French Finance Minister Pledges Cooperation On Currency

NEW YORK, June 21.—(AP)—Raymond F. Moley, assistant secretary of state, called for London today, saying that America may expect definite results from the work of the delegation to the world economic conference.

Moley sailed on the liner Manhattan as a special representative of President Roosevelt, with whom he had a conference yesterday.

Moley said there was no possibility that the president himself would go to the conference.

F. D. SENDS WORD

LONDON, June 21.—(AP)—The American delegation to the world economic conference received fresh instructions from President Roosevelt this afternoon, it was authorized to learn. The nature of these instructions was not divulged.

The entire American delegation went into conference late in the afternoon with Secretary of State Clegg at his hotel. Earlier in the day had been a meeting attended by James M. Cox, American delegate, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, and James W. Warburg, American expert adviser.

Whether this meeting with MacDonald has anything to do with the president's message was a matter of much speculation in conference circles but the conferees were sitting tight.

Gold standard countries were still talking about forcing adjustment of the conference pending stabilization.

Shirley LaBlue, Aged 4, Is Hailed As Champion Milker

By L. J. TAYLOR

HEBRON, June 21.—(Special)—It is a letter to milk a cow that is the key to the success of a milk producer.

Probably no three-year-old child ever wished to climb Mt. Hood, get a blue ribbon and a little Shirley LaBlue at the age of three and was the cause of her first attempt to milk a cow. She did not succeed very well for some time. Not until she was nearly five now, and last week a few weeks after she was four, she obtained one-half gallon of milk from a cow. She used more time than a grown person would use.

LUMBER INDUSTRY WILL TALK WAGES

4-L Directors Ready For Parley On Recovery Act Regulations

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21.—(AP)—For the purpose of agreeing on minimum wage scales and regulations for the logging and lumber manufacturing industry of Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho and Montana, the board of directors of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen will meet here tomorrow for a special three-day conference.

The action to be taken will be in line with the provisions of the industrial recovery act. Preliminary district wage meetings have been held in Aberdeen, Tacoma, Everett, Seattle, Raymond, Longview, Spokane, Bend, Klamath Falls and Portland. Delegates and representatives of employers have been meeting representatives of employees at these meetings to agree on minimum scales for logging, lumber manufacturing and re-manufacturing, box factories, sash and door plants, single mills and plywood operations.

The national industrial recovery act was described by W. C. Reugnitz, president of the 4-L, as the greatest achievement of the Roosevelt administration. He returned yesterday from Washington, D. C., where he spent five weeks conferring with administrative leaders and assisting in drafting the measure for enactment into law. "In the main," he said, "the bill is designed to solve the major problem of the economic depression by providing work for employees, reasonable profits for business, and preventing gouging the public. The main key to the whole solution is mandatory cooperation."

Drys Turn Hopes To South As Iowa Joins Wet Column

(By The Associated Press) Long-dry Iowa, with Connecticut and New Hampshire, today brought to 14 states which in unbroken succession have voted to knock the eighteenth amendment out of the constitution.

The Hawkeye state's swing away from the position she had maintained for nearly two decades left dries fixing their hope for a halt in the parade on Alabama and Arkansas, both voting July 18.

In the doubtful column when the balloting began, Iowa brought in a substantial majority for the repeal amendment, even though it was not as big as that in Connecticut and New Hampshire. But with 611,000 votes in, and only 130 precincts missing, her count was 368,691 for repeal and 242,612 against. That meant she had instructed all of her 90 delegates to the state convention July 10 to vote for repeal.

From the start there had been no question about what New Hampshire and Connecticut would do. The former, with a light ballot and only one small town missing, voted 75,009 to 30,337 for repeal.

In like fashion, Connecticut gave a 6 to 1 majority to the twenty-first amendment, which repeals the eighteenth. Her final, unofficial total was 236,915 for repeal and 35,340 against. With these three out of the way, Alabama and Arkansas provided the next major battleground. The pros and the antis are concentrating on them, even though California and West Virginia do vote earlier, on June 27.

Drys figure that if they can hold two states this year, the question will be put over until 1934, when their chances will be better. Wets would like to win both Alabama and Arkansas, but agree that it will be close. After these will come Tennessee, July 20; Oregon, July 21; Texas, August 28; Washington, August 29; Vermont, September 5; Maine, September 11; Maryland and Minnesota, September 12; Idaho and New Mexico, September 19; Arizona, October 3; North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and South Carolina, November 7; Nebraska and South Dakota will vote November 8, 1934.

