SALEM, Jan. 10.—(P)—Twelve bills, ranging from reduction of expenses of county officials to the $5 automobile license proposal, including provision to borrow money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for unemployed and making possible the calling of a constitutional convention for repeal of the 18th amendment, were dropped into the senate hopper this morning.

While the house opened its day's session without the introduction of a single bill, senators were kept busy making final drafts of bills for introduction. Committees of both houses started work immediately upon adjournment of the short forenoon sessions.

If Liquor Is Legalized, New Types of Crime Expected

Editor's Note: The president's research committee on social trends has the possibility of a dictatorial system unless the social forces can be integrated. The recent trends in a series of three daily articles, of which this is the first.

BY HERBERT YANRAES, JR. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—What would happen in the field of crime if the sale of liquor should be legalized? The report of the president's research committee on social trends, published after three years of work by more than 300 investigators, has this to say:

"If the huge sums acquired by organized criminals from the illegal liquor traffic are shut off, two immediate effects may be expected.

"First: Organized criminals will pursue their professions more vigorously in other fields of crime, such as the drug traffic, burglary, racketeering and kid-

CURB ON SHIPMENT OF ARMS IS URGED

Hoover Sends Message To Congress Asking For Speedy Action

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Hoover in a special message to congress today urged either the speedy ratification of the projected convention to suppress trade in implements of war or special legislation empowering the chief executive to limit or forbid shipment of arms for military purposes.

The message, which has been awaiting presidential approval for several weeks, did not mention any specific conflict such as the unofficial Sino-Japanese war or the differences between Paraguay and Bolivia in the Chaco.

The chief executive said, however, that either ratification of the international convention signed at Geneva in 1925, or the special legislation to forbid arms shipments in cases where cooperation could be secured with other major arms manufacturing nations would aid in the "prevention and limitation of war."

Recent events, the president said, have emphasized a need for more authority in the control of shipments of arms from the United States for military purposes.

"There can be no doubt," he said, "that the control of such shipments to areas of prospective and actual international conflict would greatly aid the earnest and unceasing efforts which all nations now make to prevent and lessen the dangers of such conflicts."

"However, for one nation alone to engage in such prohibitions while other nations continue to supply arms is a futile, moreover, it would tend to give advantage to one nation over another by increasing the war potentialities in manufacture and skill of non-cooperating nations."

naping and, in addition, they will develop new types of organized crime.

"Second: They will probably secure less profit than they have from the liquor traffic and because of lack of funds will be less successful in securing immunity from the police and the courts. Consequently, the large scale organizations will tend to break down."

The section of the report dealing with crime and punishment was written by Edwin H. Sutherland, of the University of Chicago, and C. E. Gehlke, of Western Reserve university. The whole study was under the direction of a committee named by President Hoover in 1923.

The committee's main conclusions were that the varied directions and forces of the social trends now affecting American life must be integrated or the nation will face

EUGENE MEAT ORDINANCE TO BE REVAMPED

Health Board Says Present Rule Inadequate; Milk Inspection Good

APPOINTMENTS MADE

Mosher Is Named Building Inspector; Sullivan Is Park Tender

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID

APPROVED city appointments made by Mayor Large. APPROVED annual report of health board, six month's report of fire chief, annual report of police chief.

CONDEMNED building at 2440 University street.

RESTRICTED parking on University street.

APPROVED bond of city recorder.

Approval of Mayor Elisha Large's appointments including a new building inspector and a new park superintendent, in city offices for the coming year and consideration of the annual report of the city board of health which stated a more adequate inspection of city meats was necessary in Eugene marked the first 1933 meeting of the city council at city hall Monday night.

Mosher Appointed

Sam Mosher, former city councilman, was named building inspector to work under the city engineer's office and Charles Sullivan was named park superintendent. These were the only changes in city appointments, either in salary or non-salary positions.

