

LANE REPUBLICAN FORCES READY TO AID IN CAMPAIGN

By SID KING

With financial backing one of the chief "ifs" in political plans this year, it became known here Wednesday that a neat little campaign fund could be raised in Lane county to help Willard Marks, Albany attorney, conduct a campaign if he decided to run. Republican leaders could not say definitely whether a certain sum could be promised or not, but they declared this county could be expected to raise in the neighborhood of $800 and possibly more if it were necessary.

Local republicans consider Marks the most likely choice for governor and expressed the opinion he was the most likely man to defeat the democratic hopes. Lacking Marks, local republicans are expected to give considerable support to Senator Joe E. Dunne, popular throughout the state for his sponsorship of the $5 auto license fee and for his highway activities during recent years.

With Carl Abrams, Salem, avowed candidate for the republican nomination for secretary of state, in Eugene Wednesday, with S. S. George, Eugene, prominent in Legion activities, an avowed candidate and with Elbert Bede, Cottage Grove publisher, expected to announce himself regarding this race Friday or Saturday, the secretary of state ship is attracting considerable attention in Eugene this week.

Bede, spoken of for some time as a possible candidate, is said to be sounding out his strength and at the same time smelling out financial support. Many prominent republicans in the state are said to have favored his candidacy and it is expected some financial support could be expected. Mr. Abrams came to Eugene Tuesday evening for the Rotary convention and later addressed the meeting of veterans at the armory. He is making trips over the state in the interest of his candidacy and says he plans to make an intensive campaign later.

He will file his declaration of candidacy next week. Abrams-for-Secretary clubs are being formed in various parts of the state and the nucleus for such an organization has been formed here, he said.

"With republicans all over the state coming to life and taking an active interest in governmental affairs, I believe we will see a republican party of nearly normal strength at the polls this year," Abrams said. "The republicans are displaying a more united front than for years."

The Salem candidate sees no need for fear of any democratic landslide in any position this year. Earl Hill, Cushman merchant, Wednesday filed his declaration of candidacy for the republican nomination to the lower house in the state legislature at Salem. Mr. Hill announced some time ago he would be a candidate and thus announced himself as a candidate for the speakership of the next house should he be elected.

Mr. Hill was accorded considerable support for this position and in accordance with the general understanding at the legislature, this term's speaker should be elected from this section of the state. It is therefore believed that should Hill be elected he will be a strong contender for this important post in the next legislature.

Missionary Will Speak on Friday

Rev. Elmer H. Dahle, a missionary who has spent nine years in northern Alaska among the Eskimos, will speak in Central Lutheran church Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

He will show moving pictures in connection with his lecture, not only of the missionary accomplishments on the Seward peninsula, but also of such interesting things as reindeer round-ups, Eskimo blanket-tossing, dog teams in action, and the Arctic ice pack on the move toward the north pole.

Rev. Dahle has himself traveled thousands of miles by dogteam, visiting practically all sections of the Seward peninsula in Eskimo land.

Rev. Mr. Dahle says the people of Alaska do not suffer from the cold nearly as much as the people of North Dakota or Minnesota, and that the land of the Eskimos is a delightful place in which to live, and the Eskimo are a congenial people who are eager to learn.

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, March 21.

(AP)—Adventurous Catherine Teresa Carr—who bought two loaves of bread and set out for Canada because she couldn't find a job in Scotland—is recovering in a hospital today from an 11-day Atlantic crossing in a freighter's lifeboat.

Huddled beneath the boat's flimsy canvas covering, she suffered intensely in the bitter cold of a winter passage. Still, not until she was carried yesterday from the Donaldson line freighter Sulairia, did the 24-year-old Irish miss collapse.

Both her feet were frost-bitten and she was weak from hunger and exposure, yet she had clung to consciousness hoping for a chance to creep ashore under cover of darkness and begin life in Canada where it left off when she was deported more than a year ago.

She told officers at the immigration detention hospital—where she was held for deportation—that she worked in London, Ont., five years ago.

She was born in Belfast, Ireland. Her parents are dead. She has spent but little of her life in her native city.

On Friday, at 1:30 o'clock, the county wheat allotment committee will meet at the agent's office to go over details of their work.

MILK, BUTTERFAT REDUCTION PART OF DAIRY PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(AP)—Chester C. Davis, farm administrator, today announced details of the proposed production control for dairy farmers.

The chief features include: reduction by individual farmers of fifteen per cent of their milk and butterfat production from their 1932-1933 total and appropriation of $5,000,000 for relief distribution of surplus milk to underfed children in cities.

Other provisions were transfer of healthy cows from surplus areas to farm families in deficit areas, and use of a $5,000,000 fund for the eradication of tubercular and hang-diseased cattle.

The program was estimated to cost between $165,000,000 and $300,000,000 depending on adoption of pending legislation in congress.

A processing tax starting at one cent per pound on butterfat and advancing to five cents per pound was proposed to finance the program.

Farmers would be paid benefit payments at the rate of about 40 cents for each pound of butterfat which they reduced below their 1932-33 production. This is equivalent to about $1.50 per hundred pounds of fluid milk.

It's on again—Oregon's annual "run" of smelt—and thousands through the banks of the Sandy river. Bird cages, window screens, nets and water buckets are utilized to snare millions of the silvery fish as they wend their way up from the ocean to spawning beds. One young Oregon miss is shown above with part of her catch and her equipment, a willo wbasket and a birdcage.

Japanese Alarmed By Brazilian Plan

TOKIO, March 21.—(AP)—government officials were today as "gravely alarmed" today at a Brazilian move toward inclusion of restrictive measures against Japanese immigration in that nation's constitution.

The situation was compared to that of almost exactly ten years ago when the congress of the United States voted to bar the Japanese.

Brazil in recent years has had the largest outlet to Nippon's plus population. In 1933, 22,210 anese emigrated there.