Entries For Dinner Contest Stress Economy And Balance

By MARION LOWRY

Lane county women have an inexhaustible supply of ideas. Judging from the entries received for the "One-Dish Dinners" contest of the Register-Guard "Housewives" Forum. Each mail brings in more suggestions. It is but to wish we could print them all.

The one-dish dinners contest ends at 6 p. m. Wednesday, and Thursday will bring announcement of next week's contest. Winners of this week's entries will be announced Friday. All winners should call at the Register-Guard office for their prizes.

Economy and balance are being stressed in all the entries so far, although all recipes submitted are for very delicious dishes, and ones that require little else for the meal.

Among suggestions so far submitted, two or three have included dishes that can be made for the working man's lunch basket; for the simple family lunch; as well as for dinner, church and aid dinners, etc. It is an interesting privilege to be able to see the great variety of ideas, that have been sent in.

As an example of what kind of dishes can be cooked for the one-dish dinner, two more recipes from last week's suggestions are printed today.

A Fine Meat may be used for the meat dinner dish submitted by Mrs. Chester L. Stevenson, 893 Twentieth avenue east, but venison or round steak are particularly good fixed this way. Following is the recipe:

Pound the meat and roll in flour. Seer well in bacon fat with salt and pepper. Place the meat in a casserole. Take one can of tomato sauce and one can of water with a tablespoon of sugar and put into frying pan from which meat was taken to absorb the rood brown left in the pan. Heat and thicken with tablespoon of flour. Pour over the meat in the casserole and

HITLER SHOWS IRON FIST TO FORMER AIDES

Dictator Moves To Quash Nationalists Who Helped Rise

ARMED FORCES CLASH

Nazi Chief Issues Ban On Auxiliary Groups Of Opponents

BERLIN, June 21.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's Nazi administration moved against Dr. Alfred Hugenberg's nationalist party today with a series of raids in which one man was killed, and with orders dissolving the nationalist auxiliary organizations.

The fatality occurred at Frankfurt-on-the-Oder, where a man was shot during a raid on the party headquarters.

Dr. Hugenberg, who recently returned from London after he had been virtually repudiated by other German delegates to the world economic conference, was remaining incommunicado. Some quarters asserted today's events would result in his resignation from the cabinet, in which he is minister of economics and agriculture.

Fighting Units Banned

The government's dissolution order was directed against the nationalist fighting units, which are comparable to the Nazi storm troopers. In addition the Bismarck Bund for youths of the nationalist party was suppressed.

The fighting units were reported dissolved in Saxony, the free state of Oldenburg, Wurtemberg, East Prussia and Prussia, including Berlin.

While it was officially emphasized that the action was not aimed at the Steel Helmets, war veterans' association, nevertheless special Nazi commissioners were appointed at Aachen and Cologne to reorganize the Steel Helmet group.

Communists Again

Many arrests were made in connection with the raids on the nationalist fighting units.

Police issued a communique saying that evidence had been produced from various parts of the Reich to the effect that communists had joined Dr. Hugenberg's "Kampfbund".

This necessitated a general raid, it added, with the dissolution orders issued.

Letterwriter Declares Flier Kidnap Victim

At last! Eugene enters the field of high-class kidnapings. And this is a high kidnaping, or so some crank, spooner or leg-puller would have the Eugene police believe.

Wednesday the police received a letter demanding the payment of $5000 ransom for the return of the "lost pilot," who, the letter said, was being held prisoner pending the payment of the money. Following is the letter:

"Dear To Whom It May Concern: "We are holding the 'lost pilot' prisoner until $5000 is paid. Drop the money on the opposite side of the highway from Mammy's Cabin. If anybody interferes the pilot will never be seen again. THE SPY."

The letter was typed on yellow paper and was dated June 20 and the envelope postmarked Eugene, Ore. Police remarked that someone at least helped out the budget of the U. S. treasury to the extent of three cents in perpetrating a hoax.

RELEASED!

William Hamm, Jr., millionaire St. Paul brewer, released Monday by kidnapers who had collected ransom Saturday night.

