

CONFERENCE PACT WILL RAISE SILVER

LONDON, July 22.—(AP)—Representatives of the silver producing and holding countries at the world economic conference signed tonight a solemn agreement the provisions of which seek to raise the price of the white metal which is used for money by nearly half the population of the globe.

The accord was regarded as a victory for the persistent efforts of Senator Key Pittman of Nevada who has been carrying on untiring negotiations for rehabilitation of the silver market.

In Mr. Pittman's hotel suite the representatives of India, China and Spain, whose coffers are bulging with monetary silver, of the United States, Mexico, Canada, Australia and Peru, the great world producers, completed a memorandum which calls for restrictions of silver sales for four years.

When ratified by the home governments the document will take the form of a treaty.

The big producers will absorb from mine production amounts of silver equivalent to the sales of holding countries. They will hold this metal for monetary use while agreeing not to sell any monetary silver.

Signature of the pact was described by Senator Pittman as "the most dramatic moment of my life." In his long efforts the Nevada senator has been assisted by Edward Bruce, silver expert.

When the accord is ratified it will make effective a resolution adopted by the monetary commission of the conference under which states agreed to cease debasing silver coinage and to increase, where feasible, the use of the white metal for small pieces of money.

The most important part of the accord is the provision that India shall restrict silver sales to a yearly average of 35,000,000 ounces over four years starting January 1, while producing countries will absorb an equivalent amount.

The quotas to be allotted to producing nations are yet to be determined, but it was understood the United States is to take approximately 24,000,000 ounces annually, and Mr. Pittman was confident the other producing states would absorb the remainder.

means of reducing the property tax burden, was sent to an ignominious defeat by a vote of nearly four to one.

A proposed tax on oleomargarine, an issue that has appeared on the ballot in nearly every election in recent years, was defeated by a vote of about three to one.

Governor Julius L. Meier indicated today he probably will call the constitutional convention for Monday, August 14. The 116 delegates to this meeting will have no choice in their voting. Each candidate pledged himself to vote in the convention, wet or dry, as his county voted in the election.

Multnomah county, with Portland commanding 95 per cent of the vote, gave repeal a majority of more than three to one. The up-state vote was about three to two.

Gladioli Show Is Slated Saturday

The second annual gladioli show of the Kingman Gardens, near Monroe, will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 29 and 30. It was announced Saturday by Orville Kingman, who with his father, A. J. Kingman, operates the gardens.

The show will feature virtually every variety of gladioli and will be held all day each of the two days.

The show inaugurated last year when more than 300 persons visited the gardens during the day. In order to accommodate the increased attendance expected, it was decided to hold the show for two days this year instead of one.

The Kingman gardens are located five miles off the Pacific highway. The turn to the gardens is made three-quarters of a mile north of Monroe where a large sign indicates the way.

According to estimates, a woman requires only four-fifths of the food necessary for a man.

Orange Liqueur Dessert
Cut orange rinds into small pieces. Cover with boiling water, boil 15 minutes and allow to stand several hours. Pour liquor from rinds.

Following is a delicious summer dessert:

1 1/2 cups orange liqueur
1 cup raisins
1/4 cup butter
3-4 cup sugar
2 eggs and 1 T spoon cornstarch.

Boil orange liqueur and raisins, cream butter and sugar, add yolks of eggs and corn starch. Pour boiling liquid into this and cook all until thick in double boiler. Remove from heat and fold in the well beaten white of one egg, spreading over top the beaten white of other egg, brown in oven then chill and serve.

Orange liqueur may be used in many ways. Added to fruit punch, combined with apricots, gives dried prunes a very palatable flavor when cooked together. Combined with lemon juice, orange juice and crushed mint leaves it becomes a very refreshing drink these warm days.

The above recipe is used as pie also. Baking pie shell first.—Mrs. William Maddaugh, Veneta, Ore.

Public Works Fund To Be Available In Oregon Section Soon

SALEM, July 22.—(AP)—Assurance that the set-up for public works fund administration would be completed soon was received here today from Senator Charles L. McNary in Washington.

Construction of five Oregon coast highway bridges is proposed under federal public works funds.

J. M. Devers, state highway commission attorney, received the following telegram from Oregon's senior senator, "Assurance given by high authority that local administrators and complete set-up for progress in public works will be announced within two or three days."

"Confidently expect same by Monday. Appreciate earnest desire your people get started on bridges and believe can do so very soon."

Devers had informed McNary that people here were becoming impatient over the delay in the bridge construction, since many unemployed men could be helped by the work.

Post had flown from Edmonton with phenomenal speed. He had left there at 9:41 a. m., coming south-east across Canada and thence back into the United States.

The enthusiasm of the crowd for the 34-year-old aviator's stirring achievement exceeded anything ever seen at the field, attendants said.

Near Exhaustion
Photographers pressed around the purple and white monoplane to take pictures while Post still was in his seat.

