Wednesday, July 12, will be Lane county day at the Oregon Agricultural college experiment station at Corvallis, according to O. S. Fletcher, county agent, who is making Lane county arrangements for the day. Interested people will assemble back of the agriculture building on the college campus at 10:30 a. m.

The forenoon will be devoted to inspection of forage crops on the plots near the college buildings. Crops to be seen in the forenoon are highland Reed Canary Grass, Chewing fescue, zig zag clover, meadow foxtail, non-shattering hairy vetch, and miscellaneous other forage crops.

Inspection of small fruits plots on the east farm will start at one o'clock. Among things to be seen there are strawberry breeding plots and raspberries and blackberries under irrigation. Following inspection of berry plots, alfalfa variety trials, and clover fertilizer and irrigation trials will be seen.

Following inspections at the east farm those interested will go to the Granger farm to inspect the cereal nursery and variety trial plots. Among the things to be seen there are cereal breeding work, matting barley trials, seed treatment plots, fiber flax, seed flax, and seed plots of crimson clover, hairy vetch, and meadow foxtail.

Those taking part in the tour should take a basket lunch. A place for the lunch and coffee will be provided by the College. The county agent states that all interested parties are invited to take part in the tour.

WORLD PARLEY STORY

Recent circumstances that countries on gold find themselves obliged to declare that they cannot take part for the moment in any monetary questions.

"The bureau is in unanimous accord that."

"First, every subcommittee should meet as soon as possible to make up a list of questions on which discussion can be carried on with most useful results."

"Second, to meet as soon as reports of subcommittees have been received in order to make recommendations for the arrangements which ought to be made for the future work of the conference."

Exactly what work the conference can do was left in considerable confusion.

CANADA BACKS U. S.

The subcommittee is to study the situation and report to the steering committee on what can be accomplished.

While according to American sources the subject of tariffs was not barred from future discussions, members of the gold countries delegations declared that they emphatically refused to take up the treatment of tariffs.

The American victory came after Mr. Hull had fought with his back to the wall all day.

Leading the drive for continuance, Mr. Hull was supported not only by Canada, and several small countries not members of the committee but by Japan, Sweden, Mexico and China.

The life of the conference was saved through insistence by President Roosevelt after the American obligation at London had definitely decided that adjournment was the practicable course.

But after receipt of the latest instructions from Washington Secretary Hull swung his group against adjournment, and won.

egation for continuance of the London economic conference.

The continuation was won without the yielding on his position against the demands of the European gold bloc for immediate currency stabilization.

News of the salvation of the conference speeding quickly through the capital brought congratulations to the president.

"Their bluff was called," said Senator Wheeler of Montana, who called at the White House.

He lauded the president for his firm position.

The president offered no public comment on the turn of events.

BERLIN BLAMES BLOC

BERLIN, July 6.—(AP)—The official inspired Diplomatische Politische Korrespondenz charges that the gold bloc at the world economic conference is exhibiting a "Shylock spirit" in refusing to see the viewpoint of President Roosevelt.

"France, Switzerland and Holland are showing at least as intransigent an attitude regarding the cardinal questions of setting their respective houses in order as the United States," the paper says.

"Creditor countries belonging to the gold bloc do not want to recognize that it is unjust and immoral to demand of a debtor unequal fulfillment of his obligations, although in terms of debts he must produce almost double the amount due when he contracted the debt."

"The American president saw the problem in a new light. The complete failure of the gold bloc upon the debt problem is the real reason for breakdown on the London conference."

HERRIOTT DEFENDS F. D.

PARIS, July 6.—(AP)—Former Premier Herriot defended President Roosevelt's stand before the world economic conference in his newspaper Le Journal today.

He asked the French for a better understanding with the United States and warned that "an association in which the Anglo-Saxons are not a part is not sufficient to assure world peace."

Cherry Pickers In Big Demand

Cherry pickers are in great demand as the crop in Lane county is very heavy. Frank L. Armitage in charge of the federal employment office in Eugene, said Thursday.

