STRIKES SPREAD AMONG GARMENT WORKERS, MINERS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—(U.P.)—Twenty girls, on strike at the plant of the Eclipse Shirt company, were arrested today after attacking police with umbrellas.

The disturbance started when strike breakers attempted to enter the plant. The pickets, mostly girls, charged the non-union workers and beat patrolmen when they sought to protect the men and women seeking to enter the factory.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(U.P.)—Sixty thousand dressmakers continued on strike today while another dressmaking union prepared to join the general walkout which all efforts of NRA officials have failed to settle.

Harry Greenberg, manager of the Ladies' Tailors and Customs Dressmakers' union, declared his organization planned to strike. Greenberg charged fashionable Fifth avenue shops with obtaining NRA insignia under false pretenses.

TAMAQUA, Pa., Aug. 18.—(U.P.)—An "outlaw" strike of anthracite miners in the Panther creek valley spread today to include 15,000 men.

The strikers, demanding equalization of work, closed the Alliance colliery of the Lehigh Navigation Coal company, enlisting another 1000 miners.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18. — (U.P.) — A strike of nearly 10,000 garment workers was anticipated here today, although a definite date for the walkout had not been announced.

A decision to strike for shorters hours and higher wages was reached last night by officials of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union. Bernard Shane, general organizer for the union, said 10,000 workers probably would participate.

in the morraine, dug a great new gulch in the mountainside and carried thousands of tons of debris down to the McKenzie.

Debris lader water roaring down the mountain side would account for the thundering rumbles on South Sister, at first reported by forest lookouts and nearby mountain climbers as a continuing avalanche.

At every point along the valley of Separation creek from the point where it is crossed by the Skyline trail to the glacier, the party found conclusive evidence of the sweeping force of a great wall of water.

Phenomenon Very Rare

According to Dr. Edwin T. Hodge, geologist at Oregon State, the phenomenon is one which occurs but only at rare intervals in alpine regions. So far as is known there never has been a similar occurrence in the Cascades.

Such an outbreak, according to Dr. Hodge is entirely different from the mud wash which frequently comes down from glaciers, and it is much more violent, devastating and spectacular.

Facts obtained by the exploring party are being checked and rechecked and a complete report on the occurrence will be published Sunday. The party was the first to go over the ground of the break, although traces were found where a horseman had travelled a short way up Separation creek investigating the situation and one other party viewed the scene from an airplane.

scribe to the code presented by others of the industry, Johnson said:

"It is a matter of regret that the industry as represented here does not include 100 per cent of automobile manufacturers; because, certain it is, that in the administration of this law and the distribution of the Blue Eagle, no exception can be made in favor of any manufacturer whether his output be great or small.

"We shall execute this law as we find it, without fear and without favor."

In addition to the absence of Ford from the list of manufacturers supporting the code, interest in the hearing centered upon its labor provisions declaring in favor of the open shop.

The code provides wages of 40 to 43 cents per hour for factory workers, depending upon the population of the city in which they work. Maximum hours are stipulated as 48 in any one week with the average not to exceed 35.

After setting forth that employes shall have the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives chosen by themselves without interference or coercion, the code says:

"Under the foregoing provisions, the employers in the industry may continue the open shop policy under which the selection, retention and davancement of employes will be on the basis of individual merit without regard to their affiliation or non-affiliation with any labor or other organization."

Donald Richberg, counsel to the recovery administration, urged the elimination of the "open shop" reference from the code, saying it "may be easily construed as the declaration of a policy of refusing to comply with the law."

He said the explanation by the manufacturers gave assurance that such was not the case, but he felt it might not be so interpreted generally. He said Johnson thought it quite "proper" for the manufacturer to assert a policy of retaining and advancing employes on a basis of individual merit regardless of union affiliation, but that the "open shop" clause should go out.

He explained the national recovery law stipulates all codes must contain provision for collective bargaining without interference by the employer and said thast "no power is given to approve a code with any attempted modification of the law."

Clerks Adopt Code

While there has been much talk of the Blue Eagle flying over various organizations, the Eugene retail clerks were the first actually to catch a bird in the flesh. At their meeting at the Labor hall Thursday night, just after the code had been adopted and election of officers had started, a large bat flew in the open door and honored the meeting with his presence for the rest of the evening, flying back and forth at the top of the room.

Officers of the Eugene Retail Clerks Protective association, elected at the meeting were Gerald Heskitt, president; Arnold Suiker, first vice-president; Harriet Christenson, second vice-president, and Ethel Forstrom, secretary-treasurer.

The organization, with 89 members signed to the charter roll, will receive a charter from the national organization and it is expected to have it here at the next meeting of the group on August 31 at 8 o'clock.

A code establishing maximum working hours, minimum wage scales, banning child labor and giving retail clerks the right to organize and bargain collectively through their representatives was adopted at the meeting.

The code disapproved staggered working hours for employers and advocated a minimum week of 52 hours for stores to remain open. It also stated that employers should not have the right to consider whether or not a clerk belonged to the union in employing him.

