

Webfoot-W. S. C. Contests Worry Experts

OREGON, COUGAR SERIES DOPE IS ONE BIG PUZZLE

Speculation was rife Tuesday on the outcome of the basketball series between Oregon and Washington State colleges at McMurrin court Friday and Saturday nights. This will be Oregon's conference opener.

Until last week the Cougars appeared unbeatable on paper. A team made up of big experienced men, led by the brilliant Huntly Gordon, their giant captain and center, it looked very much as if Washington State was going to make a clean sweep of the 16 games the Cougars are to play this season.

But paper victories aren't counted in the conference standings. Washington State suffered a severe jolt by losing their first game to Oregon State. And it was a belated rally that gave the Cougars a victory over the Orangemen in the second game to square the counts.

Last year Oregon was the only team to win the four-game series from the Cougars. Oregon took three out of four games. This year the Ducks have a better rounded aggregation. It has more power and its defensive play is better. Bob Miller at guard, who played center on the freshman team in 1932, has bolstered that department. G. Olinger, left much of the time last year, as fitting nicely into the Webfoot combination, and Kermit Stevens, a veteran of two campaigns, who was not in school last year, will add strength to the Webfoot attack.

Captain Roberts at center, is even better than he was last season when until the last two games he led the conference in scoring. "Spook" Robertson at guard, has been erratic at times, but he did some clever shooting in the second half of the game with Ashland Normal last Saturday, enabling the Ducks to win by a decisive margin, 38 to 17.

The games will start at 7:30. Popular admission prices will prevail.

COUGARS PREPARE TO PLAY WEBFOOTS

PULLMAN, Wash., Jan. 10.—(Special).—The Washington State college Cougars, who will play the University of Oregon Webfoots at Eugene Friday and Saturday, watched the Oregon State-Idaho game at Moscow last night and wondered what this conference race is coming to anyway. They saw a great Orange team which defeated the Cougars last Friday night, held to an overtime game by the Vandals. And if Idaho can do that well, the Cougars wondered what Oregon is going to do next Saturday. The Webfoots are rated stronger than the Vandals.

In the meantime, Coach Friel of the Cougars is driving his players hard to get their teamwork clicking. There is a possibility that the Cougars will reach Eugene a full day before the game to work out in the huge McArthur court.

Friel will start a team composed of four veterans and one sophomore against the Ducks. The sophomores are Roland F. Johnson, a Spokane youth who was the star of the freshman squad last year. Johnson will be at forward along with the veteran Bob Cross, a two-year letterman. Captain Gordon will open at center, and Scott and Willis, both one-year lettermen, at guard.

STILL BELTING 'EM!

One of the most famous second basemen in baseball's history, Nap Lajoie, retired second sacker of the Cleveland Indians, is out on a drive on the Lake Worth, Fla., course, where he plays from 18 to 35 holes daily. After his golf game, he spends a few snappy sessions with his wife at a bridge table.

ST. MARY'S HIGH TO PLAY EUGENE

St. Mary's quintet will meet Eugene high at the armory Wednesday in the first clash between the Saints and Fritz Kramer's squad this season. The Eugene team will be the favorites to win this year. This is Fritz Kramer's second year with Eugene high and practically his entire squad is back with him.

Father Leipzig will start Christensen and Toman at forwards, Guthrie at center, with Koke and Durbin at guards. Barthelmy and Maxwell will be the subs. In the early part of the season the Saints were using Christensen at center with Guthrie at guard and Maxwell at forward. During the last few weeks Leipzig has played Koke at guard due to his height. Koke's playing is improving nicely as the season advances.

St. Mary's team will play more games this week. On Wednesday evening they meet the Eugene high group and on Friday evening they journey to play Lorane. On Wednesday evening the second string of the Saints open the play against the "B" squad of Eugene high at 7 p. m. and the main game opens at 8 p. m.

KERR, SCHISSLER RESUME PARLEY

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 10.—(Special).—Results of a conference between Chancellor W. J. Kerr and Coach Paul J. Schissler, held here late yesterday, had not been announced today although the Oregon State head football coach had promised a statement on the matter of his salary as soon as he had had an opportunity to speak with Kerr. The coach returned yesterday from the east and mid-west.

It was assumed the conference would be resumed today. Schissler is understood to have resisted efforts of the board of higher education to trim his salary in line with other faculty reductions.

