LIQUOR ZONE ACT IS LAID OVER BY COUNCIL MONDAY

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID

LAID OVER ordinance creating university zone.

DISAPPROVED two applications for liquor licenses.

ACCEPTED options on air port land and closed deal.

APPROVED monthly bills and received monthly reports.

CONSIDERED request from county to add funds to support of employment office.

APPROVED application to haul logs through city.

Without discussion from councilmen or citizens, the proposed ordinance creating a zone around the university in which sale of liquor would be banned was given two readings and laid over till the next meeting by the city fathers at the regular council session at city hall Monday night. Several representatives of campus establishments were present, but said nothing when it became evident the council planned no final action on the matter at that session. The proposed zone is bound on the north by the city limits, on the east by Agate street, on the south by Nineteenth and on the west by Patterson.

The council also refused to approve two applications for liquor licenses, while approving several others. The police committee recommended that all applications in hand be approved, but upon question being raised in council, the applications of W. R. Wallace and J. H. Bray were withdrawn through a motion to grant all but these two.

After this motion had passed, Dr. George Simon, chairman of the committee, moved that the applications of Wallace and Bray be approved, but this motion failed through lack of a second. Councilman Fred Lamb then moved that the applications of Wallace and Bray be rejected and this motion was seconded and passed.

As a result, other applications for licenses will go to the state liquor commission bearing the approval of the council, but these two will bear their disapproval.

The matter of the ban on ball and pin machines was not brought before the council till after formal adjournment when City Attorney S. M. Calkins told the city fathers that a protest was being planned and that so far as the city was legally concerned, the only question to be decided was whether or not they were games of chance or of skill.

The council voted to accept the options on the land north of the airfield and to close the deals obtaining the land. The deal involves about $5000.

Following a request from the county court for the city to contribute 40 per cent of the cost of maintaining the U. S. employment office here, the council agreed to furnish a room on the third floor of the city hall, renting it for $30, and to pay the additional sum necessary to make up the 40 per cent of the cost maintenance. This proposition will be presented to the court for consideration.

Monthly bills were approved, monthly reports filed and other routine matters considered.

On recommendations of the health committee, the council condemned buildings at 1976 Garden avenue, 293 Monroe street, and 92 Madison. A building at the southwest corner of Eighth and Madison was subjected to further investigation before being condemned.

The judiciary committee reported adversely on an application by the Cashman Realty company for a reassessment of property. The fire and water committee brought in an adverse report on the application of John Whealdon for damages he alleged were caused his property by the erection of a gasoline tank adjacent to his place.

Don Skene, local abstractor, asked for a deed to the ground formerly used as a city dump, just below the Ferry street bridge, in order to perfect title to the place to permit a loan. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

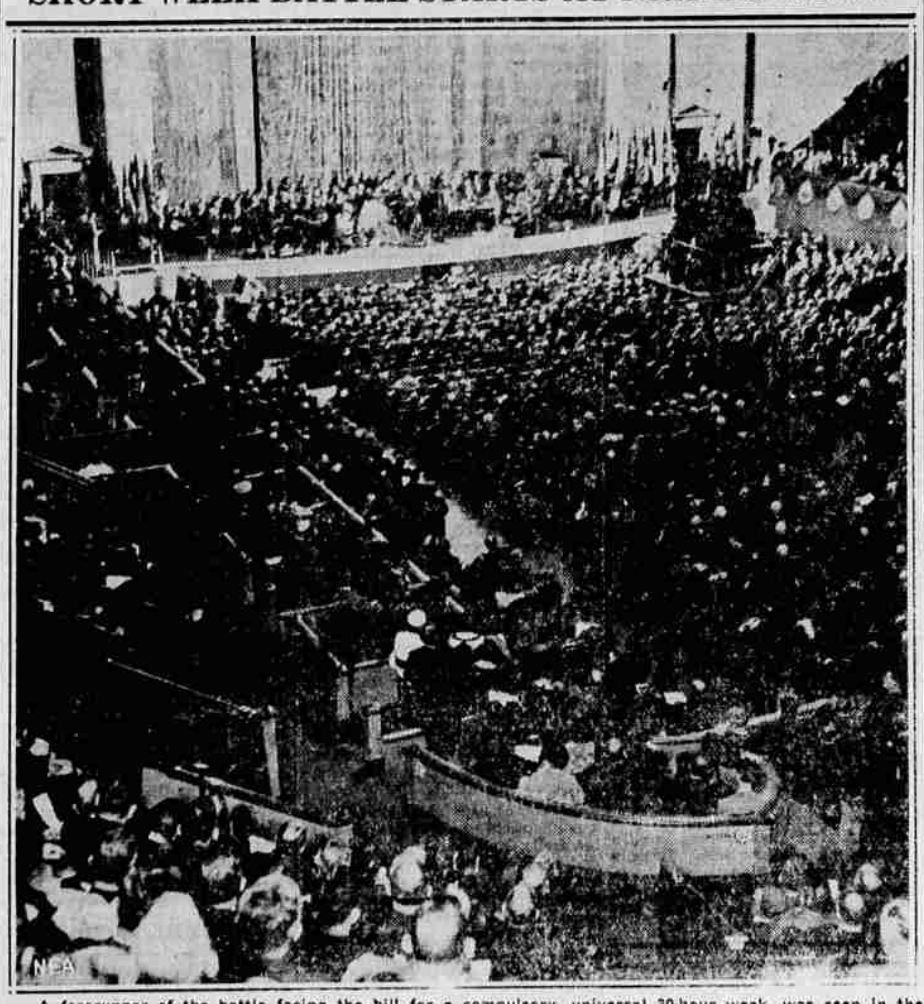
Councilman Zumwalt reported that the city rest cottage in the city park was badly littered and it was decided the health committee should see what could be done to better conditions.

