finds Miss West as Lady Lou, voluptuous gatherer of diamonds, who finally meets her match in a man. Cary Grant, Noah Beery and Gilbert Roland are in the cast.

"Sign of the Cross," Cecil B. DeMille's great picture of early Christianity, will open today at the State theater. Fredric March plays the young captain of Nero's guards. Charles Laughton is Nero himself. Claudette Colbert is Poppaea, Nero's wife, and Elissa Landi is the young Christian girl. The picture is one of DeMille's super-spectacles and everything about it has been done in a big way.
