of Oregon basketball team in action for the first time on the home court.

Friday, when the Webfoots face the powerful Southern Oregon Normal school in the first of a two-game series. The second will be played Saturday night, each game starting at 7:30 o'clock. Admission prices have been reduced to 25 cents. Howard Hobson, coach of Southern Oregon Normal, and a squad of 10 basketball players will arrive in Eugene Thursday night. They will work out in McArthur Court to get themselves accustomed to the lights and the large floor.

For Oregon this series will mean an opportunity to get revenge over the Teachers. Twice previously have the Teachers pelted the Webfoots. The first time it was 43 to 20, but the second time only 35 to 33.

Swapped First Time
Oregon's first game against the Normal school was played at the start of her barnstorming trip through California. The second was on her return trip home. How much Oregon has improved in the 10 days they were on the road can be judged by their showing against Ashland. In the first game they were completely swamped; the second was anybody's battle and was not decided until the last seconds of play.

Bill Reinhardt has been particularly pleased with the improvement of his team in the last month. They held the powerful United Athletic club team, said to be the strongest in the bay region, to a 35 to 26 score, losing in an overtime game, only after Captain Roberts was put out of the game with a personal foul. They then started San Francisco by winning from the Young Men's Institute, and made it a good week-end by drubbing the strong St. Mary team of Oakland. Thus the basketball team managed in its first try against the Gaels to accomplish what the varsity football squad has failed to do in four years.

Hobson plans to start a team made up literally of giants against the Ducks. Four of the six men in the starting lineup are well over 6 feet tall. W. Jones, forward, is 6 feet 4 inches tall; B. Jones, guard, and Jockish, also guard, are 6 feet 3 inches 6 feet 6 and tips the beam at 220 pounds. In the starting lineup only "Chief" McLean, who also plays a forward, is under 6 feet and he lacks but one inch or so.

Two western schools have taken steps to eliminate the cost of scouting. They are the University of Arizona and the Oklahoma Aggies. In order to cut down scouting expenses, these schools are going to trade diagrams of the plays they will use against each other in 1933. We've heard of no-scouting agreements, but this is something entirely new. They might even trade signals so that when the Oklahoma Aggies quarterback shouts "43-24-27-hike," the University of Arizona players can turn to each other and say, "Well, here comes that old sneak play through tackle."

WARNER ACCUSED OF IGNORING MEN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Selection of a Stanford football coach to succeed Glenn S. "Pop" Warner—charged by one member of the board of athletic control with "laxity"—was the announced purpose of an official meeting here tonight.

Frank Guereña, alumni member of the athletic board and chairman of a special staff committee on the coaching situation, accused the veteran retiring mentor with laxity in failing to meet nonvarsity players.

Warner, who has resigned to take charge of Temple university's football squad, was declared by the alumni official to have ignored freshmen and reserve players.

Fifty applications for the coaching post have been received since Warner announced his resignation, Guereña said. Among the applicants receiving prominent mention are C. E. "Tiny" Thornhill, assistant coach under Warner, and Maurice "Clipper" Smith, coach at Santa Clara university.

Guereña said if Thornhill is chosen it is probable Ernie Nevers, former Stanford fullback and assistant to Warner during the 1932 season will be named chief assistant.

HOLLINGBERRY HAS PRAISE FOR MORGAN

"The university and state of Oregon can well be proud of Bill Morgan," says a telegram from Babe Hollingberry.

Hollingberry, who has resigned to take charge of Temple university's football squad, was declared by the alumni official to have ignored freshmen and reserve players.

Warner, who has resigned to take charge of Temple university's football squad, was declared by the alumni official to have ignored freshmen and reserve players.

