

Wheat Advances Cent; Stock Market Slows Up

WOOL UP, MOHAIR DOWN IN EUGENE; BUTTER ADVANCES

Wheat price in Eugene advanced a cent Saturday, recovering slightly the loss sustained early in the week. The buying price on red wheat was quoted at 65 cents, and on white at 59 cents.

Wool prices were also higher. Medium wool was up two cents at 25 cents a pound, and coarse wool made a similar advance to 22 cents. Lamb wool remained unchanged at 22 cents. Mohair price dropped two cents to 15 cents a pound.

Butter and butterfat prices advanced a cent all around in Eugene Saturday. Grade "A" cream, delivered in Eugene at least twice weekly, is quoted at 17 cents, buying price, while grade "B" is now 15 cents.

Wholesale price of "A" grade butter is 25 cents, and "B" grade 24 cents, when in cartons. In parchment wrappers only the price is one cent less on both grades.

There were few changes on the vegetable markets. The general buying price for rhubarb seems definitely settled at 2 cents a pound. Some dealers have been asking half a cent more, but the supply is sufficiently plentiful to warrant nothing over 2 cents.

Spring radishes and onions are getting scarce, and some dealers have been shipping in supplies from Salem most of the week. This is just between the first and second crops of these two vegetables, and a more plentiful supply is expected about the latter part of next week.

Strawberries, locally grown, are still scarce, while there continues a generous supply of California stuff. Local buying price is $2.50 per crate. Asparagus also is scarce. There is no change in the price.

Bellfountain School Boy Hurt in Fall

BELLFOUNTAIN, April 21.—(Special)—Raymond Cook, eighth grade student of Green Peak district, missed his first day of school this year, when he fell from his horse Thursday morning while on his way to school. The lad received a badly fractured leg in the fall and had to crawl over half a mile to the school house for assistance. He arrived at the school house just as school was dismissed and was brought over the mountain in a hack to Miller's mill, and was taken from there to Corvallis in a car to have the break set, and is now recovering at the Corvallis hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Nye (nee Bernice Hull), have moved to Mr. Nye's place near Glenbrook and plan on making their home there. Mr. Nye works at Miller's mill and will motor back and forth to work. Mrs. Nye plans on finishing her year's work at Bellfountain high school.

The Bellfountain W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. LeVaux.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bristow, who have been in Eugene, last winter, have recently returned to their home here after visiting two months at the home of their daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Monroe of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe and baby daughter accompanied them home and visited a few days at the Bristow home here.

Miss Bertha Hull and Chester Oaks were married at Corvallis last Saturday. The young couple will live at Miller's mill, where Mr. Oaks is employed. Mrs. Oaks is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hull. The bridegroom is grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Oaks, old time settlers in this vicinity.

HEILIG "Horseplay" with Jackie Cooper, Saturday only

HEILIG—"Horseplay" with Jackie Cooper, Saturday only. Slim Summerville, Andy Devine.

McDONALD—Double bill, "Jimmy the Gent" with Jimmy Cagney, plus "As the Earth Turns," with Jean Muir. Last day.

COLONIAL—Double bill, "42nd Street," with a host of stars, plus "Only Yesterday," with Margaret Sullavan, John Boles. Last day.

STATE—Double bill, "His Double Life," with Roland Young, plus "Ranger's Code," with Bob Steele. Last day.

The Rex has dispensed with vodvil for this Saturday, and offers two feature pictures, "The World Changes," with Paul Muni, plus "The Lone Cowboy," with Jackie Cooper. Saturday only.

McDonald has snappy double bill in "Jimmy the Gent" and "As the Earth Turns." First is Jimmy Cagney in a new racket, and is rapid fire and amusing. Second is story of Maine country life, well acted and beautifully told. Jean Muir starred.

Colonial's super super and super double bill ends today, featuring "42nd Street" plus "Only Yesterday." First is great musical smash, second touching personal drama, with superb acting. Highly recommended.

Andy Devine and Slim Summerville are starred as a pair of goofy couplepunchers who crash London high society with their faithful white horse and two guns pieces in "Horseplay," comedy at the Heilig. Lieta Hyams furnishes the love interest.

State closes the week today with "His Double Life," lightly amusing little comedy of mistaken identities, acted well and with restraint by Roland Young and Lilian Gish. Double billed with Bob Steele, who fears neither man nor devil, in "The Ranger's Code."

BUTTER PRICE IS UP CENT SATURDAY

PORTLAND, April 21.—(AP)—Further advance of 1c lb. with the exception of firsts which rose 1/2 c. lb. during the weekend session of the produce exchange, reflected increasing strength through the trade with resulting shortage of output.

Decreasing make at California points was taking out practically every pound of surplus that can be spared in the Pacific northwest sector. In the home territory production continued to gain generally, but dealers' floors were cleaned before night and orders were not completely filled.

The fact that all grades advanced 1c except firsts suggested that the action of the state in putting its new grades into effect, has curtailed demand for the lowest grade, which has previously been considered top grade by the unthinking buyers.

Butterfat buying price advanced 1c pound along with butter.

Market for eggs was holding much the same as during the last few days. Little change in either buying or selling prices has been shown during the week. The demand for storage remained favorable.

Chicken prices were well held locally with a shortage of most lines continued here and along the coast. Demand from the south was not being filled here on account of the short supply.

Indication of somewhat better situation was the announcement of Swift and Co. of an advance of 1/2 c. lb. in the selling price on Coquille valley offerings of both triplets and loaf. Oregon Swiss demand was opening above supply.

At the weekend there was a well held price on strawberries with California generally continued around $1.25 crate for 24s, while Oregon was $2 for the best. Quality better all around.

Higher prices have been forced on asparagus as a result of the liberal carload demand from the east which mid-Columbia shippers are making a desperate effort to fill.

First of the 1934 crop of immediate Portland grown strawberries were offered during the weekend session of the east side farmers' wholesale market. Initial supply of gold dollars was brought in from Milwaukee and were of extremely good quality, initially priced $2 crate for 24s. California berries were firmer but again sold $1.25 crate.

STRAWBERRIES AND LETTUCE ON MART

The public market supported the "Buy Lane County Products" wholesaler's Saturday, when a good supply of spring vegetables were on sale, and in addition the first lettuce, and the first strawberries, and the first zucchini of the season were brought in.

Good lettuce was on sale at stalls 50, 70, and 80 Saturday morning at two heads for 15 cents. The quality is unusually good for first stuff, the heads being solid throughout. Never in his 17 years as marketmaster has local lettuce been sold so early in the season. W. A. Ayres stated Saturday morning.

Only a few strawberries were for sale, and still 92 was the only one having berries. The price is two boxes for 25 cents.

Green beans at 10 cents a pound were on sale at stall 71.

Hothouse tomatoes are down to 25 cents a pound at the market now. The quality is uniformly good.

Nek cabbage is off a cent also, 5 cents a head being the current quotation.

Eggs advanced one cent Saturday at the market. The prices now are 19 cents for fresh jumbos, 17 cents for fresh extras, and 15 cents for fresh mediums.