Wage Scale Adopted

The following minimum wage scale was included in the code:

Inexperienced workers, $15 per week; after six months employment, $20; after twelve months employment, $25; and after eighteen months employment, $30. The code also stipulated that no one under the age of 16 years could be employed and that the ratio of apprentice labor should not exceed one to ten.

Organization was perfected at a meeting of electrical dealers Thursday night with the following officers elected: L. B. Sigwart, president; George Ruiter, vice-president; H. W. White, treasurer; T. A. Stocker, secretary. The group will be known as the Lane County Electrical Contractors' association. A code will be formulated at a statewide meeting of electrical contractors to be held here September 20. Only Portland contractors will be outside the provisions of this code, is was said.

Barbers Talk Hours

Journeymen barbers met at the chamber of commerce Thursday night to draw up a list of suggestions to be presented at the meeting of shop owners. Hours of opening were suggested as follows 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., week days; 8:30 a. m. to 8 p. m., Saturdays. They favored a 48-hour week for journeymen barbers, a reduction from the present 57 hours of work.

AVOID THE DANGER OF CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Overcomes This Condition Safely and Pleasantly

The first signs of constipation may be headaches, tired feelings, sallow complexions, sleeplessness, loss of appetite. If neglected, constipation may seriously impair health.

Today, you can banish constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action similar to leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, and gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of common constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Paper Owners Sued By Former Employe

Eugene Kelty, formerly manager of the Klamath Falls Herald and News, Friday filed suit in the circuit court here against Frank Jenkins and Ernest Gilstrap of Eugene, principal owners of the papers, to recover $10,000, the amount he alleges he paid for his stock in the Register Publishing company.

Kelty alleged in his complaint that July 3, 1929, he purchased this stock and entered the employ of the defendants on the Morning Register, which was then being published in Eugene, entering into an agreement that if such employment should be terminated before the end of five years he was to be repaid the amount of his stock. Later he was employed as manager of the two Klamath Falls papers after the company had bought them and was discharged in March, 1933, he alleges.

He seeks the recovery of the $10,000, $90 paid as a dividend, with interest at 6 per cent from July 25, 1929.

BIG UTAH CONCERN TO BE REORGANIZED

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Western Loan and Building company, listing assets and liabilities of $26,035,725.68 as of Dec. 31, 1932, has been ordered placed in the hands of the Utah state bank commissioner to conserve the assets of the company for the benefit of 21,000 shareholders in eight western states.

The action was taken last night by the board of directors of the company after an all-day conference with state officials in charge of banking and building and loan departments of Utah, Montana, Wyoming, Oregon and California.

John A. Malia, state bank commissioner, in addition to being authorized to conserve assets, was asked to cooperate with the company's directorate in a reorganization plan.

State officials announced an examination made by the Utah, California and Montana building and loan departments disclosed heavy depreciation of the company's major real estate investments in California which was said to have placed the company in an unsafe position.

at this time is a real problem." Governor Meier said in commenting on the request of the state relief committee. "I have requested a formal letter setting forth the circumstances. I desire to inform myself fully as to these requirements which have been made by the federal relief administration. When I receive that information and have had time to study it, I shall have something to say."

Delinquencies Bother

The governor stated that "under the circumstances, of course, I shall seriously consider the advisability of a special session of the legislature."

Wilcox was to present to the governor today a formal resolution which the committee drew yesterday, containing all requests and general suggestions of the federal regional administrator and the state board.

"I have been hoping that under NRA and the federal public works program, the need might be sufficiently relieved so that new stress would not need to be placed on the taxpayers," the governor said. "It is obvious with the high rate of delinquency now existing in this state that no additional tax can be placed against real property. No new revenue can be expected from that source. Where we could turn for money at this time is a real problem."

whole world where there was such an orgy of pyramiding of corporations and the fixing of fictitious values and earnings."

He charged the Union Guardian Trust Co., the impending closing of which has been given as the reason for the declaration of Michigan's banking holiday Feb. 14, had "jockeyed the children's fund of Michigan out of $200,000," and asked Prosecutor Harry S. Toy to investigate with a view to criminal proceedings. The children's fund, established in 1928 by the senator, has an endowment of $10,000,000, the income of which is to be spent solely for crippled children of the state.

Conduct Held Criminal

The trust company, said the senator, sold the fund $300,000 worth of "participation certificates" based on real estate mortgages, but pleaded a temporary stringency of funds when payment became due and asked the fund management to take "certificates of deposit" instead.

He said the certificates had no collateral security behind them, and only $100,000 was cashed by the fund. The remainder, he said, was not obtained before the trust company closed and he said he counted the $200,000 "as practically a total loss."

"Why," exclaimed the senator, "the Union Guardian Trust Co. accepted deposits for 20 days, after its officials knew it was insolvent. It is my understanding that that is a criminal offense."

Turning to the First National Bank, Detroit, Couzens read from a memo which he said had been taken from the bank's books, and declared on the day the bank closed its books showed more than $2,600,000 on which directors had signed as endorsers, totaling more than $1,000,000, employes, and loans totaling $11,400,000 to corporations in directors of the bank were [illegible] 000—will be lost to a very [illegible] tent due to the poor [illegible] eral bank examiners," he said.
