Northwest Berry Growers Protest

PORTLAND, Mar. 21.—(P)—Warning that a proposed agricultural adjustment administration marketing agreement for Florida strawberries would put "canned fruit in the junk class," Oregon and Washington growers of berries and small fruit have filed unanimous protest against the code.

Many of them met here Tuesday. Under the Florida agreement, it was declared, only the standard sizes and grades of fresh strawberries could be shipped, although any size or grade could be

Spurlock Case to Come Up This Week

Shipped if frozen or canned. Oregon State college, through its farm extension service, was asked by the growers and canners to protest the Florida marketing agreement to the AAA in Washington, D. C.

Spurlock was indicted by the grand jury on the charge of selling used cars without a license and of forging an instrument in connection with a sales contract.

Slag has been found to be of use to the oyster industry. The problem of finding material to which the young oysters could fasten themselves was solved when some slag was lost overboard from barges.

Do You Know?

Do you know that during the past four years—the worst in the business history of the country—life insurance was able to serve in a larger way than ever in its history?

Do you know that during each succeeding year of the depression life insurance companies paid back more money to the people than ever before?

Do you know that during 1933 alone, more than 3 billion dollars was paid back to those who had planned for it through their life insurance policies?

GET BRUCE BARTON'S NEW BOOKLET

You will learn how such huge payments were made possible, as well as many other things about life insurance, if you will get Bruce Barton's booklet, What I have learned about Life Insurance. Ask your local life insurance man for a free copy or write direct to your own life insurance company.
