Hoodlum Turkeys Good Scrappers

DOWNERS GROVE, Ill., Jan. 16. (AP)—For all-around hoodlumism, Bill and Pete, Montana turkeys that managed to outlive the holidays, are coming in for their share of attention. Bill weighs 22 pounds and Pete tips the scales at 18. Their record: Chased a gas inspector 200 meters. Demonstrated their ability to whip any dog in Downers Grove—single handed.

Made a housewife run indoors. Combining forces, made life miserable for eight dogs.

Mrs. Robert Tarr, wife of their owner, said she wouldn't execute them. With a little education she believes they can be trained into good turkeys.
