All Navy Force Comes to Pacific

SAN PEDRO, Cal., July 10.—(AP)—Publication of naval operating schedules disclosed that the entire combatant strength of the United States fleet will be concentrated in Pacific waters this autumn for the first time in history.

All combatant ships in the North Atlantic will join the craft in the San Pedro-San Diego area to bring the force on these shores to 155 ships as the battle force returns from maneuvers at Puget Sound.

The ships which will come through the Panama canal include the new 10,000 ton cruiser Indianapolis, now at Philadelphia, to become flagship of the scouting force; the battleships New Mexico and Mississippi, now being modernized at Philadelphia and Norfolk; eight destroyers at Norfolk navy yard; the fleet submarine Dolphin, at Newport, R. I., the heavy cruiser Pensacola, at Boston, and the light cruiser Raleigh, also at Boston.

In addition, the new dirigible Macon is due to arrive at Sunnyvale from Lakehurst in September for permanent assignment to the battle force.

100 MEN AT WORK AT MILL MONDAY

SPRINGFIELD, July 10. — (Special)—For the first time in nearly two years, the Booth-Kelly mill whistle summoned some 100 Eugene and Springfield workmen to their jobs Monday morning, and at the same time plans for a big community celebration to be held next Saturday evening went ahead in Springfield.

Before the end of the week 107 men will be employed on an eight-hour day, six-day week schedule, turning out lumber to fill the orders which have been piling up in the B-K office for the past month and a half. During the last three weeks the mill pond, empty for 18 months, has been filled up with newly-cut logs brought down from Wendling. Machinery has been repaired and everything was in readiness Monday morning when the saws started buzzing both in the sawmill and the planing mill.

Flowers from Chase Gardens and from S. Snook of Crook City, Montana, a former B-K employee, were on display at the Springfied office Monday morning.

Detailed plans for the barbecue and program next Saturday evening, which will celebrate the mill opening will be announced Tuesday, H. E. Maxey, chairman, said Monday. Present arrangements include a barbecue at 1 o'clock Saturday evening, to which the entire community will be invited, followed by a program of music, short talks and other features. Possibility of a street dance later in the evening is also being discussed. The chamber of commerce, Lions club, and American Legion are in charge of the celebration.

McLemore's Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 10. — (U.P.) — Though Marty McManus seems to be doing a pretty good job of it, rumor has it that Jack Barry, coach of the Holy Cross college baseball team, will manage the Boston Red Sox next year...Jack played with Eddie Collins, general manager of the Sox, for Connie Mack's A's...Participation in four major sports—football, basketball, baseball and track—which kept him running the year round, brought no physical strain upon Leonard Gudd, Temple university's greatest athlete ...Gudd, who was graduated in June, was examined recently by physicians, and was found to be in perfect condition.

"Sharkey," a hunting dog owned by a Westfield, Mass., sportsman, was born the day Jack Sharkey won the heavyweight title and died the day Carnera knocked the sailor out... There's something tremendously significant in that, but it's beyond us ...The pari-mutuel intake at Rockingham Park, Salem, N. H., is heading toward the $1,500,000 mark after aout two weeks of racing...The New Hampshire treasury gets a sizeable cut of the money, about two-thirds of which comes from fans from Massachusetts, which refused to legalize the mutuels...

Pop Warner, Temple U's new football coach, refused to use a typewriter for correspondence, answering some half a hundred letters a day in longhand..."It's slow," Pop says, "but I never get mixed up." The rumors that Rogers Hornsby will manage the St. Louis Browns next year are the old Marlarkey...The Rajah has no desire to take charge of a tail-end club... He wouldn't mind Brooklyn, however ...Chuck Klein deserves some sort of a medal...He refuses to sulk even though the Phillies have repeatedly refused to sell him to clubs where he could get a shot at world series money...Jack Dempsey told Tommy Laird, sports editor of the San Francisco News, that Sharkey's fight with Carnera was the "most disgraceful defense of the heavyweight title in history"...Sharkey, by the way, received less money for losing the championship than any head man since Willard got kicked by Dempsey...

Babe Hollingberry, coach of the Washington State football team, expects to have a stronger club this year than in 1930 when he cleaned up the coast...

Roy Van Graflan, American league umpire, is known around the circuit as Van Graflex—the man with the camera eye...Red Miller, Phillies trainer, ran out of alcohol on a recent western trip, and so used plain ordinary water to rub down the players...They never knew the difference ...Carnera is bitterly opposed to a theatrical and vaudeville tour, preferring to fight...But Carnera has about as much to say in regard to what he does as has a three-year-old-baby...

EDITORIAL—

A few evenings since our Governor Julius gave a radio talk in favor of the Sales Tax.

Julius told you what a wonderful thing the sales tax would be, and he told you the farmers are against it—even when it is going to save the farmer his tax on his fences, his farm machinery and his horses and cows, but Julius didn't tell you:

The sales tax law exempts Meier & Frank and the thousands of other merchants in Oregon from paying taxes on their merchandise.

Julius didn't tell you that the railroad companies will be exempt every penny of taxes on their rolling stock and all taxes excepting on real property.

Julius didn't tell you that this tax once hoisted upon the public would be increased, and that the main idea of the thing is to get over a tax that can be shouldered off on the poor man and do away with the income and intangible tax.

Julius wouldn't tell these things, because when the Lord created Julius he didn't create him any differently than any other Hebrew you have ever met.

The sales tax cannot save you more than one-fifteenth of your taxes, but it will take two cents more out of every already depreciated dollar that you spend.

It will throw our taxes upon the poor man who already has hard enough time to exist.

The sales tax would probably get every county in the state, excepting Multnomah, in a great deal worse jam than we are at present.

The sales tax will save you only your state property tax.

It is estimated the sales tax will raise six million dollars annually. After paying state property tax it appropriates half a million to pay up the soldiers' loan fund, then it appropriates a quarter of a million dollars for a charity relief fund and then comes the administering cost. If there is anything left from the six million it is paid to our counties according to assessed valuation (which does not include personal property) and Multnomah county will get about half of anything left in the pot.

Where do we get off?

They tell us real property cannot pay; then you tell me what we are going to have to run things with if the sales tax law should be passed?

If Julius should be running for Governor on the 21st of July he wouldn't get enough votes to "flag a bread wagon."

Julius is just trying to "hand us a Yo-Yo"—and he ain't goin' to let go of the string. He can "fool some of the people all of the time" but not enough of them, in this old state of Oregon, to put over the sales tax law.

Yours very truly,
GEO. C. STANLEY.

P. S.

I have never met Rufus Holeman, but I'll bet one dollar against five that he is the next governor of this state.
