

COUNTY BAKERS MEET IN EUGENE

The practice of giving prizes, premiums, and coupons as trade stimulants was scored at a meeting of the Lane County Bakers' association Monday evening and a move made to eliminate such tactics.

The group further discussed the drawing up of a code of ethics in adjusting to conform to the new situation brought on by the federal recovery act, extra taxes, and higher prices.

Word from the state association is awaited before the local group makes its final plans on the code.

Bakers from Eugene, Cottage Grove, Junction City, and other places attended, representing wholesale, retail, and house to house bakers.

The association will meet again next Monday evening. Phases under the code of ethics being considered take in minimum prices, prohibition of cut-throat tactics, regulation of hours and wages, prohibition of new bakeries, zoning for the trade areas between bakeries, restriction of large but light loaves by regulation as to length per ounce, special restrictions on family bakers, and other topics dealing with equipment and plant improvements.

Loan would be available for a self-liquidating project. On the basis of negotiations to date, it was deemed likely that sufficient revenue could be obtained from the project to make it feasible, J. W. McArthur, superintendent of public utilities here, said Tuesday.

Details of the plan whereby the system, if extended, would be administered have not yet been worked out, McArthur said. It is not known whether or not it would be necessary for the College Creek district to form a corporation. If that were true, it would take some time and might prove unsatisfactory, it was declared.

A site for a reservoir in the district has been tentatively selected and will be donated to the board in the event the project goes through, it was said.

The board authorized the purchase of $5,000 in state highway bonds for the sinking fund. The bonds are four and three-quarters per cent and will yield the board five per cent. The bonds were bought below par for $4.967.

C. J. Fulton, member of the board who is away on business, was granted a three-months leave of absence.

Hundred Thousand Cans Will Be Given For County Cannery

One hundred thousand cans will be furnished by the state relief committee for the Lane county cannery plant, it was announced Tuesday by County Commissioner O. E. Crowe, secretary of the Lane county R. F. C. committee and who has charge of the operation of the cannery for the summer.

A schedule for the plant is expected to be worked out by a committee at a meeting Tuesday evening, Mr. Crowe said. It is expected that at least 1000 needy families of the county will be aided through the operation of the cannery this summer. As a rule the families will furnish the vegetables and the relief group will furnish the cans. The members of the families so aided, also do a greater part of the work at the cannery plant under the direction of the superintendent.

A meeting of the county R. F. C. committee will be held at the courthouse at 10 a. m. Wednesday at which time Clarence Reynolds, field manager for the state committee, will explain the workings of the new plan of relief which will be under direction of government agencies.

The first oil well in the United States was brought in at Titusville, Pa., on August 22, 1859, producing about 400 gallons a day.

TUESDAY PROGRAMS

McDONALD—"The Nuisance," or "Never Give a Sucker a Break," with Lee Tracy, Madge Evans, Frank Morgan and Charles Butterworth. Closes Tuesday.

COLONIAL—"Dr. X," with Lionel Atwill, Lee Tracy and Fay Wray, and "Luxury Liner," with George Brent, Verree Teasdale, Alice White, and Zita Johann. Ends Tuesday.

STATE—"Rackety Rax," with Victor McLaglen, Greta Nissen and Nell O'Day. Ends Tuesday.

HEILIG—"Oliver Twist," featuring Dickie Moore, Irving Pichel, and William Boyd. Ends Wednesday.

REX—"The Mind Reader," with Warren William, Constance Cummings, and Allen Jenkins. Closes Wednesday.

Warren William, who has previously been cast in serious heroic roles, proves his versatility by enacting a dynamic characterization in the first National picture, "The Mind Reader," opening Tuesday at the Rex. As Chandler, the Great Magician, he plays the part of a blustering, although altogether likeable rascal. A dyed-in-the-wool fraud who starts his career as a patent medicine man, Chandler winds up as a home wrecker by telling wives of their husband's love affairs and vice versa. He not only hoodwinks the public, but the sweet girl he marries. Allen Jenkins and Constance Cummings are also in the cast.

The picturization of the famous Dickens novel, "Oliver Twist," opens Tuesday at the Heilig. The story follows the original faithfully, and the acting is said to be far above average. A distinguished cast appears in the film, headed by little Dickie Moore, in the title role. Irving Pichel, William Boyd, Barbara Kent, Doris Lloyd, and Sonny Ray are included. The picture will run two days, Tuesday and Wednesday. Manager A. West Johnson has lined up the usual high class list of short subjects to show in conjunction with the main feature.