WOOD IS WINNER OF LOS ANGELES OPEN TOURNAMENT

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Craig Wood, a sturdy young easterner who had heard that there was gold in California's golfing hills and vales, had struck his third hole today.

The blond and beaming professional of the Hollywood Country club, Deal, N. J., won the eighth annual Los Angeles open championship at the Wilshire Country club last yesterday with a sub-par total of 281 for 72 holes.

Victory brought him $1,525.50, of which, coupled with his triumphs in the San Francisco match play tourney and the Pasadena open of recent dates, made his earnings in less than a month of divot digging exactly $3,232.50.

Always known as one of the longest hitters in the game, Wood has shown an exceptional ability to putt in his three victories, not to mention a greatly improved iron game.

Under stress of the lead yesterday he was as cool as a veteran under the fire of the other members of the field of 52 players, and came home with a final round of 71, even par, to win by four strokes. He never was over standard figures for the barranca bordered course, starting out in a tie for first with a 69, two under, Wood slowed down to a 71 on the second round, giving him a tie for second, and then yesterday morning he banged out an impressive 70 in defiance to the field and came home with flying colors.

Wood won the battle from a man in his own threesomes, none other than Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente, Mex., professional, who thrice has won the national P. G. A. title. Laruppin Leo, who furnishes more drama than all Hollywood, trailed by four strokes at the end, with a 285 to tie for second place with methodical Willie Hunter, U. S. C. and with a year yet to run on his old one, he is set for at least a total of 14 years in the west.

Howard Jones of Southern California is second to Schlusser in years of the mat game. Jones recently signed a new five-year contract with U. S. C. and with a year yet to run on his old one, he is set for at least a total of 14 years in the west.

Thor Jensen, wrestler, comes in for a good punning at the hands of a fan who signs himself "G. J." in a letter to this paper. G. J., a regular attendant at the local matches, does not like rough stuff and thinks Sonnenbergs has no place in wrestling. His comments are interesting to all followers of the mat game. Says he:

"In regard to our sport we call wrestling the way the bouts have been going for the last few months. The better name would be 'poor sports of fighting.'"

"As a wrestling fan, I go to these matches and pay my money to see good, clean bouts. When I see clean I mean clean. I don't mean who can hit the hardest or who can choke the best or seeing how hard you can step on another man's toes or how much hair you can pull out of another man's head."

"And another thing, whoever heard of Sonnenbergs being in wrestling? I would give anything to go to a wrestling match and see the strongest man win—that is, strength against strength. And I believe the rest of the fans feel the same way. If we wanted to see a fight we would go to a boxing match."

"Now take the wrestling match (or fight) last week. I don't believe there could have been any more dirty work pulled if there hadn't been anything barred. The bouts I am talking about were Art O'Reilly vs. Stewart and Roy vs. Jensen."

"Roy we know can wrestle clean. But Jensen—I don't think he should even be allowed in a building where there is a ring. I didn't know a human being could be so dirty..."

"Now take Jensen last week putting a headlock on Roy and then hitting him with his open hand (it was supposed to be his open hand, but was it?) A man can hit just about as hard with his open hand as he can with his fist. If he knows how. And evidently Jensen knew how because Roy was practically out after Jensen hit him..."

"I wish everyone would give this a thought. If we are going to have wrestling let's have it and if its going to be fighting give them gloves and let them go at it."

Fritz Kramer, Eugene high coach, is trying to promote a basketball game between his Indians, made up of downtown coaches, referees, ex-coaches stars, etc., and the Oregon coaches—Kittling, Callison, Shields, Bill Reinhardt, Johnny Lombard and Red Rogers.

On the Indian team besides Kramer would be "Pinks" Reinhardt, Dick Strize, Jim Harding, Bill Goodwin, Tom Wynn, Hanson, George Pratt, Tom Kalky, Norval May, Roger Kimbrell, Frank F. A. and A. L. Haven. The Webfoot coaches haven't agreed to the game yet but it would certainly be worth seeing.

Judging from the opening game of the Oregon State-Idaho series, the Vandals will be very much in the conference race this season. They threw a man-sized scare into "Slat's" Gill's boys.

Life's A Game, Says Mr. Monk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Representative Horr (R., Wash.), is much happier—the national zoo has taken off his hands what was supposed to be a pet monkey.

