

HIGHWAY WORK IN WESTERN PART OF LANE PROGRESSES

A state highway crew is at work re-surfacing the Siuslaw highway from Cheshire to the foot of the Low Pass mountain...

The engineer reports that the contractors on the highway between Cushman and Florence have placed a coating of clay on the sand and that there is now no danger of cars becoming stalled in the sand...

David B. Whipple, county patrolman in the Glenside district, has nearly completed the new road from the Coast highway to North Beach on Siuslaw lake and there is a stretch of only 300 feet that cannot be traveled, the engineer said.

The Charles Larling road on the south side of the Siuslaw, extending from Rainrock to Knowles creek will soon be open and the farmers on that side of the river are hoping that some time in the future a bridge will be built at Mapleton...

CIRCUS DAY STORY

working men started scurrying around and quickly, what was yesterday a meadow, became a tented city of canvas.

This year the Al G. Barnes Circus carries more people and animals than ever before. The Great Royal Spanish Troupe of riders, ten in number, are with the show.

A monster spectacle entitled "The Pageant of Gold," a gorgeous, professional fiesta, depicting the charm and gaiety of old Spain, starts the show. There are upwards of one thousand men, women and animals participating in this huge production.

Reserved and admission tickets are on sale at Tiffany Davis Drug store, 8th and Willamette. On the show ground the white wagon is open continuously for the purchase of reserved seats.

EIGHTEEN C. C. C. CAMPS COMPLETED IN EUGENE AREA

Eighteen civilian conservation corps camps are now established in the Eugene district and all but one have their full quota of men, according to Lt. Col. F. A. Barker, district commander.

Col. Barker returned Wednesday from an inspection trip to the Gunter camp west of Cottage Grove. The colonel has visited several of the camps in his district and will visit all of them within a few days.

The Gunter camp is well established and construction work in the forests will start soon under the direction of the forestry department, Col. Barker said. "All of the camps have their full quotas of men now except the camp on Smith river. The advance detachments for this camp were taken in by boat from Winchester bay this week. The balance of the men will be sent in soon."

The complete list of camps in the district, with their commanding officers, follows:

Steamboat, Capt. K. S. Whittemore; Oakridge, Capt. R. F. Dark; Cape Creek, Capt. W. W. Crawford; Sisters, Capt. J. L. France; Wendling, Major W. K. Harrison, Belmont, Major J. A. Stewart; Brice Creek, Major C. L. Mullin; Biglow, Major C. A. Bishop; Drew, Major C. D. Y. Ostro; Seven Mile Hill, Major M. A. S. Ming; Coquille 1207, Lt. Col. J. B. Johnson; Remote, Major F. G. Ringland; Tyee, Major E. E. Schwein; Melrose, Major S. B. Philpot; Loon Lake, Major H. S. Burwell; Coquille 1212, Major E. L. Ford; Gunter, Major F. A. Macon; and Mapleton (Smith River).

Special instructions to all civilian conservation corps men have been issued by Major General Mallin Craig, commander of the ninth corps area. The instructions are designed to eliminate fire hazards and control forest fires and are in line with fire prevention measures instituted by forest service officials for visitors in national forests and parks.

Preventative measures include prohibition of spark arresters for all camp stoves and ranges, establishment of unflammable bases on surroundings for stoves and ranges, restriction of pipe and cigarette smoking to safe and authorized places, and restriction of open flame lights in C. C. C. camps with total prohibition of such lights where other types are available.

To provide equipment for combating fires, all commanders in the district have been directed to secure and

The dish may have any kind of vegetables or salad that you like for accompaniment.

Casserole Sauerkraut One popular dish always called upon at the parish dinners and potluck luncheons of groups at the Episcopal church is one made by Mrs. Herbert Smeed, 388 Tenth avenue west. It is sauerkraut in casserole and is as follows:

Take a can of the canned sauerkraut and arrange in the casserole. Take two large strips of bacon, cut up and fry. Put in casserole with kraut. Cover the kraut with water just to top. Cook for 15 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle a little salt over the top if you want the kraut sourness accentuated.

This is a dish that Mrs. Smeed is required to bring in a roaster full when it comes to the church dinners. It is good for a one-dish luncheon.

Wendell Spence, 1700 Alder st. has an interesting rose to show in his rose garden. It is a shell-pink, a cast of pale yellow with lemon-yellow center. The rose crosses between the yellow Villa Paris and a large pink rose.

On the bush with the blossoms picked were one yellow rose, one rose, two of the mixed variety, several buds that will come out mixed ones. Wendell Spence is son of the late Dr. H. Y. Spence who was interested in rose culture.
