

AFRAID OF BIG, BAD MOVIE!

Hollywood moguls are gasping since charming June Grubler, daughter of the Chicago White Sox secretary, did the unprecedented, the unbelievable. June, you see, turned down a featured player contract from one of the leading studios. "I'm afraid," she said.

Roosevelt Junior High

Friday, the student council, for the student body, nominated the following eighth-grade students for the student body of the year: Bill Allen and Carlton. President, Ted Harmon and Charles MacLaren, vice-president; Gordon and Alice Glus, secretary; Dale Baker and Mary Handshub, treasurer. The nominees were chosen by election from a large list of seventh and eighth grade students.

The two drama clubs of Roosevelt presented two one-act plays Friday, as the result of a contest held between the two groups. The price of admission was five cents, and the plays were attended by a large audience.

Both plays were short comedies. The first play was "Mother's Day," and the second "Breakfast." The acting was exceptionally well done.

The charter giving Roosevelt Junior High membership in the Junior High Honor Society has been received at the office, and a list of members is now complete. Membership is dependent on the student's grade.

Officers are: Vera Morasch, president; Howard Hall, vice-president; Ann Walker, secretary; Mary Sawyer, Donald Treadwell, Oliver Waller, Madge Weber, and Wilson.

The principals, Mr. Moore and Mrs. Johnson, and the student body of Roosevelt Junior High and the students of University and Eugene high schools, respectively, will go to the ninth grade students to the activities and courses offered at the high schools.

The play, a comedy, concerns the adventures of Cecil and his friends. The play was given by the Roosevelt Junior High School.
