CRESWELL NEWS NOTES

CRESWELL, July 28.—(Special).—Mrs. R. W. Stone was hostess to members and friends of the Garden club at her home Wednesday afternoon. Gladioli and other cut flowers in bowls and wall baskets added to the attractiveness of the rooms and served as an inspiration to the study of the hour. The regular topics of the cultivation and care of flowers were discussed. Miss Genevieve Thompson invited the members to call at her home for iris bulbs. Following the study the guests were invited to seats on the lawn under a large weeping willow tree on the lawn near the lily pools where iced punch was served. Those present were Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, Miss Edith Stone, Mrs. E. A. Schwering, Miss Irma Stone, Mrs. Mabel Campbell, Mrs. A. W. Schwering, Mrs. J. H. Martin, Mrs. W. I. Tuttle, Mrs. Margaret Marlin, Mrs. G. H. Davidson, Mrs. Clara Traxler, Mrs. H. N. Traxler, Miss Thompson, Mrs. T. C. Brown, Mrs. J. S. Taylor, Mrs. Helen Eldredge, Mrs. Ed Anderson, Mrs. C. I. Kent, and Mrs. Stone.

White fir logs are being hauled through Brownsville enroute to the Lebanon paper mills. They are being felled and hauled by Arthur Hotchkiss. He is logging on Caldwell place north of Brownsville. Logs are also being taken to Lebanon from the Ward acres north of town.

Garden at Jail Gets Comments

The efforts in gardening on the part of Floyd Hunter, jailer, and some of the trustees under his care, are winning many comments from those who pass the county jail.

The tall clump of Golden Glow, above the heads of even the tallest (even tall Sheriff C. A. "Tom" Swartz), just at the jail entrance is particularly attractive. Hunter and his workers, too, are keeping the lawn nice and green and well cut. Little flower beds around the jail are getting plenty of attention, too.

The jail has a bit above the normal number of "residents" now with a total of 16. Two of them are federal cases and one is Llewellyn A. Banks, convicted slayer, awaiting sentence or other action on his case.

The tam o'shanter was worn by Scotch plowmen as early as 1810; it was modified as a headress for girls and young women about 1880.
