

BUDGET BALANCING CONFRONTS NATION FOR BUDGET YEAR

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(AP)—The treasury put the thought of a $1,780,000,000 deficit behind it today and started on a new fiscal year with firm intentions and fresh hope of making the governmental income bulk as large as its outgo.

The intention had already been made known through reductions in veterans expenditures, slashes in salaries and the most rigid economy program generally that any administration has put into effect in the regular government departments for years. A factor that strengthened hope was an increase in business which is expected to be reflected in additional governmental revenue.

The formal announcement that treasury spending had exceeded income by $1,780,000,000 came from Dean Acheson, acting secretary of the treasury. He said receipts in the fiscal year which ended yesterday were $2,000,000,000 with an outgo of $3,780,000,000.

The acting secretary went into detail on the reason for the deficit, the third in succession. He said that notwithstanding new taxes levied in the tax bill a year ago, the new beer taxes, the receipt of nearly $90,000,000 in war debt payments from foreign countries, the receipts for the year were only $74,000,000 more than in the preceding year.

The expenditures, however, were $1,020,000,000 less than a year ago when the deficit was $2,800,000,000. They reflected reductions in governmental salaries, and lessened spending. Fewer taxes were refunded and the postal deficiency and payments on adjusted service certificate funds were less.

"The 1933 expenditures included about $461,000,000 of public debt retirements, mainly for the sinking fund, the deficit exclusive of such retirements amounting to $1,325,000,000," Acheson said.

"This deficit of $1,325,000,000 together with no payments on account of advances made to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of $1,277,000,000, an excess of expenditures on trust fund accounts of $5,000,000 and the increase of $445,000,000 in the general fund balance resulted in an increase of $3,920,000,000 in the gross public debt."

"The increase in the public debt brought the total on June 30 to $22,389,000,000, compared with $19,487,000,000 June 30, 1932."

Acheson said the average annual interest rate on the outstanding public debt on June 30 was 3.35 per cent compared with the average rate of 3.50 per cent June 30 a year ago.

On the income side of the ledger, Acheson said income tax receipts totaled $745,000,000 which was $311,000,000 less than a year before, notwithstanding heavier levies than were effective in 1933.

"This is striking evidence of the effect which the depression has had on one of the main sources of the government's revenue," Acheson said.

"The amount of income taxes received during the last six months of the fiscal year 1933 was about $50,000,000 less than the corresponding period in the fiscal year 1932 although much higher rates were in effect in the 1933 period."

Miscellaneous internal revenue, he said, totaled $558,000,000 or $355,000,000 more than for 1932, the increase being due to the so-called billion dollar tax bill and the beer taxes. Customs duties amounted to $251,000,000, a decline of $27,000,000 from 1932.

The decrease of $1,020,000,000 in expenditures, Acheson said, was accounted for in part by $500,000,000 for Reconstruction Finance Corporation capital stock spent in 1932 which was not duplicated during the last year. To this was added $125,000,000 for federal land bank capital stock in the 1932 fiscal year, $21,000,000 decrease in treasury expenditures, $31,000,000 dropped in war department expenditures due principally to reduction in construction work, $68,000,000 dropped from the department of agriculture, $30,000,000 for tax refunds, $86,000,000 for postal deficiency and $110,000,000 for the veterans administration.

He said there was a decrease in all general departmental expenditures because of reduction in salaries of the government employees.

The plans for the new fiscal year call for virtually a twenty-five per cent reduction in the expenditures of every governmental department.

Several thousand government employees are being either dismissed or furloughed in cutting the departmental budgets to fit the allowances that have been made for the new year.

FACTOR KIDNAPERS SILENT AS FAMILY PREPARES RANSOM

CHICAGO, July 1.—(AP)—Kidnaped in the presence of his son and wife, Jake Factor was held incommunicado tonight by his abductors.

Eager to meet any ransom demand from his father's captors, the son, Jerome, himself a recent kidnap victim, kept vigil behind locked doors in a 40th story hotel suite awaiting communication from the hand holding prisoner the stock market plunger and erstwhile barber.

A gay party in a Morton Grove roadhouse last night was followed by the spectacular kidnaping.