KARASICK LOSES MATCH ON FOUL

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Pat Reilly, Boston heavyweight wrestler, was awarded a decision on a foul over Al Karasick, Portland, here last night in another wrestling match. With each man credited with a fall, Reilly the first and Karasick the second, the two grapplers disregarded all wrestling rules in a desperate effort to get the deciding fall. Reilly grabbed Karasick with one arm around his neck and with his free hand started pumping in uppercuts. Karasick, after absorbing this punishment a few seconds, let go with a wild swing that knocked Reilly through the ropes with Karasick right after him. They were punning each other among a group of spectators before the referee could separate them. On returning to the ring the fight was resumed. Karasick showed Referee Harrington so hard he fell to the floor, and resumed his attack on Reilly, finally knocking him out. Harrington then awarded the match to Reilly.

In the semi-final, another rough affair, Harry Jones, claimant of the welter title, won two of three falls over Spike Ashby.

A LONG WAIT

Jim Levey of the St. Louis Browns went 32 games without a walk until Wesley Farrell of the Cleveland Indians handed him a free trip to first.

FREITAS IS SMALLEST

Tony Freitas, young pitcher, Conle Mack acquired from the Pacific coast in 1932, is the shortest pitcher on the squad. He stands only five feet nine inches.

HIGHCLIMBER

looks em over

By ROY CRAFT

Bill Reinhardt, popular baseball and basketball coach at the University of Oregon, has not "threatened" to resign if baseball is curtailed at the university, rumors and reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Reinhardt, admittedly one of the best coaches on the Pacific Coast, has been a victim of many "rumors" started by his friends that haven't done Bill any good but an inestimable amount of harm. Somebody in Portland got the idea that Bill was going to pack up his grips and follow Doc Spears to Wisconsin. It took several weeks for Bill to deny all these rumors.

Now comes a story that Reinhardt will quit if baseball is curtailed. Reinhardt may quit if he gets another position, but Bill isn't the one to tell the student body how to run its business. What's more, Bill likes it here; he likes the university; he likes his work; he likes the people of Eugene and has had many opportunities to move elsewhere but has turned them down.

This year Reinhardt hopes to have one of the finest teams since the day he turned out championships here. Bill is concentrating on giving Oregon a winner and "stories" that Bill wants to go elsewhere do harm to the team; it demoralizes it.

Hugh Rosson, Oregon's general manager, admitted he had a confab with Reinhardt, but the talk was about basketball and baseball with no mention made about Bill quitting if baseball was curtailed. In fact, Rosson said, Reinhardt has promised to cooperate in every way possible to help the student body reduce its debt.

Oregon is in no worse position than many other schools in the conference. It has found pruning necessary to make both ends meet. However, the Ducks have had two good football years and are not in financial straits. The school is simply trying not to go behind on its student activities, two future generations of Oregon students would have to assume a large financial load.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Raring to Go

If you feel sore and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a bloated, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes two good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the same Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. 25¢ at all stores. © 1931 G. M. Co.

COMPLEXION CURSE

More and more women are realizing that pimples and blotches are often danger signs of clogged bowels—poisonous wastes ravaging the system. Let "NATURAL" remedy promptly ease away beauty-ruining poisons. Face for face, head-to-head, skin-to-skin, this is the only safe, dependable, all-vegetable corrector. Ask all drug stores—only 25¢.

Turk Buying on Friday; Market Retains Gains

TWO FIRMS WILL RECEIVE SPECIAL ORDERS ARE MADE

The turkey business will be more active in Eugene during Friday and Saturday with two firms receiving.

The Oregon Turkey Growers' association will be receiving here Friday up to 4 p. m. at the Eugene Fruit Growers' association plant. The association started Wednesday to receive in various cities, making up a special order for California shipment. It is expected that some 7500 turkeys will be taken in this pool.

Swift and company is to receive turkeys Friday and Saturday for a special order. While prices were not quoted Thursday, it is expected No. 1 birds will be around 12 cents with no definite price on mediums and No. 2's. Wheat advanced a cent here Thursday, bringing it up to 43 cents.

Livestock, poultry, butter, and butterfat all continued unchanged. Eggs advanced the cent wholesale as forecast in Wednesday evening's report, bringing the extras up to 26 cents.