"Rackety Rax," a roaring burlesque on modern day "over-emphasized football" starring Victor McLaglen, opens Tuesday at the State. McLaglen in the role of "Kneeky McElroy," buys a small college, and imports his "gorillas" to compose the football team. They play with brass knuckles, billies, and other deadly weapons, and overwhelm "civilized" ball clubs by impossible scores. Then a Chicago outfit, also a gangster college, throws down the gauntlet, and the meeting of the two teams provides one of the most exciting windups in many moons. The picture will show Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A mystery melodrama without benefit of wind, rain or lightning is almost unique in screen history, but "Doctor X," thrilling Technicolor picture, closing today at the Colonial, has that added distinction. Dramatists from Shakespeare's time down have invariably called on nature for help in the building of melodrama. The elements have always been considered legitimate aids in setting an atmosphere of mystery and suspense. However, in this picture Dame Nature lends only the moon to the support of mere man, but with quite eerie results. "Luxury Liner," which completes the double bill, is a story of the angled lives of a number of trans-Atlantic steamer passengers. Alice White makes her comeback in this, and almost steals the show.

Lee Tracy fans, gather round! Tuesday is the last night of "The Nuisance" and if you don't want to miss Lee's best picture since "Blessed Event" drop in at the McDonald this evening. In addition to the personable Tracy, Manager Ray W. Jones is showing two short subjects that should go over big with local sport fans. One of them is the Sharkey-Carnera fight picture, the other a Bobby Jones golf reel. And then there is a Betty Boop cartoon. A twenty-four carat, 100 per cent smash bill, from start to finish.

LUMBER CODE STORY

after which it goes to the president to be promulgated into law.

The administrator, Hugh S. Johnson, called some of the code's terms "wholly unacceptable," and said they would not be approved but that the hearing would be held in the hope more satisfactory terms would be evolved.

There were indications from the industry that alteration of terms at the hearing had been anticipated.

"While the hours of work and the minimum wages in some regions are wholly unacceptable and will in no case be approved," said Johnson, "and while production quotas and minimum prices will have to be shown to be fully justified and the interests of the public amply protected, and while there are other features which will require reconsideration, the hearing is called in the belief that provisions more in accord with announced policies of the administration may develop in the proceedings."

Hour Range Wide
The code calls for maximum hours of work ranging from 40 to 48 weeks, depending on the region of the country. The minimum pay ranging from 22 1/2 to 42 1/2 cents per hour, the lower level generally prevailing in the south and the higher in north and west.

The code also would prohibit any child labor in the industry and proposed control of production by allocation among divisions of the industry. Also it called for establishment of minimum prices "reasonably adapted to meet costs including those resulting from the maximum wages of labor resulting from this code."

John D. Tennant, of Longview, Wash., chairman of the lumber industry's emergency national committee which framed the code, said it was not possible to estimate the ultimate increase in employment which it would bring about, but that on the basis of expected August production payrolls of the industry would have been increased more than $10,000,000 that month if the code had been in effect.

Prevailing Wages Low
Normal employment of the lumber industry is placed at around three-quarters of a million men, with the present figures substantially below that.

Unofficially, it was not expected that the code as now drawn would immediately result in sizeable re-employment of lumber men now idle.

The lumbermen explained to Johnson that in cases where they called for the 48-hour work week, the past normal working time was 80 hours or more.

Where the code set the hours at 40, a drop was made from the normal 48 to 54.

The minimum wage of 22 1/2 cents an hour they said represented an increase from a prevailing 11 6/10 cents per hour, while where the minimum was set at 40 to 42 1/2 cents the previous minimum wage has been 25 cents.

Moving of Crusher Necessarily Slow

The county's rock crusher that was stationed on the Sears road in the lower Delight valley reached Goshen Tuesday morning on its way to the south fork of the McKensie river where it will be used by the national forest service to grind out surfacing rock for the government road up that stream.

Progress in transporting the heavy machinery is necessarily slow as it is moved only during the coldest part of the night when the surface of the cold roads is hardened. During the heat of the day the oil is soft and it would be ruinous to the roads to move the crusher then.

SERGEANT MULKEY HERE
Sergeant W. J. Mulkey, formerly in charge of the Eugene office of the state police, now located at Salem was here Tuesday on his way to Pleasant Hill to attend the funeral of E. P. Lattin. He was accompanied by his father, Chauncey Mulkey of Monmouth, who formerly resided at Pleasant Hill.

It costs the U. S. government an average of $80.55 per capita in deporting aliens.

Reach for a Lucky

—for always Luckies Please!

With me... my cigarette is a personal, intimate thing

I suppose, men would call my reason for liking Luckies just a feminine whim. Maybe it is, but it's a whim that I love to indulge... for I am always conscious of the intimate relationship between my cigarette and my lips. And if there's anything I'm sensitive about, it's that feeling of feminine daintiness. Certainly, Luckies Please! I can well understand why men praise Luckies' fine tobacco character and mellow-mildness—but as for me—I value particularly the assurance of purity which "Toasting" brings—for, with me... my cigarette is a personal, intimate thing.