Factor, the visitor of night clubs, habitué of gaming tables—the story runs that he has pocketed $1,000,000 from his play in recent weeks—was pounced on by two autocrats of kidnapers bristling with guns. From a car behind, Mrs. Factor and Mrs. Al Epstein, hysterical, watched their husbands dragged from the automobile young Jerome was driving.

Jerome was sent on his way. Epstein was put out later.

They met in Factor's hotel quarters, announced they were eager to meet demands of the abductors, locked their doors and settled down for an anxious vigil.

Hours went by, rumors ran that the anticipated bill for Factor's freedom had come through the usual underground route: $100,000 or $150,000 was the fabled price.

Late this afternoon, however, Lieut. Leo Carr was admitted to the rooms and emerged shortly with the definite statement: "Not one word has been received from Factor or the kidnapers. If we had a message we would be greatly relieved."

For Jerome, the 19-year-old Northwestern university student, the tables were turned. Ten weeks ago he had been tossed into a car and spirited away from his mother's home. For eight days the elder Factor dickered with underworld and authorities, engaging the aid of the old Capone gang to make liaison with the kidnapers, and in the end denying the rumored $300,000 ransom was paid.

Later, a truck driver, whose name was not immediately learned, saw two men step from a car and send it speeding over an embankment, then saw one of them throw a pistol into some underbrush. Already informed that Baucom had been shot, the truck driver followed the two men at a distance, and when a posse drove up, he told them he believed the couple walking along the highway ahead of them were the men sought. The two were arrested and police said, readily confessed.

The plain officer is survived by his widow, living at Medford. Authorities of that city said she was hysterical when informed of her husband's death.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—(AP)—Henry Adolph Bowles, 21, one of two men held in Grants Pass, Ore., in connection with the shooting of a state policeman, was arrested in Van Nuys, Calif., police records revealed, on an auto theft charge in November, 1932.

Bowles confessed stealing three other automobiles, police said. Rifles and revolvers were confiscated by authorities when they arrested Bowles and two others of minor age. Bowles was tried and given probation.

He was arrested again in September, 1930 on a charge of tampering with an automobile. His probation was revoked and he was sentenced to San Quentin prison for five years, hein paroled April 5, 1932 and discharged from parole a year later.

Authorities said they had no record of John Alvin Barrier, 17, held in Grants Pass with Bowles.

RED CROSS NAMES STATIONS TO GET FLOOD DONATIONS

A county-wide organization to receive contributions for flood relief on the Lower Columbia has been perfected by Miss Mary Annin, executive secretary of the Lane County Chapter of the Red Cross.

With more than 2000 persons homeless in the Kelso district alone, the flood disaster on the Lower Columbia has proved much more serious than expected, Miss Annin points out.

Because of the nature of the flooded land and the continued high stage of the river due to melting snow in the mountains, it may be weeks before the afflicted people will be able to return to their homes. Engineers have found it impossible to pump the water out of the flooded area and the dikes cannot be repaired till the waters go down.

"These people have not only lost most of their belongings but their gardens and crops on which they were depending for the coming winter," said Miss Annin. "When they get back to their homes, it will be impossible for them to do much more than put their houses in shape for the coming winter. Although not a major problem, the Columbia flood has presented an unusually difficult problem in rehabilitation.

"What these people want is a chance to reclaim their homes and get started again. The appeal for aid is an appeal to their neighbors in the Northwest who are familiar with conditions and can visualize these troubles."

Donations, big and small, are wanted at once and people are urged to send their contributions as soon as possible to the following:

RECOVERY ACT STORY

The committee would advise with Johnson upon granting or withholding such certificates.

Green Unsatisfied

Another suggestion was that the committee make "recommendations as to the making available to the supplies of credit to those engaged in the industry of information regarding terms of, and actual functioning of, any or all of the provisions of the code, the conditions of the industry covered by such code to the end that during the period of emergency available credit may be adapted to the needs of such industry considered as a whole and to the needs of the small as well as the large units."

While Johnson has indicated accord with the wage and hour provisions of the code, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today expressed himself as yet unsatisfied.

"The $2 increase accepted by the manufacturers over the code as first presented was described by Green as 'very pleasing but not enough.' He also reiterated his expression at the hearing that the 40-hour week was too long.

"However," he said in an interview, "the response of the manufacturers is very heartening and I hope they will go further in the final settlement."
