

Market Changes Few

ALL PRODUCE IS
SAME AS FRIDAY;
BERRIES ARE SLOW

Saturday brought no change to speak of in the local markets.

Eggs, butter, buttermilk, poultry, livestock and grains all remained the same as for Friday's listings.

Beans are down a bit, especially the Blue Lakes which are the main variety in now, the wax beans and others being about cleaned up.

Hay showed no further change following the boost of Friday.

Blackberries are still scarce and slow in coming on the market.

Following was the price list for the day here Saturday:

BUTTER MARKET CONTINUES WEAK

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3.—(U.S.)—Weakness in the butter market continues generally through the local trade although there was no change suggested in week-end values.

One of the reasons for the local surplus appears the uncovering of the flooded lowlands which are now sending about twice the volume of butterfat to market as a week or ten days ago.

Trading in the egg market continues of easy character but without price change suggested by leading distributors. A greater per cent of the sales consist of short held storage.

Market for chickens is holding firm at the week-end. There was no further change in the price list. All sorts are in favor. Springer stuff is generally selling as such instead of as stages which a few buyers are classing them.

At the week-end quite a fair stock of country killed beef was carried over for the coming week owing to the continued heavy offerings, the very low price and inability of the trade to keep cleared.

Market for country killed hogs, lambs and veal shows a rather firm tone at the week-end and especially as regards top quality. Quality lambs are being sought.

Berry prices showed a generally firm market for the week-end with decreasing supplies. Raspberries, strawberries and youngberries at least touched the $2 mark. Even logans are more active.

Tomato prices were strong at the week-end, increasing the improved tone of Friday.

Wheat Fluctuates With Slight Gains

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(U.S.)—Decidedly mixed sentiment prevailed among the wheat traders today, but buyers were in a majority at the last, and the market closed higher.

Lack of a broad speculative interest was largely responsible for rapidly shifting wheat fluctuations. At no time, however, did prices of any grain threaten to drop more than minimum limits, and there was fair buying support on all sections.

Wheat closed unsettled, 3-8 1/2-7-8 above yesterday's finish. Corn 7-8 1/2-1 3-8 up. Oats 2-4 1/2-5-8 advanced, and provisions varying from 3 cents decline to a rise of 10 cents.
