

Eugene Townies To Play Wolfer's Federals For Oregon State League Lead

BUCK AND BOBBY GRAYSON TO PLAY FOR PORTLANDERS

Where the teams play: Federals at Eugene, Salem at Bend, Schnapp's at Albany.

The Eugene Townies will play Wolfer's Federals at the fairgrounds this afternoon. The game will be called at 2:30. A large crowd is expected, since this tilt will decide the league lead, and may have an important bearing on the outcome of the Oregon State league pennant chase.

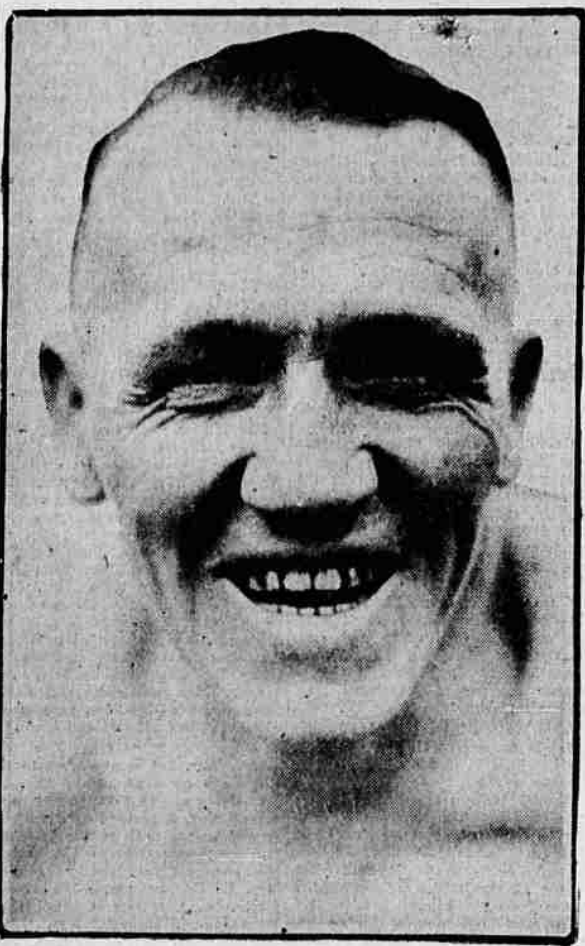

Both clubs will be stronger than at any time this season, and both will be out to win at any cost. Eugene will have Del Russell, who starred earlier in the season, back at an infield post, and Chuck Wirth will also play. Wirth was unable to make the trip to Bend two weeks ago, and the locals' overwhelming loss was partially due to his absence.

The Federals have enlisted the aid of the two Grayson brothers, Buck and Bobby, and their addition should materially strengthen the Portland club. Buck Grayson starred at first base for three years at Oregon State college, while Bobby is a Stanford football and baseball star.

Bob Wiltshire, Eugene pitcher will probably get the hurling assignment, with Cecil Inman on hand to relieve him. Dick Bishop, the league's outstanding catcher, will work behind the plate. Either Don Husband or Ben Kelsey will handle first base, while Russell will probably perform at second. Chuck Wirth will play short. Bill Reinhart has yet to select a starting third sacker.

The outfield berths will go to Jack Van Duyen, Cotter Gould, Al Diets or Jack Gordon, and it is possible Skipper Reinhart may take care of one of the nine posts. The Federals battery has not been announced, but they have a large hurling staff, and Eugene will probably have plenty of trouble collecting base hits. Either Richards or Warren will receive for them.

THE OLD FOX HIMSELF!

Remember him? It's Henry Jones, the veteran Provo, Utah, strawberry grower, who will match holds with Otis Clingman on Thursday's mat card. Jones has not appeared here in many months, and Promoter Herb Owen is giving him the toughest man heretobefore to celebrate his return. It should be an epic battle, with Henry's famed whip wristlock, the finest in the game, vying with the Sailor's deadly chinlocks.

HIGHCLIMBER

Looks 'em over

It looks like a real ball game at the fairgrounds today. While the tilt isn't a final championship battle, it will probably have an important bearing on the winner of the Oregon State league pennant. If Eugene can defeat the Federals, they should have an excellent chance, barring upsets, to come through with the flag, while the same is true of the Portlanders.

The two teams are tied for the league lead, each having 7 wins and 4 losses. This will be the third game played between these clubs, and each has a victory to its credit. Today's tilt will be the last meeting, and each is anxious to cop the series.

The Federals have added a good deal of strength, both at bat and afield, while the Townies will welcome back Del Russell, after an absence of several weeks. The outstanding additions to Wolfer's ball club are the two Grayson brothers, Buck and Bobby. Buck is a graduate of Oregon State, where he played first base for three years, and Bobby starred in three sports last year at Stanford.

McLemore's Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Frederick J. Perry, Beau Sabour of the victorious English Davis cup team, stretched his long legs, lit a long pipe, took a long breath, settled down in an easy chair in his room at the Westchester Country club, and said:

"Gentlemen of the press, what can Frederick J. Perry do for you? He was asked to settle, once and for all, the argument regarding his turning professional. Was it true he had received tempting offers and planned to join up with a troupe that would include Ellsworth Vines, Henri Cochet, Jack Crawford and Bunny Austin?"