Picking of Royal Annes is now in full way in many of the orchards and the cherries are arriving at the cannery of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association and at warehouses of different shipping agencies in large quantities.

Picking prices being paid by growers range from 50 cents to 75 cents a hundred pounds. Mr. Armitage said.

FIRE REPORTED

A small fire started in a house at 572 Twelfth avenue west Thursday noon. The fire started around a fireplace and was extinguished after little damage.

gunner who attempted to release Frank Nash, a bank robber and the Weisman accomplice Miller.

Nash was killed accidentally. Report said.

The shooting occurred shortly after 7 a. m. in front of the Union station as Nash was being transferred from train to motor car on his way to the Leavenworth, Kas., penitentiary from which he had escaped.

Report said Miller fired after his demand that Nash be released was answered by the discharge of a pistol in the hands of Police Detective W. J. Grooms. The bullet wounded the machine gunner whose weapon quickly killed Grooms. Police Detective Frank Hermanson, Raymond J. Caffrey, agent of the federal bureau of investigation and Otto Reed, McAlester, Okla., chief of police.

Phone Calls Traced

Tracing of long distance calls from Hot Springs, Ark., where Nash was arrested and from Jenks, Mo., headquarters of some of his gang, solved the crime, according to Report.

Through one of these calls, police reported ascertaining that Miller rented a house in Kansas City. Bloody traps were found there and officers believe Miller used them to bandage his wound.

Police have not determined if Weisman did any of the firing but Report said he "carried two .45 automatic pistols."

It was Miller, according to police, who said "All right let 'em have it," just prior to the burst of machine gun fire.

Until Report's announcements last night, it had been undetermined whether the shooting was the result of an attempt to rescue Nash or to kill him.

Mountain Climbing Lecture Scheduled

Thrills of mountain climbing, with a vivid description as well as illustrations, will be offered to summer session students and people of Eugene Friday evening by Don Woods, noted mountain climber. The lecture, which will be free, will be held in Villard hall at eight o'clock and townspeople are urged to attend.

The lecture and pictures will cover three different trips in Canadian mountains, each of which was replete with adventure.

Woods has scaled 45 mountain peaks in Canada and 20 in the Cascade mountains. He is a member of the American Alpine club of Canada, the Portland Mazamas and the Eugene Obsidians. He graduated from the University of Oregon in 1926 and received his master of arts degree here in 1931.

J. E. Turnbull Speaks at Club

J. E. Turnbull, chairman of the chamber of commerce roads committee, was the speaker for the weekly luncheon of the Eugene Active club Thursday noon at the Eugene hotel. People of Lane county are not road conscious, he said.

He discussed the development of roads in Lane county and gave something of the history of roads in Oregon.

In 1846 what would be blazed through what would be called the first Willamette highway, although the route did not exactly follow the present highway. The first mail from Oregon City to Pleasant Hill over the route laid out came in 1852. Mr. Turnbull pointed out in giving some of the history of the highways.

It will take millions of dollars to modernize and revamp the roads already built in Lane county, Mr. Turnbull said.

Guests at the luncheon included:

Telephone Rate Hearing Postponed

The hearing on the rates of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company which was recently set for July 10 in Portland has been postponed until a later date, not yet set, according to a message received by F. D. Peterson of Central, who is head of the Lane county Rural Telephone Users association. This is the second postponement of the hearing.

Mr. Peterson and others representing the rural association had planned to attend the hearing. The Lane county group has complained that rental and tolls on the rural lines are excessive.

PRICE ARBITER STORY

ence to stabilize prices," declared Mr. James. "A price arbiter, who would set prices in accordance with the price trend here and elsewhere, would enable growers and distributors to know exactly where they stand in regard to market prices for produce."

The price arbiter would be a disinterested person who would give his full time to the matter of price adjustment. He would disseminate daily information on prices and all handlers of vegetables would be expected to abide by his announcements. His salary, the figure not yet discussed, would be paid by the association.

