RAINIER BOCK BEER

"What Is BOCK BEER?" queries the public. "Whence did it come?" "Who first brewed it?"
 There are no exact answers as antiquity has swallowed them. But there are myths and traditions, for example:
 "Once, in the middle ages, there were two brewers in Munich and they challenged each other to a beer-drinking contest to determine the superior brew. Each drank the other's beer. They sat facing each other on a bench and tested their sobriety by trying to thread needles. Finally one contestant failed and fell from the bench. He thought a goat (in German a Bock) had hit him. So bock beer was named."

GOAT IS SYMBOL

MADE IN WINTER

Be that as it may, nearly every brewer uses the goat as the symbol of bock beer.
 Bock beer was originally made in the winter-time, for two good reasons. First: it was only possible, in the old days, to dry the malt properly in the winter months when temperature and humidity could be controlled. Second: bock beer was best suited to consumption in late winter and spring weather.

OVER 5% BY VOLUME

Rainier Bock Beer is brewed from malt that is superbly roasted—"caramelized" to give it a dark, rich color and a body that retains all the deliciousness of the original ingredients. Aged for three months in the world's largest aging vats this beer provides the "smoothness" that characterizes the very finest brews. Wholesome and nutritious, you will be sure to enjoy it.

ASTORIA'S AIRPORT WILL LOOK LIKE THIS!

One of the largest of the airport improvements to be made in Oregon in connection with the CWA program is that at Astoria. The port, located across Youngs Bay from the city, will not only provide adequate facilities for land planes but also will include a basin where sea planes can alight in sheltered waters.

Church at Oakridge In Varied Activities

OAKRIDGE, March 6.—(Special)—The ladies aid of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Roy Putnam Thursday afternoon for a business meeting. Plans were discussed for partitioning the church with folding doors for Sunday school class rooms. It was voted to hold a luncheon and cooked food sale in the Dugal Building, Wednesday, March 7. Mrs. Fred Henson was appointed chairman and her assistants will be Mrs. Peter Brude, Mrs. C. A. Paddock and Mrs. J. D. Ash. At the close of the business meeting Mrs. W. W. Austin gave a talk on the Knox law. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Paul Bolliger, Mrs. R. W. Dimick, Mrs. Fred Henson, Mrs. Peter Brude, Mrs. Chester Stonebraker, Mrs. W. W. Austin, Mrs. H. M. Harkins, Mrs. J. D. Ash, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. Wm. Ellamond, Mrs. Virgil Winkelman and Mrs. Putnam.

The girls' high school Sunday school class of the Methodist community church met in the church Wednesday evening with their teacher, Mrs. Paul Bolliger.

At the business meeting officers for the year were elected. Those chosen were Miss Juanita Richardson, president; Mae Winkelman, vice-president; and Pearl Paddock, secretary. The group decided to hold class meetings every two weeks. At these meetings the girls will study Lillian Eichler's book on etiquette, taking a chapter at each meeting. After the business meeting games were played and refreshments served.

Members of the class are Juanita Richardson, Mae Winkelman, Pearl Paddock, Betty Jane Jones, Lena Mae Mattoon, Lola Dunning, Virginia Dare Mooragan, Leona Blakely, Iva Winkelman, Elizabeth Wert, Dorothy Hall, Dorothy Holt, Ruth Miller, and Doris Walker.

The ladies aid of the community church will conduct a cooked food sale and luncheon in the Dugal building Wednesday. Luncheon will be served at 11:45.

Mrs. Fred Henson is chairman of the affair and she will be assisted by Mrs. Peter Brude, Mrs. C. A. Paddock and Mrs. J. D. Ash.

The Oakridge women's club has been postponed from Wednesday until Friday. It will meet with Mrs. Frank Singletary at 1:30.

Miss Alice Maxwell and Miss Claire Doolittle of Eugene were recent visitors at the home of Miss Maxwell's father, L. G. Maxwell.

A birthday dinner was given while they were here in honor of Miss Maxwell's birthday.

Mr. J. C. Wright has returned to her home in Albany after a brief visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bodie.
