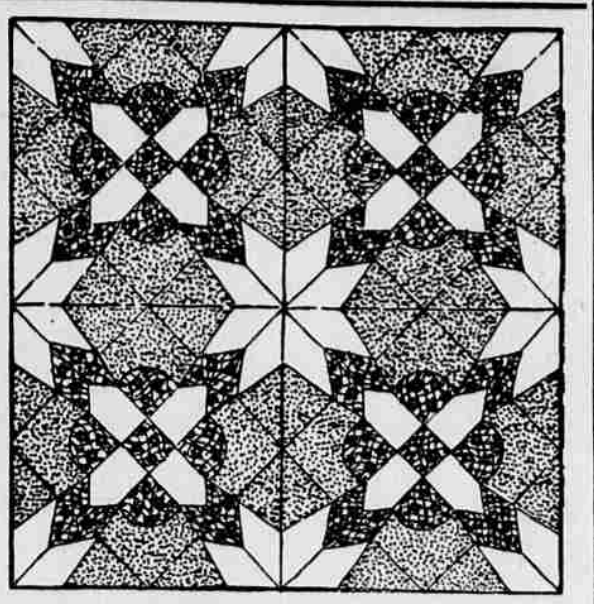
PATCHWORK QUILT PATTERN



Full Blown Tulip Pattern No. 485 By Laura Wheeler

The Full Blown Tulip has as an interesting feature the flower-like form that evolves at the center of the block, and the interesting motif made by the corners of the block. By making the quilt in three materials, these features stand out and make a most effective pattern.

The pattern comes to you with complete simple instructions for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

Send 10c for this pattern to Register-Guard, Needlecraft Department, 82 Eighth Avenue, New York City.

FISHERMEN MOVE TO FORM GROUP

FLORENCE, July 22 — (Speial)—About 15 local fishermen were present at a meeting held at Cushman this week at which George Richmond and Bill Burnett of Reedsport were present to get this portion of the Oregon coast commercial fishing industry liked up with an all-Oregon coast body, which has been proposed. This body in turn would become affiliated with the United Fishermen of the Pacific Coast, whose powers extend from Mexico to Alaska. The proposed organization on the Oregon coast would ask a price of seven cents a pound for this season's catch of fish, except in the case of Astoria where the price has been fixed at eight cents as the result of the recent strike.

One of the largest herring runs ever known to have visited the Siuslaw river, continues unabated, and in the face of this there is but one man who is exerting himself to catch them. T. J. Williams reports that one night this week he caught four tons in one drift. He has a fine meshed net. With no market for the 8,000 pounds of these fish, Williams saved but 1800 pounds out of the four tons. The fish are sold here at a small price and shipments of them are made to Reedsport.

The city of Florence has paid off its 13th water bond with the interest attached thereto. The bond was for $1,000 and now the only indebtedness of this little city are the 14th and 15th bonds, each of an amount of the bond just paid. Constructed 18 years ago the local city water system was built at a cost of $15,000 and every one of the 13 bonds now paid have been met promptly. The income from the system has always taken care of the operating expense and in recent years there has been a balance which has gone into a sinking fund.

Contract Bridge

By GEORGE SCHAEFERS

Associate Teacher—Culbertson National Bridge Studios of N. Y.

Through error in the set-up of last Sunday's article the problem hands were placed in such a way that it was impossible to determine the North from the South hand. This is the way they should have been:

North
♠ 7
♥ A-K-10-8
♦ A-K-Q-9-4
♣ A-Q-3

West: Never bids — East: Never bids

South
♠ K-Q-6
♥ Q-6-2
♦ 10-8-6-2
♣ K-9-7

North deals and finds he has done very well by himself, holding 5½ honor-tricks and excellent distribution which justifies an opening two-bid. He therefore bids 2 diamonds (his longest suit). East passes and South almost jumps out of his chair. This is an easily understood reaction on South's part for he knows that almost invariably the partner of a two-bidder must respond with two no-trump because he has a bust, and here he sits with two honor-tricks, an almost unheard of piece of good fortune. He finds that he has adequate trump support for the diamonds so bids 3 diamonds.