This, it was emphasized, would be but a temporary measure, to be in effect up to the time the agricultural recovery act becomes effective in the industry here.

T. M. B. Hicks, Jr., partner of the McMoran and Washburn store, discussed the features of the National Recovery Act and its effect on the vegetable growing industry. He pointed out that the law stated that "the individual farmer who raises his crop and sells it and keeps the transaction out of the jurisdiction of the head of interstate commerce does not have to be restricted by any code drawn."

He said, however, that sale of produce to a cannery which shipped to other states might bring the matter under the interstate commerce regulation. The law has not been clearly defined as yet on all points, he said.

J. O. Holt, secretary-manager of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association, discussed the agricultural recovery act, pointing to the need for a more uniform wage scale in the cannery industry and urged regulation of prices in the cherry growing industry.

Los Angeles Man Buys Farm in Lane

Edwin Sherman, a recent arrival here from Los Angeles, has bought a 12-acre farm from O. E. Hunt a mile and a half north of Lanester below Junction City and has taken possession, according to W. B. Robbins, local realtor, who made the deal. Mr. Robbins reports that many outsiders, especially Californians, are making inquiry for Lane county lands.

The Parsons Realty company reports the exchange of two and a half acres of garden land north of Cal Young's farm in the Norckenzie district belonging to E. A. Day for a residence property belonging to Mrs. E. J. Koplin at 305 Lawrence street. Both have taken possession of their new properties.

Commerce Company Asks That Funds Be Held From Dividend

Percy W. Brown, as receiver of the Commerce company, subsidiary of the defunct Eugene Bank of Commerce, Thursday filed a petition and motion in circuit court asking that in event a second dividend is made to the bank depositors as petitioned for A. A. Schramm, state bank superintendent, that Schramm hold in escrow certain sums to cover claims of the Commerce company.

The amount sought by the Commerce company receiver is $3280 in governor said, "that not a single dollar of the revenue to be derived from the proposed sales tax is to be used for additional expenditures."

"On the contrary, every dollar so derived will be used to reduce state and local property taxes."

"Since the submission of the measure," he continued, "it has been subjected to so much misrepresentation that even farm organizations, the particular class that the measure was drafted to aid, have seen fit to oppose it."

"In this connection I wish to emphasize that farm products which are sold to dealers or to each other for resale are exempt from the tax, that the personal property tax is removed from livestock, farm implements, from growing crops, and that levies on farm property will be reduced both by the elimination of the state tax and by the division of the funds with the counties."

Springfield Mill IS READY TO START

Everything is practically in readiness for the reopening of the Springfield mill of the Booth-Kelly Lumber company Monday, Charles J. Briggs, president of the company, said Thursday. The plant has been idle for more than two years and necessary repairs and alterations have been under way for several weeks past in preparation for the resumption of operations.

The mill will employ 115 to 120 men at the outset, Mr. Briggs said. A full crew at this plant numbers from 150 to 190 men.

Logs have been arriving at the mill from the camps above Wendling for several days past and enough are on hand to keep the mill operating for some time. Trainloads of logs will be arriving daily hereafter.

Two logging camps are working in the woods above Wendling, employing 140 men. These camps are supplying logs for both the Wendling and Springfield mills.

Quick Decision Is Expected in Power Bill Suit

SALEM, July 6.—(AP)—The supreme court is expected to render an early decision on a mandamus granted here by Circuit Judge L. H. McMahon directing Secretary of State Hal Hass to place the names of three candidates for state power commissioner on the July 21 ballot.

The supreme court had previously refused original jurisdiction on the mandamus. The mandamus was then filed in circuit court and counsel for both sides as well as the court agreed that an appeal would be taken at once to the state supreme court.

The Security Owners' association was allowed by Judge McMahon to appear as an intervenor in the action.

The candidates are Senator Peter Zimmerman, Morton Tompkins and Albert Staughter, whose applications were rejected when referendum petitions were filed against the orange power bill which also sets up the new power commission.