As the deafening cheers continued unabated, Post rose and waved a couple of times, then slumped back into his seat. Apparently he was close to exhaustion.

After several minutes, Post was pulled from the cockpit by Lee Trenholm, his representative, and a policeman. He was taken immediately to an automobile and there was no opportunity for anyone to speak to him.

He was wearing a blue shirt and had a handkerchief tied around his forehead.

In the forefront of the throng that had rushed to the Winnie Mae was a group of Oklahoma men who had flown here to welcome Post.

be used in the construction of the five coast highway bridges raging in the state. The state highway commission has pointed out that the cost of creosote-treated timbers would be as great as concrete and steel due to the necessity of having the treating done at St. Helens, the only plant near here. This probably would result in much of the timber being bought at places near St. Helens in order to save shipping costs.

"A timber-treating plant here in Eugene, with our central shipping advantages, should prove a successful venture from the start," Mr. Paris declared. "The state highway commission is building many small bridges of treated lumber and a plant here would open a big market for local lumber."

Hale informed the Eugene committee that the legal department of the railroad company was working on legal difficulties of the arrangement and hoped to find means of throwing the facilities of their plant open to commercial timber-treating.

Jury Deciding On Guilt of Bowles

board will start work Monday morning and expect to complete the count by that evening or early the next day at the latest.

Setting a precedent in gathering up the ballots for an election in this county, every precinct's ballots had been collected and were in the county court house by 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, according to Sheriff C. A. "Tom" Swarts.

County Clerk Dillard, in estimating that 46 percent of the county's registered voters went to the polls Friday, based his calculations on the number of voters registered, which is approximately 20,000, and the number of persons voting, as the most popular issue of the ballot, state repeal. A quick count showed that 11,787 persons voted on this measure and using this figure roughly as 12,000, Dillard reached the conclusion that the vote was 46 percent.

Tax Defeat Surprising
Observers predicted a two-to-one defeat of the sales tax and a few believed it would lose by a greater majority, but few expected the four-to-one lacing this highly unpopular form of tax received. A check of the county's 92 precincts revealed that not one precinct showed a majority for this measure.

The county showed its desire to upset the noble experiment by turning in the substantial majority of 883 votes for repeal of the national amendment, but it took the strong wet sentiment of the city vote to overcome the 36 precincts in which the vote was against repeal.

Precincts in the southern part of the county showed a tendency to be dry, as was expected, with precincts one, three and four in the Grove voting against repeal and Cloverdale, Creswell, Dorena, Latham and Sagi-naw all in the dry column.

Mohawk Valley Dry
The Mohawk valley also voted dry with precincts at Wendling, Mabel, Mohawk and Camp Creek all showing a dry majority. Other dry precincts were Aladore, Brambaugh, Coburg, College Crest, Elmira, Fall Creek, Five Rivers, Jasper, Silk Creek, Leaburg, Lone Pine, Pleasant Hill, Prairie, Richardson, Santa Clara, Springfield one and three, Willskenzie, Zumwalt, Lake Creek and Eugene 12, 13, 14 and 15.

The voters of Eugene favored repeal of the national prohibition amendment by a vote of 2524 to 1691 and carried the state repeal by a count of 2810 to 2977. The sales tax went down better than two to one in Eugene with a vote of 3409 to 1254.

The grand jury change carried in the city by a 2109 to 1854 vote, and

CELEBRATION HERE SHOWS $200 PROFIT

Eugene's Fourth of July celebration, sponsored by veterans of the county, paid its own expenses and came through with a profit of approximately $200. It was managed Saturday by W. N. Winder, chairman, following a final meeting of the general committee.

The committee voted to make the celebration an annual event and expressed their wish to serve in the same capacity year as this year.

GAS-The Economical Fuel for Cooking

Especially for the woman who must make her recipe fit her budget, gas gives better cooking service. Gas is cheaper. There is no waiting for it to get hot; it is the fullest concentrated heat there is at the minute it is lit.

Whether for broiling or boiling, roasting, baking or frying, gas costs little. It does every cooking process more quickly, more easily, more simply. It is the perfect fuel, prized where good cooks gather to exchange choice recipes.

Oven-Steaming of Vegetables Preserves the Priceless Minerals and Vitamines

Vitamins, calcium, phosphorous, iron—these and other health-giving elements are retained to the fullest when you steam-cook vegetables in your gas oven. Oven cooking is recognized as being superior for many cooking operations—that is why domestic scientists today advocate oven-steaming. In oven-steaming you use less water—hence the full natural food flavors are retained to the utmost.

INSULATED Oven for all oven cooking

Oven-steaming is best accomplished with the insulated range. Insulation keeps heat in the gas range just as it keeps cold in your refrigerator. Keeps your kitchen cool and comfortable. Oven ventilation makes all foods more delicious, and keeps odors out of the kitchen.
