

WELFARE DRIVE TO BE THIS WEEK-END

The three-day drive sponsored by the Welfare league to provide games, athletic equipment and reading material for the 3-C camps in this territory will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Frank Jenkins, chairman, announced late Monday.

Two large boxes will be placed on Willamette street, one at the corner of Broadway and the other at Eleventh, and games, jigsaw puzzles, athletic equipment and the like may be deposited there. Magazines and books, however, should be left at the Catholic Parish hall, at the corner of Eleventh and Lincoln, where they will be picked up.

Ed Morris of the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club has promised the cooperation of his group in stocking the various camps with the desired equipment, and it is hoped a large supply may be obtained. Although the government supplies some athletic paraphernalia, there is not enough to go around, and anything from old boxing gloves to tennis rackets is desired. Indoor games, such as jigsaw puzzles, cards, and similar devices are badly needed, while the stock of reading material is practically nil.

CLOSE KIDNAPING STORY

him with a robe. The men then drove toward McMinnville.

Soon the minister said, he was able to free his hands and feet by manipulating the ropes.

No Trace Found

"I took my pen and pencil out of my pocket," Close told police, "held one firmly in each hand, and with all the force I had, jammed them into the ribs of the two men."

"Put them up or I'll plug you," the clergyman said he shouted.

He said the men appeared astonished and believed he was armed.

"I then ordered the big man to open the door and told him to get out," Close continued. "He refused. I grabbed him by the neck and gave him a push and he went sprawling out of the car while we were moving perhaps 25 miles an hour."

He said the other man opened the door on his side.

Close said he crawled into the front seat and ordered the other man out. When the door was open, he said, "I gave him a shove, grabbing the wheel at the same time, and he went sprawling out on the pavement."

This occurred somewhere between the Dayton highway "Y" and Lafayette, the anti-liquor campaigner stated. Police investigated but could find no trace of the reputed "kidnapers."

Threats Received

Close told police there had been

"trouble" between the Anti-Liquor League and what he described as "the Chicago Six gang" since April 29 when a letter demanding a total of $12,000 from four dry leaders was received.

The letter, Close said, was addressed to E. M. Hencock, prominent prohibition worker. The clergyman said he had been "shadowed" since.

Oregon votes on repeal of the 18th amendment and repeal of the state liquor laws Friday. Close, who has not held a pastorate in the past ten years, has been actively leading the dry workers. Victory for the wets has been freely predicted by informed observers in nearly every quarter.

LUER IS RELEASED

A belief was held today in Albany, N. Y., that kidnapers of John J. O'Connell, Jr., member of a political party, might free him in New York City. Bolstering this feeling was the disclosure that two notes received by his family were post-marked in the metropolitan area.

August Luer, aged banker of Alton, Ill., freed yesterday by a kidnap gang, told of being detained five days in a sub-basement. Many believed a $10,000 ransom was paid; the banker's son denies it.

Two ex-civilians were seized yesterday at Cleora, Ill., in the kidnaping of John Factor, speculator, who was freed on payment of $500,000 ransom. The pair, Martin O'Leary and Carl Fontana, were taken in a hotel formerly a Capone stronghold.

At San Diego, Calif., police guarded the home of a former president of Mexico, Pascual Ortiz Rubio, who received kidnap threats by telephone.

he had put everything in excellent order here before he departed.

Russian officials were concerned at Post's small appetite and urged more food on him but the American declined saying: "I eat only enough to keep from weakening myself. I purposely stay hungry so I can keep awake."

The American aviator had two bottles filled with boiled water just before taking off for Siberia.

Post landed here at 2:20 p. m. Moscow time (0:20 a. m. E. S. T.).

Basin Joint Record

Post, who seeks to better the mark he and Harold Gatty set on a globe-circling journey in 1931, had left Koenigsberg at 6:45 a. m. local time (12:45 a. m. E. S. T.).

Weather reports indicated that after he passed through a rainstorm at the time of his departure he had fair flying conditions the rest of the way.

Post and Gatty had an elapsed time of 54 hours and 31 minutes when they reached Moscow.

Post made the trip from Koenigsberg to Moscow in 5 hours and 35 minutes and had therefore an elapsed time of 50 hours and 10 minutes on his arrival in the soviet capital.

Monday brought in an unusually big number of customers to the sheriff's office for automobile licenses. While the number ran up to 700 a day during the big rush it fell off some later. Monday, however, between 50 and 60 were expected to be sold, some 35 having been sold up to the early afternoon.

INDUSTRY ACT STORY

Originally all this day was to bring was beginning of operation for the cotton textile industry's code. By it 450,000 workers were to go on the forty-hour week with all wages increased, in their present proportion, above minimums of $12 a week in Dixie, $13 elsewhere.

But the other textiles, with codes hastily framed, asked to come under cotton's labor terms today. The president last night signed executive orders effecting agreements with each. Estimates of the additional number of workers involved were indefinite but 250,000 was considered conservative.

Barrier Trial STORY

He declared the state had shown it was Bowles' gun that fired the fatal shots, Bowles who had aimed it a moment later at the eye-witnesses, and Bowles who had hung back without answering "Yes" or "No" when accused at his capture, until Barrier had stepped forward with the full assumption of the blame. He declared that Bowles' statement all the way through had blamed Barrier while the Los Angeles service station operators who testified to their hold-ups by the pair had identified Bowles only as the actual perpetrator.

The case was expected to go to the jury during the afternoon.