Applications to haul logs through the city, turned over to the council by Utilities Commissioner Charles M. Thomas, were approved by the council providing the following conditions were observed: that logs not be hauled on Willamette between Sixth and Thirteenth avenues, or on Sixth from Blair east, or on Broadway between High and Charnelton streets.

Applications for rebonding delinquent assessments, totaling $1,739.84, were approved by the council.

Sam Maurerud's claim for damages as a result of being hit by a police car, was filed with the city recorder.

SHORT WEEK BATTLE STARTS AT NRA HEARING!



A forerunner of the battle facing the bill for a compulsory, universal 30-hour week, was seen in the opposition voiced by industrial representatives at the principal hearing of code authorities in Washington, D. C. Here business and industrial leaders are pictured at Constitution Hall where President Roosevelt urged upon them a shorter week and increased wages.

TUESDAY PROGRAMS

McDONALD—Double bill, "Six of a Kind," with Burns and Allen, W. C. Fields, Alison Skipworth, Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland, plus "I've Got Your Number," with Joan Blondell, Pat O'Brien. Ends Wednesday.

STATE — "Flying Down to Rio," with Delores Del Rio, Gene Raymond, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Ends Tuesday.

HEILIG — "Man of Two Worlds," with Elissa Landi, Francis Lederer. Ends Tuesday.

REX—Double bill, "I'm No Angel," with Mae West, plus "Meet the Baron," with Jack Pearl, Jimmy Durante, Ted Healy. Ends Tuesday.

COLONIAL— "Bitter Sweet," with Ann Neagle. Ends Tuesday.

• • •

Double bill at the McDonald: Two hilarious comedies. See them both. "I've Got Your Number," Blondell, O'Brien, plenty funny, about telephone trouble shooter. "Six of a Kind," see cast above. Absolutely screwy.

• • •

Francis Lederer wows 'em in "Man of Two Worlds," at the Heilig. All about Eskimo who falls for London socialite, Elissa Landi. Goes to London, all O. K. until Miss Landi supplies two fingers of whiskey. Come down and see what happens then.

• • •

"Bitter Sweet" at the Colonial beautiful film, bit slow for audiences who like 'em fast and hot. Anna Neagle lovely in lead, fine music. Entertaining plot.

• • •

Last day of year's best musical, "Flying Down to Rio," at the State. Grand music, swell comedy performance by Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers luscious, Delores Del Rio looking very seductive, and Gene Raymond well cast as young band leader. You'll love it.

• • •

Rex has one and only Mae West in "I'm No Angel." Ends today. Mae cast as Tira, the gal who gets her man. Interesting plot, plenty of "come up and see me sometime." Double billed with "Meet the Baron," starring Jack Pearl. Ted Healy and Stooges steal the picture, though.

