

NEW FARM LOAN PLAN INTERESTS LANE'S FARMERS

Lane county farmers are calling every day at the office of C. F. Hyde, secretary of the First National Farm Loan association of Lane county, inquiring about farm loans under the new setup recently announced by the government.

Loans are now being made at four and a half per cent interest up to 50 per cent of the appraised valuation of the farms and when that amount is not sufficient to pay off the indebtedness of the farmer he is allowed to give a second mortgage on the place, the loans being available at an additional 25 per cent appraisal valuation. The interest on this loan is five per cent. This loan is obtained from the loan commissioner and covers a period of 36 years.

On the second mortgage loans nothing will have to be paid on the principal for three years and on the first mortgage loans no payment is required until five years after the loans are made.

Numerous persons are inquiring as to home loans under the new law recently passed by congress but no definite information as to who will handle them has been received, Mr. Hyde said. At first word was sent out that the farm loan department will have charge of home loans, but later information to the contrary was received. Mr. Hyde said these loans probably will be available in about a month.

Valley Odd Fellows Coming For Picnic

A number are expected from Salem and other lower valley points and all the lodges in the upper valley will send delegations.

Chase Firm Has Good Season For Tomatoes, Cukes

Chase Gardens report an excellent season for bothhouse tomatoes and bothhouse cucumbers. The local firm handled some 10,000 crates of tomatoes during the season and some 50,000 dozen cucumbers.

The Eugene market is one of the main centers for distribution of these crops, but the Gardens shipped big quantities to Portland, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal., Tacoma and Seattle. Shipments were also made into Montana, Idaho, and Utah.

Production of the two crops was a little more than last year, owing partly to increased acreage, the gardens having cut down some on the roses and carnations. Quality ran better, too. Prices held about the same as for last year.

Chase Gardens are recognized among the leading producers and shippers of these crops on the coast.

Part of Mohawk Road Resurfaced

Work of resurfacing the Mohawk highway toward the Mohawk valley Springfield city limits is completed, according to P. H. Cooney, county engineer. A contract was let for this work on July 10.

The oiled surface of the highway had become rutted that patching would be good so it was decided to put the top material scraped by the patching machine on top. A coating of oil spread over it and the road is very good surface, Mr. Cooney said. Later the regular oil will be put on.

Two county oiling crews at work on different roads are patching and they will be working for some time. After this completed there will be no road work being carried on in the county.

Registration of Cattle Is Urged

"Although prices are advancing in all lines of farm commodities, the Holstein-Friesian Association of America has recently announced greatly reduced rates to transfer and register purebred Holstein cattle," said County Agent O. S. Fletcher, Thursday.

"At the convention of this association held last month at Chicago, the delegates voted to hold a moratorium on registry and transfer charges from now until August 15. All dairymen who have Holstein cattle which have not been registered should take advantage of this reduced rate and bring all their registry papers up to date."

The new rates are reduced to seventy-five cents for registry of either sex of Holstein cattle regardless of age, by either members or non-members of the association. Transfer fees have been reduced to one dollar regardless of date of sale, and life membership in the association has been reduced from twenty-five dollars to ten dollars during this period.

There is every indication that increased demand for registered cattle will soon be noted and it will prove a wise investment to many dairymen to have cattle in their herds registered that are eligible to registry papers, according to Mr. Fletcher.
