MOLLISON'S START HOP TO NEW YORK

Famed Flying Couple Head Over Atlantic On Long Jaunt

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 22.—(AP)—The plane in which Jim and Amy Mollison took off for the United States today passed between Fastnet Rock and the Cork mainland at 1:20 p. m. G. M. T. today (8:20 a. m. E. S. T.).

The ship was flying low. It disappeared towards the Atlantic.

WEATHER GOOD.

PENDINE, Wales, July 22.—(AP)—The famous flying Mollisons, Jim and Amy, took off this morning for New York on an ambitious adventure in which they hoped to fly to Baghead after crossing the Atlantic twice.

In contrast to stormy weather that caused their plane, the two-motored Seafarer, to crash on the first take-off attempt June 8, the weather was acceptable as the plane took the air at 11 a. m. Greenwich time (3 a. m. P. S. T.).

They planned to reach New York Sunday night and after a short rest to cross the ocean once more, seeking a distance non-stop record.

Capt. James A. Mollison, who made the first solo east-to-west flight over the Atlantic last August, watched the final arrangements being made and saw to it that everything was shipshape.

"This may be my last spectacular flight," he declared when everything was ready. "I hope it isn't too great a venture."

His wife, Amy Johnson Mollison, who last November set a London-to-Cape town record, looked a little strained as she jumped into the cockpit beside her husband at the dual controls. She wore white overalls.

"Now for the greatest adventure of my life," she exclaimed.

There was very little wind as Mollison, who was at the guiding control, opened the throttle and began the run along the beach for the takeoff.

AGREE ON SILVER

LONDON, July 22.—(AP)—It was said in well informed American quarters today that representatives of the chief silver holding and producing nations had reached an understanding for control of the silver market. United States Senator Key Pittman said he expected to make an announcement later.

Cougar Is Killed Near C. C. C. Camp

If the Missouri boys of the 3-C camp at McKinley southwest of Marshfield, have been a bit credulous concerning the cougar stories told by the old-timers of the district, they have every reason to believe them now.

A yearling cougar was killed within a half mile of the camp this week by Walter Meyers of the fire warden's office at Marshfield. The cat was shot at the main trail leading to the camp and the boys are wondering now if the mother cougar is anywhere in the vicinity.

Round World Aviator Has Commanding Lead For Record

WINNIPEG, Man., July 22.—(AP)—An airplane believed to be Wiley Post's Winnie Mae, in which he is making the final Edmonton-New York leg of his round-the-world flight, passed north of this city at 2:21 p. m. eastern standard time today. The ship was flying southeast.

Winnipeg is 750 miles from Edmonton, if the plane seen here was Post's he had made the flight in four hours and 40 minutes.

BETTER RECORD TIME

EDMONTON, July 22.—(AP)—Wiley Post, Oklahoma round-the-world flier, hopped off for New York on the last leg of his trip at 9:41 a. m. eastern standard time today. He arrived here at 8:07 a. m. E. S. T., after a flight of nine hours 22 minutes from Fairbanks, Alaska, a distance of 1450 miles.

His time was nearly an hour faster than when he and Harold Gatty, on their world flight two years ago, also flew from Fairbanks to Edmonton. They covered the distance in ten hours, 11 minutes.

Has Bad Headache

His elapsed time on arriving here was 17 1/2 hours, 47 minutes, compared with the elapsed time of 182 hours, 42 minutes when he and Gatty made their flight, putting him 10 hours and 45 minutes ahead of the time, with only the remaining 2200-mile flight to New York facing him.

The Oklahoma flier brought his plane, the Winnie Mae, down at Blatchford field in a driving rain. He was suffering from a severe headache but said he did not wish medical attention.

For several hours during the night, Post said, he flew at an altitude of 20,000 feet.

The roar of the machine had deafened the flier and he looked tired.

The flier planned to complete the journey to New York in a single hop.

City Invaded By Pioneer Rattler; Reception Brief

Civic centers and the human race are not alone in feeling the depression. It has affected the animal kingdom to the extent that the rattlesnakes are even going urban and moving to town in the hope of better pickings. Or at least one rattlesnake tried it.

A man working at the home of Harry Gordon, 1807 Longview, was startled Friday at the sight of a small boy bounding down the hillside shrieking at the top of his lungs. He followed the youngster, and was led to the pioneering rattlesnake, coiled and ready to defend his frontier.

One blow of a spade ended the progressive reptile's career, on this earth at least, and peace and quiet returned to Eugene. The snake measured 30 inches long, sported seven rattles, and was three inches in diameter. Mr. Gordon hopes that the example of this luckless reptile will discourage others of his tribe.

Steiner To Come For Dedication

SALEM, Ore., July 22.—(AP)—With Senator Frederick Steiner as master of ceremonies, dedication of the new Pacific highway bridge across the Santiam river at Jefferson will take place Thursday, Aug. 3, starting at 2 p. m.