Mayor Large and Councilmen Simon, Zumwalt and Lamb were sworn in for the new year at the meeting. Recorder E. S. Bryson had previously gone to the home of Councilman-elect Vern Scott, who is ill, and sworn him in.

Declaring that milk inspection in the city was excellent, the report of the health board, submitted by Dr. Irvin R. Fox, pointed out the fact that 85 per cent of the milk coming into the city was grade A milk.

The board visited creameries and dairies furnishing milk to the city and found most of them in excellent shape.

BROWN RECEIVER OF COMMERCE CO.

Percy W. Brown was appointed receiver for the Commerce company in an order signed Tuesday by Judge G. E. Shipworth of circuit court. The court's action followed the filing of a suit for $1000 against the company by William J. Bartles.

The court ordered the receiver to convert the company's assets into cash and restrained officials of the company from paying out any funds or transferring any property of the company.

In the suit Bartles set forth that the company sold collateral trust bonds represented as secured by deposit with the Bank of Commerce, which is now in the hands of the state banking department. Affidavits purporting to show that the bank was not a duly qualified trustee were presented to the court.

The complaint alleged that $34,708.25 in notes and mortgages have a real value of only $20,000, that $27,500 worth of bonds will bring only $4000 on the market and that $17,082 in chattel mortgages will bring only about $9000.

Struggle For Possession of Chiumenkow Pass Is Reported

PEIPING, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Chinese troops under General Ho Chu-Kuo engaged in an all-day battle with Japanese forces at Chiumenkow pass, 24 miles north of Shanhaikwan, today.

Delayed dispatches from the command said the engagement began at 6 a. m., when Chinese cavalry met the first charge of Japanese mounted troops. The attack was joined by Japanese and Manchukuo infantry and artillery, and the Chinese lines were bombarded from the air.

The mountainous terrain interfered with the Japanese advance, enabling the defenders to bring up reinforcements. The reports indicated the Japanese had taken the northern end of the pass through the great wall and that the Chinese concentrated their forces at the south end, anticipating the next attack would be directed there.

RED CROSS RELIEF RAPPEL BY LEAGUE

The South Lane County Taxpayers League at a meeting in Cottage Grove Monday night demanded that county relief work be taken out of the hands of the Red Cross and that the county court figure out a permanent relief plan.

Officials of the tax league said Tuesday that the league has no definite plan to offer, but wants the county court to look the purse strings in administering relief.

In adopting its resolution the league said that its action was not to be considered a reflection upon the Red Cross, but that the Red Cross is primarily a temporary relief agency, and that a permanent program is needed.

Members of the county court made other than pointing out that the budget committee already had referred to the county court the administering of the $2500 allotted to the Red Cross. This money will not be turned over to the Red Cross directly, but will be spent at the discretion of the county court.

The tax league also went on record as being opposed to a sales tax or any other form of extra taxation. They will send a resolution to the Lane legislative delegation.

RAINEY PREDICTS FARM BILL SUCCESS

Demo Leader Announces Intention To Hurry Final Vote

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Representative Rainey, the democratic leader, predicted in an interview today that the emergency farm bill would pass the house and announced his intention to hold late sessions to hurry a final vote.

"We will stay here today as long as the house will remain, and make every effort to finish up tomorrow," Rainey said.

He added that before a final vote the domestic allotment bill "may be loaded down with some other commodities" but that he would oppose such amendments, including the proposal to pay a 5-cent a pound bounty on 80 per cent of the butterfat production.

"I am a dairy farmer myself and know as well as anybody his plight," Rainey said. "But I do not think the plan would work properly on dairy products."

Simultaneously, Representative Snell of New York, the republican leader, said he would support the dairy products amendment.

Snell said "it would be ruinous to the dairy interests in their present condition to put through a measure that would increase the cost of their western grains and not give them any relief."

Snell said that, personally, he believed the bill will surround the farmer with more barbed wire entanglements, and will make it harder for the farmer to extricate himself after this legislation than at the present time.