MILK MEN URGED TO STOP WRANGLE

Mounting Costs Make Price Advance Imperative, Says Mickle

Milk producers and distributors serving the city of Eugene and the Eugene district will have to stop wrangling and get together on a reasonable program as to prices or they will soon be in serious difficulties in the opinion of J. D. Mickle, chief of the state division of foods and dairies who was here Wednesday studying the Lane county problem.

In the last few months, the shortage of feed for dairy stock has resulted in a 50 per cent advance in hay prices and 25 per cent advances in grain feeds. It is generally estimated that average dairying costs have gone up 30 per cent but under the present competitive condition retail prices in some cases have actually decreased.

Efforts to bring all producers and distributors into an agreement on a retail price of 9 cents a quart have failed. The highest price now prevailing in the Eugene area is 8 cents and prices range from there on down to as low as 5 cents on some of the larger sales.

"It will be ruinous to the dairy industry in this section if the present outburst situation is not stopped," said Mr. Mickle. "It will be damaging to the entire community if the best dairymen are forced out of business and that is what will result if the situation continues."

Stricter and more equitable enforcement of the Eugene milk inspection code is of vital importance in the situation, says Mr. Mickle. He says that there are now many inequalities which do not seriously impair the quality of milk but add to the difficulties of ruthless competition.

At the present time there are about 100 dairies on the Eugene milk shed which are under inspection and selling milk for domestic supply, either directly to the consumer or through the various distributing and pasteurizing plants. All but a few of the dairymen have agreed to the new policy but the few holding out have been able to block the plan.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—Indications were seen here today that railroad managements will yield their insistence on a wage reduction for their employes to the administration request for a delay.

Although a complete breakdown on the part of the railroad managers was not expected, the feeling was expressed that they will at least yield to the extent of waiving the 12 1/2 per cent additional reduction which they notified the union chiefs last week would become effective Nov. 1.

Probabilities appeared to be that the suggestions for maintenance of the present status, advanced yesterday by Joseph B. Eastman, co-ordinator of transportation and administration railroad spokesman, will be accepted.

Circus Arrives; Reports Coast Business Reflects Prosperity

As a barometer of business conditions, the circus is unique. It travels rapidly from city to city. Its appeal is to all classes. When people "have," the circus "gets," and if the circus has poor business it means that people "haven't got."

By these tokens, Jack Grimes, of the Al. G. Barnes circus showing in Eugene this afternoon and evening declares confidently that the business upturn on the Pacific Coast is a very real thing this year.

"So far," said he, "our business for 1933 is so far ahead of 1932 that we are extremely confident of the entire season's results. We are not only getting much bigger crowds under the big top but they are spending liberally in every department."

The Barnes circus played nine weeks in California towns before entering the Northwest and then it changed its usual itinerary to make a big swing through Idaho and Eastern Oregon before entering the Willamette valley. After playing Boise and Pocatello, it swung down to Ontario, LaGrande, Pendleton, and then

MISCONDUCT CHARGED TO PROSECUTION

Mrs. Bailey Held To Make Improper Remarks Before Jury

EVIDENCE QUESTIONED

Declare Skipworth Failed To Give Requested Instruction

Irregularities in the court proceedings, error of the court in admitting certain evidence, misconduct of the state's chief attorney, and insufficient evidence to warrant the verdict rendered, are alleged in the motion for a new trial of Llewellyn A. Banks, Medford newspaper publisher, filed in circuit court Wednesday by Charles A. Hardy and Frank J. Loneragan, his attorney.

Banks was found guilty by a jury in court here before Judge G. F. Skipworth of murder in the second degree in killing George Prescott, Medford constable. Mrs. Edith R. Banks, his wife, who was tried jointly with her husband, was acquitted.

Mrs. Bailey Named

Among irregularities of the court proceedings the defense attorneys claim in their motion, is that Mrs. Thomas Bailey, who acted as one of the jury bailiffs in the case, continued to appear with and have bailiff supervision over the jury after it had been instructed by the court and retired, notwithstanding that she had not been sworn as a bailiff to have charge of the jury during its deliberations.

It is further charged in an affidavit, sworn to by Banks and attached to the motion, that Mrs. Bailey while acting as bailiff was hostile to the defendant and made statements in the presence of the women jurors derogatory to the defense.

Misconduct Charged

Misconduct of the state is alleged by the defense attorneys in that the Ralph E. Moody, state's attorney, while addressing the jury in open argument, turned to the defendant Banks and addressed unprofessional, bitter and personal remarks to the defendant, which were excepted to.