One day's ownership was enough for Horr. From the time it was given to him by a friend in New York the alleged pet brought nothing but grief. At the very start Horr became unpopular when the marmoset got away in the railroad station and climbed on a lunch counter for what was some kind of a monkey game.

Horr finally got the animal to Washington and into his office where he put him on exhibition for his friends. First the marmoset chewed the erasers off all the pencils in sight. But the last straw came when it got on top of the file cases and began throwing the pencils at the invited representatives and office force.

Horr told his secretary to give the monkey to the zoo and to his great relief it was accepted.

PAY FOR ATHLETES NOT SO HOT, TINY

PALO ALTO, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The proposal of Bill Corbus, Stanford's All-American guard and president of the student body, to pay college athletes regular salaries was generally regarded with disfavor on the Stanford campus today.

"I think his plan will come into use some day, but it is a little premature now," said Tiny Thornhill, newly appointed football coach. Corbus has urged that all school athletes be paid tuition and board in exchange for their services, thereby placing all schools on an equal footing in obtaining athletes.

Dink Templeton, Stanford track coach, foresaw evils in the plan. "If schools once start paying openly, they'll have to pay plenty," he said. "Colleges already turn out many athletes who can hardly read or write. If this system was introduced, the number would be even larger."

ACHIU, JENSEN, ROY ARE WINNERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—(Special).—Walter Tinkit Achiu, Dayton, O., Chinaman, 155 pounds, took the odd fall to win from Hal Cox, Denver, 158, a newcomer, on Promoter Owen's wrestling card here last night. Achiu won the first fall with a series of flying tackles in 22 minutes, 30 seconds. Cox won the second fall with a wristlock in one minute, 51 seconds, when the Oklahian hit the boards so hard with a couple of reverse body slams, a bear hug and another flying wristlock, Achiu was in bad shape for the final session, being tossed about the ring with flying mares and headlocks, but managed to butt Cox and set him up for a Boston crab, taking the final fall in 11 minutes 33 seconds.

Thunderbolt Thor Jensen, Elkton, Ore., fisherman, and Gust Johnson, Illinois, went 45 minutes to a draw, each gaining a fall. Johnson took his with a flying headlock in 34 minutes 40 seconds. Jensen won a body slam in six minutes 15 seconds.

Rob Roy tumbled Rudy Donnelly, a Mexican newcomer, in the opener, winning the first and third falls with body slams and a double cradle toe hold. Donnelly won the second fall with an arm choke.

Game Supervisor Defends Stopping Bounty Payments

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—(AP).—A defense of the game supervisor's action in cancelling bounties on prize hunters was made today by Frank R. Wire, state game supervisor.

Wire said that under the bounty system about 75 per cent of the bounties were paid for "occasional killings," that is, to men who happened to see a cougar or wolf and killed it. He said these animals would be killed whether there was a bounty or not.

He said few bounty hunters made enough to pay for the upkeep of their dogs, and that in 1929, only nine hunters received in excess of $100. In 1932 only 16, in 1931 only 14 and in 1932 only 11.

He asked that sportsmen's organizations and chambers of commerce which had opposed the bounty cancellation, allow the commission time to prove its contention that paid hunters will be more effective than bounties.

Japan Announces Davis Cup Team

TOKIO, Jan. 10.—(AP).—The Japan Lawn Tennis association today announced the selection of Jiro Satoh, Ryusuke Nunoi, Japanese champion, Kikichi Ito and Ryuki Miki as its Davis cup team.

The team will leave shortly for London to start its preliminary campaign and will again compete in the European zone.

Nunoi, one of them, is a tall, gangling youngster, built along the lines of Ellsworth Vines, American and Wimbledon champion, and plays a game similar to that of the sensational American.

STOCKS RALLY SMARTLY SHORT COVERING BRINGS GAINS OF FROM $1 TO $4

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Influenced by a rise of 2 to 2 1/2 cents bushel in wheat, stocks rallied smartly in the last hour today.

Active short covering brought extreme gains of $1 to $4 after the market had fluctuated uncertainly and narrowly. Transactions exceeded 1,000,000 shares.

Sentiment appeared to have been strengthened also by the unfilled tonnage report of the United States Steel corporation, which showed a drop of only 161 tons in the company's backlog during December, a larger decline had been forecast.

Bonds continued their rise, gains being especially noticeable in second grade issues.

United States Steel shares, common and preferred, came forward prominently in the stock market. Ralls were strong, though industrial issues received the most active support.