Leslie M. Scott, chairman of the state highway commission, will deliver the principal address. Eulogy of Jacob Conser, Oregon pioneer for whom the bridge is named, will be given by William Marks of Albany, former president of the state senate.

Lane Convict Blocked In Try To Escape Pen

SALEM, Ore., July 22.—(AP)—Chauncey Guyman, 24, Lane county murderer under life sentence at the state penitentiary, was stopped by guards this morning in one of the most unusual attempts to escape ever made at the institution.

Guyman submerged himself in the mill race which passes through the prison yard. He was apparently attempting to cut the bars where the stream passes under the wall, working entirely under water and out of sight. The prisoner was seen by guards soon after he entered the mill race, so his attempt did not progress far. He had some sort of a device, rubber hose or pipe it is thought, which enabled him to remain under water without coming up for air. When removed by guards, he let that and whatever tools he had sink to the bottom. The stream will be dragged to find them.

Guyman had a large bolt from the prison machine shop in each pocket. The purposes of which are unknown. This was the second time in a year he attempted to escape.

He was received at the penitentiary from Eugene Nov. 24, 1931, as a member of the bandit gang which killed Daniel Castro, Mexican section hand, in a holdup at Frazer.

LUMBERMEN RAP HIGHWAY BOARD

Commission's Stand On Coast Bridges Is Scored Heavily

The stand of the state highway department to make the five coast bridges on the Roosevelt highway of concrete was denounced by two speakers appearing at the meeting of the Willamette Valley Lumbermen's association Friday evening at the Osburn hotel. Nearly 100 attended the meeting.

C. C. Crowe of Portland declared the lumbermen of Oregon were very dissatisfied with the stand of the highway commission in making bridges of concrete. As the state with the heaviest lumber supply, Oregon should lead the way in the use of lumber products, he said.

Mr. Crowe pointed out that the cost of lumber is twice the cost of concrete in the use of lumber products, he said. Iowa, paying twice the cost of concrete in the use of lumber products, he said. Iowa, paying twice the cost of concrete in the use of lumber products, he said.

Two Children Die When Car, Truck Collide

WOODBURN, July 22.—(AP)—Two children were killed north of here shortly before noon today when the automobile driven by their mother, Mrs. H. M. Mead, of Brunks Corners, west of Salem, got out of control and overturned against a truck.

John, 12, and Robert, 3, were killed almost instantly. Mrs. Mead and another son, Carlton, 9, were not injured.

Mrs. Mead was enroute to Skamokawa, Wash., for a visit when the accident occurred. She attempted to pass a truck and trailer driven by Henry Kunz, of Milwaukee, Ore. Her machine skidded in the gravel and overturned as it crashed against the heavy freight vehicle.

Wheat Growers to Meet Here Tuesday

The domestic allotment plan to reduce wheat acreage and raise the price of wheat in accordance with the recently enacted agricultural relief act will be discussed at a meeting at the Eugene chamber of commerce Tuesday, July 25. It was announced Saturday by O. S. Fletcher, county agent.

The meeting will start promptly at 10 a. m. and will continue as long as necessary to present the plan in detail and consider question of wheat growers.

Speakers will be Paul V. Maris, director of extension; and G. R. Rydholm, head of the plant industry division of the Oregon State college.

"This is an important meeting and should be attended by all Lane county wheat growers," declared Mr. Fletcher.

Organization of Tailors Completed

Organization of the Eugene branch of the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors association was accomplished at a meeting here Friday night when officers were elected. The purpose of the association is to bring the tailors under the provisions of the national industrial recovery act.

More Unity Held Needed By Industry Before Final Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—The lumber industry today asked permission to make immediate application of its trade code.

Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, took the request under advisement. He has termed unacceptable the code's minimum wages of $10 to $20 weekly and working time of 40 to 48 hours.

J. C. Tennant, chairman of the lumber code authority, presented the request at today's hearing. He was closely questioned by Edward F. Magrady, assistant recovery administrator, and by Deputy Administrator Dudley Cates, presiding.

Production Speeded Up

"We would like to have that done as promptly as possible," Tennant said. "To remove uncertainties in the industry as to just what is to be expected."

He explained that in expectation of the adoption of a code which will increase prices, certain elements in the industry was involved in these practices and he replied about 20 per cent. He had previously said there never had been a time when there was such a degree of unity within the industry and Magrady asked:

"Yet with all that unity isn't it possible to get an agreement?"

"In time that could be accomplished," Tennant replied. "Our industry is scattered all over the nation. To get to the operators the viewpoint of the men in this room would take time."

Grain Markets Close Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

For the second successive day today futures trading in grains at the Chicago and Kansas City boards was barred. The suspension action followed a spectacular decline of stock prices on the New York exchange in a 5.592.50 share day that brought back memories of 1929.

The decision to suspend trading for another day was reached by directors of the Chicago board after a five-hour conference.

Sewage Plants, Power Project Measures Win

LA GRANDE, Ore., July 22.—(AP)—La Grande voters Friday approved a $257,000 bond issue for reconstruction of the Beaver Creek pipeline and for the building of a municipal power plant in connection with the water works betterment. The vote was 1012 for the bonds and 407 against.