North now shows his other suit by bidding 3 hearts (no need to bid more for his partner must bid again). South now knows that his partner probably holds only four cards in the heart suit but he bids 4 hearts to show he has adequate support for that suit too.

North, with information that his partner has at least 1 plus honor-tricks and support for both of his suits bids 5 notrump (showing the holding of three Aces and the King of a bid suit). South then bids 6 diamonds which can be made easily unless East had all of the outstanding diamonds. This hand is an example of the raise of an opening two-bid in a suit.

Last Sunday I promised to give hands illustrating all of the responses to the two-bid which were discussed at that time. Here they are:

1. Pass—remember that you cannot pass after your partner's two-bid. There is no hand that could possibly illustrate a pass.

2. Two notrump—I could tell you of and show you hands all day long that require a 2 notrump response. The easiest way is to simply take the four deuces, the four treys, the four 4 spots, and one 5 spot and you will have a perfect (or imperfect as you prefer) bust 2 notrump response. Any hand that contains less than 1 plus honor-tricks must be bid 2 notrump after an opening two-bid.

3. Three notrumps—shows lack of a biddable suit or of adequate trump support for partner's suit, but shows at least 1½ honor-tricks. Suppose that partner bids 2 spades, the correct bid with the following hand is 3 notrump.

♠ 9-6-4
♥ K-10-5-3
♦ Q-J-8
♣ K-7-5

4. Four notrump—shows 2½ honor-tricks, not necessarily Aces or King. Here is an illustration, partner bidding 2 hearts.

♠ A-Q-5
♥ J-7-3
♦ K-8-6
♣ Q-10-6-4

5. 5 notrump—shows 3 honor-tricks including one Ace. With the following hand the response is 5 notrump to an opening bid of 2 spades:

♠ 6-4-2
♥ K-Q-8
♦ A-Q-4
♣ K-9-8-4

6. One raise shows adequate trump support for partner's suit and one plus honor-tricks. Raise a 2 spade bid to three with

♠ 9-7-5-4
♥ 7-5-3
♦ A-10-6
♣ Q-7-5

7. Two raises show (a) better than adequate trump support and (b) either 2 honor-tricks outside or 1½ honor-tricks and a doubleton or 1 honor-trick and a singleton. Raise a 2 spade bid to 4 spades with any of the following:

♠ J-9-7-4	♠ J-9-7-4
♥ A-7-5	♥ A-7
♦ 7-5-3	♦ 7-5-3-2
♣ A-J-7	♣ K-10-7

♠ J-9-7-4
♥ 6
♦ K-Q-8-3-2
♣ 9-8-6-3

8. Suit takeouts are made with any biddable suit provided the hand contains 1 plus honor-tricks. Bid three clubs over 2 spades with

♠ 7-5-3
♥ 8-6
♦ 10-7-5
♣ A-Q-9-6-4

• • •

North and South have a part score of 60. North deals. How would you bid?

Engineers Visit Florence Project

FLORENCE, July 22.—(Special)—With a fund of $20,000 allotted especially for the purpose, important streets of this town will have sufficient connection with the high bridge which is to span the Siuslaw bay on the coast highway here. This was the word given out here this week with the visit of R. H. Baldock and C. B. McCullough, head engineers of the state highway commission. The approach of the bridge on the Florence side will pass over Main street at a heighth of about 20 feet, according to the plans. Blue prints of the connections with the bridge from the principal streets will be ready for local people to inspect sometime within the coming week.

Driving of test piling for the new bridge was completed the first of the week, and the report of Marshall Dresser, the man who made the tests for the Rogue river bridge, is that there were no signs evident of difficulty being experienced in getting a solid foundation for the piers when bridge construction starts. Because of the non-occurrence of heavy wash to the river bottom here, there will be no necessity of sinking the piers any great depth below the floor.
