N. O. W.'S REHEARSAL SPRINGFIELD, June 8.—(Special)—All Neighbors of Woodcraft who are participating in the circus which the lodge will give next Wednesday evening are to meet at Stevens' feed store Friday evening at 7:30 for a complete rehearsal.

LADIES' AID ELECTS SPRINGFIELD, June 8.—(Special)—Mrs. Stiles was elected president of the Methodist Ladies' Aid at the monthly meeting of that organization Wednesday. She succeeds Mrs. Frank Bartholomew. Other officers for the coming year will be Mrs. E. G. Privat, vice-president; Mrs. Guy Halsey, secretary, and Mrs. O. H. Jarrett, treasurer. For the silver tea which followed the business meeting Mrs. Privat, Mrs. W. C. Rebhan, and Mrs. Jarrett were hostesses.

City Not Interested In Federal Aid Loan SPRINGFIELD, June 8.—(Special)—Springfield will not seek any of the federal aid money, it was indicated by city officers Thursday. It is anticipated that the law under which the loans will be made will require the city to repay at least 70 percent of any loan it might receive from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The city authorities feel that this is no time to take on an additional debt burden.

It was at first anticipated that federal aid money might be used here for a new city hall and a sewage disposal plant.

Diet of Spinach Recommended For Iron and Vitamins

With spinach abundant at this season in Oregon, its frequent use in the diet as a valuable source of iron and vitamins is suggested by Miss Gertrude Skow, home demonstration agent. One serving or three-fourths cup of spinach provides one-half of a day's iron needs for an adult.

Half a peck of raw spinach makes about two cups cooked, or four servings," she said. "Iron utensils are not suitable for cooking spinach as they discolor the vegetable. Spinach cooked in a small amount of water for eight to 10 minutes or until tender, appears fresh and green when served. Vinegar or lemon juice is best added as desired by each person as otherwise it tends to destroy the attractiveness of the dish."

Several unusual and palatable combinations of spinach with other foods are suggested. Garnishing and flavoring with hard or poached eggs and with bacon is a common practice. Cheese cooked with spinach gives a pleasing variety of flavor, especially when encased by adding a white sauce and bread crumbs and baking in a moderately hot oven for about 30 minutes.

A crown of spinach soup may be made by adding three cups of seasoned and slightly thickened milk and one grated onion to one cup of sliced spinach. This soup may curdle if allowed to stand but can be restored by beating vigorously with an egg beater just before serving.

Raw spinach may be used in either salad or sandwiches, according to Miss Skow. A salad for five is made by shredding three cups of lettuce and one cup of raw spinach and adding sliced radishes and French dressing seasoned with garlic or onion. A "sandwich" filling contains shredded raw spinach flavored with grated onion and moistened with mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing.

Directions for canning spinach are given in extension service bulletin No. 450, which may be obtained free from the college, together with the set of recipes.

The Chinese li, a measure of length, is the equivalent of one one-hundredth of a day's walk; on the level this slightly exceeds one-third of an English mile, but in hilly country it might be as little as one-eighth of a mile.