This project is to be submitted to the federal government for financing under the public works program and if not approved by the U. S. the bonds will not be issued by city officials.

The power plant would provide electricity only for municipal institutions and street lighting in the business district.

SEWAGE PLANT VOTED

GRANTS PASS, July 22.—(AP)—A $40,000 sewage disposal plant, that will be cheaply-built and cheaply-operated because the city already owns the property it will require, the outfall sewer it will use, and the gravity flow of filtered water it will utilize, was authorized in the Friday election by city voters by the small margin of 663 votes yes to 528 votes no on the bonding charter amendment.

Six of the city's eight precincts returned clear majorities for the bonding proposition which was originally drafted as a $70,000 plan.

SALEM VOTES BEER

SALEM, July 22.—(AP)—The spigots that tap 3.2 per cent beer will continue in use here.

The city council bickered and balloted two months before voting to permit its sale. Sightseeing Hop Through Arctic Latest Wrinkle

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—(AP)—Frank Dorbrandt, veteran pilot whose exploits north of latitude 65 have won and lost him a fortune, has announced a "sky vacation" to the Arctic circle.

Credited with 11,000 hours of solo flight which included fur-ferrying for many years, Dorbrandt, with A. E. Verrill of Los Angeles has organized a party of nine to travel 8100 miles over much of the top of the world and return here within three weeks.

The group will leave next week.

Perhaps Dorbrandt's most notable flight was that on which he carried Father Bernard R. Hubbard, Santa Clara university's glacier priest, into the Alaskan Aniakchak active volcano in May, 1932.

BONUS CHANGE CARRIES; OTHER MEASURES LOSE

Sales Tax Loses by Count of Nearly Four To One; Two Counties Dry

By LESLIE J. SMITH Associated Press Staff Writer

PORTLAND, Ore., July 22.—(AP)—Oregon, after 18 years of prohibition in one form or another, today had become the 20th state to vote repeal of the 18th amendment, and had erased every dry law from the statute books of the state.

A great wet tide of ballots in yesterday's special election gave the repealists a margin of nearly two to one.

Dry leaders said today that although they had held some hope of victory, "We were prepared for such a jolt. We'll fight harder than ever now."

Returns from 1485 of Oregon's 1787 precincts today gave: For federal repeal 122,589; against 64,289. The vote on state repeal was 128,176 for, and 65,721 against. A proposed 2 per cent state sales tax was defeated 150,436 to 41,137.

As the tabulation progressed today it was seen that only two of Oregon's 36 counties were definitely in the dry column. They were Benton, the county seat of which is Corvallis where Oregon State college is located, and Linn, its next-door neighbor.

Close In Two

Two other counties, Douglas, in southern Oregon, and Walla, in the northeastern tip of the state, witnessed a bitter struggle between the wets and the dries, with the repealists apparently taking the upper hand by a slim margin.

Benton and Linn counties will have a total delegation strength of five in the state constitutional convention on prohibition to be held next month. There will be 116 delegates seated at this convention. Each delegate is pledged to vote in the assembly as his county voted, wet or dry, in the election.

State Repeal Leads

It was observed that in practically all of the 36 counties state repeal carried by a greater majority than did federal repeal. This was believed due to the confused manner in which repeal of the federal amendment was listed on the ballot. It was necessary for the voter who wanted the 18th

STOCK EXCHANGE HOURS REDUCED

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—The New York Stock Exchange announced today that beginning Monday it would open at noon until further notice.

An announcement by the board of governors, made half an hour before opening time this morning, said:

"Due to the sustained pressure under which members and employees of their firms and of the stock clearing corporation have been working for a considerable time, and particularly in the past few days, the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange, by resolution this morning, have determined that beginning with Monday, July 24, and until further notice the exchange will open at 12 noon instead of at 10 o'clock on full business days, and furthermore the governing committee will determine next week, provided the present great activity continues, whether or not the exchange will be closed next Saturday."

The New York Curb exchange decided on the same restricted schedule.

Mammy Man Takes Poke At Mrs. Winchell's Boy Walter

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 22.—(AP)—Walter Winchell, the Broadway columnist who specializes in opening closed secrets, received last night for a blow on—or near—the chin of such proportions that he didn't have a characteristic comeback for all of three minutes.

Al Jolson paid the compliment.

Among the things the columnist never knew until now (he said so) is the way the mammy singer and movie actor punches ambidextrously, although Winchell insists that when Jolson mauled him at the Hollywood Legion Stadium boxing show, he was helped by two other guys.

Four thousand persons saw the brawl, and four thousand versions were extant today, but the fact remains that Jolson hit Winchell because he didn't like him because he resented things Winchell had put in a movie scenario reflecting disparagingly—Jolson said—on Ruby Keeler. And he resented that because Ruby Keeler is Mrs. Al Jolson.

The spectators, standing on their seats to see a fight not carded on hard, either.