STATEMENTS FOR LIQUOR TAX RATE MADE BY BOARD

Summary statements for computation of gallonage taxes and letters of transmittal were mailed Monday to wholesalers, distributors and importers of alcoholic beverages by the principal office of the Oregon Liquor Control Commission at Salem. The first tax payment must be made on March 24, covering the period from December 10, 1933, to February 28, 1934. Future payments must be made by the 10th of each month covering taxes accrued during the previous month.

The Commission points out that the first company or individual receiving alcoholic liquors manufactured out of Oregon is responsible for the state tax. Retailers who buy such products direct must file returns. Alcoholic beverages manufactured in Oregon are taxed at the source and may not be taxed again. Such manufacturers must submit a record of all transactions at monthly intervals.

Requests for tax forms and remittances should be addressed to the Commission's Salem office. The Oregon Liquor Revenue Act imposes beverage taxes as follows: Section 2. A tax hereby is imposed upon the privilege of engaging in business as a manufacturer or as an importing distributor of alcoholic beverages at the rate of 62 cents per barrel of 31 gallons on all malt beverages containing not more than 4 per cent of alcoholic content by weight, and $1 per barrel of 31 gallons on all malt beverages of higher alcoholic content, and at the rate of 10 cents for each 3-pound container or less on all malt syrups used for other than medicinal or commercial baking purposes, and at the rate of 25 cents per gallon on all alcoholic beverages as defined in section 1 of this act. The rates herein specified shall apply proportionately to quantities in containers of less capacity. The taxes imposed by this section shall be measured by the volume of alcoholic beverages sold after December 10, 1933, by any manufacturer as defined in section 1 of this act."

20 Good Reasons for Home Owning

1. Financial Independence. More people have started on the road to financial independence, through home ownership, than in any other way.
2. Security. In times of stress, the home is always something to fall back upon.
3. A Cash Equity. A well bought home is as good as a savings account.
4. Credit. Home owner can open charge accounts, etc., without difficulty.
5. Peace of Mind. Based on the knowledge that provision has been made for your family.
6. Social Background for Your Children.
7. Play Place for Your Children. Without criticism from landlord.
8. Development of Responsibility. Home owner feels more responsibility with regard to his dwelling and the neighborhood.
9. Interest in Civic and Municipal Affairs. This is good for the home owner.
10. Chance for Individual Expression. Exterior and interior of home can be made to express individuality of owner.
11. Permanent Environment. Making neighbors and friends whose friendships last over a period of years.
12. Habits of Thrift.
13. Healthful Exercise. Pride of possession inspires work around home and garden, which is healthful for indoor people.
14. Character development. Responsibilities of ownership in meeting emergencies and financial payments, and in making repairs, etc., develop business acumen and character.
15. Independence. (Other than financial.) The home owner can order his life as he wishes, with no restrictions or interference from landlord.
16. Savings. Statistics prove that one can occupy and pay for a home at approximately the same cost as he can rent an apartment of the same size as the house. When he has completed his payments, he lives in the owned home much more cheaply than in rented quarters. Thus, over a period of years, he is money ahead by buying and occupying a home.
17. Beautiful Furnishings. Higher quality furniture and draperies can be purchased because they fit into a decorative scheme that will last for years, instead of having to be changed periodically as one moves about from place to place.
18. No Restrictions on Size of Family. Landlord cannot limit the number of children, or the total number of occupants of the home.
19. Pets. The home owner can have as many pets as he wishes, both indoors and outdoors, without asking anyone's permission.
20. Possible Income. The lot might be utilized financially, such as by building a garage to hold two or more cars, and renting a portion of it.

HISTORY

Repeats - - and Repeats

Take down your history books, go through old newspaper files . . . search wherever happenings of the past are preserved in printed form. What do you find? You find ample evidence that bad times are followed by good.

Right now history is repeating itself. Better times are not coming—they are here! The surest sign of this swing from darkness to light is the strengthening of real estate prices. But in this strengthening lies a warning.

No longer is real estate being thrown on the market at ruinous figures. For some time prices have ceased falling; they have now started to climb. The warning, then, is to those who contemplate ever buying a home. Buy now before prices go higher, because higher they surely are going. In the not distant future, of property purchased now, you will say, "It was a bargain!"