"Get out your pencils and pads, gentlemen. All set? Okay, here's your answer to that one, Frederick J. Perry is not interested in professionalism. He has received offers, yes, but to those who would tempt him from the straight and narrow he had but one reply, 'I will talk of pink elephants and pink pills for pale people, but when professionalism is mentioned please let us go into the grand and gather a bouquet of the fragrant forget-me-nots.'" greatest all-American prospect on the coast. Getting back to the local angle, Eugene will also present a strong line-up. Green and Quinn, two excellent ball hawkers, will be on hand. Green had an operation a short time ago, but is in good shape. Quinn suffered a leg injury, but it is healed sufficiently to permit him to play.

What a wrestling match Herb Owen has lined up for the fans this week! Our old friend Henry Jones, who is healthy, if not so young, and the king of local middleweights, Otis Clingman. Anybody who is of the opinion that the Sailor is too good for the old Strawberry grower has another thing coming. Every advantage Clingman will have in youth and weight will more than be offset by Jones' speed, strategy and knowledge of the game.

The whip wristlocks, which made Henry famous from coast to coast are just as effective as ever, and if the Sailor can weather them he will have achieved something that many outstanding wrestlers have failed to do. Against Jones' deadly whiplocks the Sailor will pit his own particular brand of misery, the chin lock, which comes as close to neck-breaking as the rules allow.

From every angle, this should be the greatest match staged here in months, which is taking in considerable territory when one recalls the Cohen-Clingman battle. Don't miss it!

winning it. They never considered the possibility they might not come through. As for next year, who knows? Certainly the fact that the challenge round will be played on Wimbledon's grass courts makes it tough for us. You see, your fellows do their best on grass, and so do the Australians and Japanese. Speaking of Japanese, they look like the 'yellow peril' to me. This Satoh is a truly great player, and Nuno is almost as good. If you think I'm fooling about Satoh, look in the books and see what that little fellow did. He whipped me at Paris in the French championships and disposed of Austin at Wimbledon. If Nuno improves a little, they'll be tough to beat."

Perry could see no reason for the citizens of this country blaming Vines and Allison and Captain Benno Prentice for falling to win the Davis cup.

Blow on Head Kills Catcher

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Twelve-year-old Frank Palasz couldn't desert his baseball team, even after he was hit on the head with a bat. As a result he was dead today.

The boy was star catcher for the Comrades, a team of youthful softball players. His team was leading. With a man on first, a pinch-hitter was sent to bat by the opposing team.

Anxious to hold the runner on first after the pitch, Frankie stepped too near the plate. The swinging bat struck him just behind the ear, knocking him down.

Knowing his team had no other catcher, Frankie picked himself up, rubbed his head, and resumed his place behind the bat.

The Comrades won the game. Frankie went home. But he had no appetite for his supper. Stanley Palasz, his father, noticed he appeared dazed and questioned him. Learning of the blow on the head he called a physician.

The boy died before he could be taken to the hospital. The blow had fractured his skull.

HENRY JONES OF PROVO TO TANGLE WITH CLINGMAN

Henry Jones of Provo, Utah, the Old Fox in person, will step through the ropes at the armory Thursday night to meet the toughest opponent ever to face him in the Eugene ring. This will be Jones' first match here.

In almost two years, and the Strawberry Grower swears that Otis Clingman, who is slated to give him the acid test, will wish it was his last.

Jones has been more than willing to wrestle on Owen's cards for some time, but the local promoter has hesitated to use him since there are few good welters in the vicinity at this time. However, Jones showed up at the armory Thursday night and challenged every middleweight in the county, state or country, and promised to beat them, notwithstanding the weight he must give away.

This week's match should be a knockout (figuratively speaking, since Thor Jensen isn't wrestling) and Jones will match his years of experience and ring craft against Clingman's youth and strength. Jones' famed whip wristlocks are as vicious as ever, but the venerable Utah gent will find plenty of dynamite in the Sailor's chinlocks, which have felled many a good man and true.

The coming of Jones swells to four times the number of men here capable of making the weight for a title match with Jack Reynolds later in the season, and Henry doesn't mind admitting that he is the logical opponent for the champ. Jones feels that Owen's previous refusals to match him with the middleweights are a personal affront, and he will be out to show up the promoter by whipping Clingman soundly.

Owen has not announced his special event, but says it will be nearly on par with the main go, which should spell plenty of action. All in all, it looks like a great card, with a grand old campaigner meeting the most popular boy ever to wrestle here.

Mercer Has Narrow Escape From Injury

Although the windshield of his car was entirely demolished when it came in contact with a load of lumber on a Salem street Friday, Col. W. G. D. Mercer, former Eugenean and well known throughout the state as former sergeant-at-arms at the Oregon state senate for years, escaped without a scratch. His escape from injury was considered almost marvellous in view of the fact that the boards from the truck penetrated the windshield and completely wiped it out.

Showered with glass Colonel Mercer brought his car to a halt within a few feet, climbed out and went to confer with the truck driver. He said he was forced to swerve to the right and into the rear end of the truck due to a sudden jam in the traffic.

After talking matters over with the truck driver the aged war veteran climbed into his damaged machine and drove away.
