

COMBINED SCHOOLS TO BE CONTINUED FOR ANOTHER YEAR

with this policy, this adjustment will be made as rapidly as is consistent with the welfare of the entire program.

A permanent board of 15 trustees shall be selected as follows: Three to be selected by the Oregon state convention in 1934; three to be selected by the Washington state convention in 1934; two to be selected by the Idaho state convention in 1934; one to be named by the Montana state convention in 1934; three to be named by the merger board not later than August, 1934; six, three from the alumni association of Spokane university and three from the alumni association of Eugene Bible college, to be selected by the merger board not later than August, 1934.

The merger board in order to determine the permanent location of Northwest Christian college campus is to solicit bids from any and all citizens interested.

The merger board is to assemble May 28 and at that time will select the personnel of the 1934-35 faculty. The permanent board of trustees will meet not later than August and will select the officers of the college.

Co-incident with announcement of plans for the school the coming year, announcement is made of the annual commencement exercises, this being the first class from the merged schools. There are 19 in the class this year. Baccalaureate services will be held the coming Sunday, May 27, in the Eugene First Christian church, Rev. W. A. Elkins, Monmouth, formerly of Eugene, to give the sermon.

Commencement will be held Monday, May 28, Dr. J. Warren Hastings, Ph. D., recently named pastor of the University Christian church, Seattle, to give the address. Dr. Hastings is known as one of the outstanding educators in the church today.

Present members of the merger board are Rev. C. A. Johnson, Chelan, Wash.; Rev. Henry Van Winkle, Spokane; John B. Perry, Eugene; Rev. Guy L. Drill, Salem; William V. Barney, Eugene.

In co-operation with Dr. S. Earl Childers, Eugene, president; A. G. Sater of Spokane, chancellor, and Linden G. Leavitt, acting chancellor, the merger board has conducted the affairs of the school the past year.

The board announces that all current expenses have been met and paid promptly, so that the college closes its first year debt-free. An obligation of $977 in debts incurred by the Eugene Bible college was assumed by the merged institution and paid in full.

At present 70 churches are co-operating in the support of this college. The present faculty and personnel is:

President, S. Earl Childers; chancellor, A. G. Sater; acting chancellor, Linden G. Leavitt; Professor V. E. Haven, Professor A. L. Chapman, Dr. R. J. Bennett, Professor Ross Guiley, Professor Velleira, Professor Louis F. Kellems, Mrs. S. E. Stevens.

One hundred and sixty students enrolled in Northwest Christian college, 1933-1934.

During the year 1934-35 it is proposed that the permanent site shall be selected. Already bids have been submitted by Salem, Seattle and Spokane. To accommodate students' needs for the year 1934-35, several changes will be made in present housing arrangements.

"Northwest Christian college will operate without a deficit and will pay all current bills promptly, and thus maintain the present standards," Mr. Leavitt said.

The college paper, formerly known as "World Evangel" will be published under the name "Northwest Christian" and each month will carry a complete statement of the financial standing of the college.

The officers of Northwest Christian college will be elected and installed before school begins next fall.

It is planned that the Northwest Christian college male quartet shall be used this summer in acquiring the brotherhood with the policy and program of the college. Already numerous applications have come from students desiring to enroll next year. At present the prospects indicate that next year's student body shall be the largest in the school for many years, Mr. Leavitt added.

the recent Lane County musical contest held in Eugene. Only encouragement and leadership are needed to rouse this response, she pointed out.

Speaking on "The Value of Music in a College Education," Dean U. G. Dubach, dean of men at Oregon State college, pointed out the training in poise and leadership ability that performance before audiences gives college students. He also cited the great cultural value that comes to the students through development of appreciation for the finer things of life.

During the business session those present unanimously passed a resolution expressing appreciation to the association's president, Frederick W. Goodrich, of Portland. Another resolution commended the music work now being done at the University of Oregon, Oregon State college, and in Portland schools.

During the afternoon study classes in piano, orchestral instruments, and voice were held. An unusually interesting feature was a program of works by Oregon composers.

A bright future for the symphony orchestra, as well as for music in general, was predicted by Delta M. Spencer, manager of the Portland symphony orchestra, who talked on "The Symphony Orchestra Today and Tomorrow," during the afternoon session. Creative music has a definite place in the teaching field, and should be given every encouragement, it was declared by Ethel Miller Bradley, president of the Society of Oregon Composers.

Evening events will include the annual banquet to be held at the Osburn hotel at 8:30, and a concert by the University of Oregon symphony orchestra, combined University of Oregon polyphonic choir and Oregon State college choir, Alicia McElroy.

County party organization work will get under way next month with the republican and democratic central committees meeting to elect officers and complete other organization details.

Harris Calls Meeting The republican central committee will meet at the county court house June 2, at 2 o'clock. It was announced by Dr. M. C. Harris, chairman. The democratic meeting has not been scheduled yet, according to Edward F. Bailey, chairman. The democrats probably will meet early in June, he said.

Local political observers were taking much interest in the circuit judge race in this district Monday and considerable comment was aroused over the question as to whether or not the results of the primary vote were final.

Three Held Elected Some held that the three highest men were elected and would not go before the voters next November, while others held that since the primary election was in effect a caucus it could not be considered an election and that therefore the three highest would have to be voted on again in November. Still others held that only those candidates receiving majority votes could be considered elected in the primary and that therefore the two low candidates must again appear on the November ballot. In the latter case, Wimberly and Eddy would again be before the voters in November.

In an unofficial opinion given by Attorney General Van Winkle Monday, it was held that the three high men were elected and would not be voted on in November. The opinion stated that "in this case, only in the event of seven or more running for three places would there be a race for election between the high six in November."

Honey Parfait 4 whole eggs or yolks of 8 eggs beaten thoroughly. 1 cup strained honey. Put in a double boiler and cook until real thick stirring constantly. Cool and stir into this 1 pint cream, whip and very stiff. Pack in freezer with equal parts of salt and ice and stand four hours or freeze in electric refrigerator. This is very nice for the summer season to serve at parties or at meal time.—Mrs. James A. Welch, 1397 Lincoln street, Eugene.

Honey Butter 2 parts honey; 1 part butter. Let stand in room temperature until butter is soft. Add honey to butter and stir until perfectly blended. Place in glass jar which can be tightly covered and stand in refrigerator. Uses for honey butter: Blend with chopped nuts as simple topping for sponge cakes. As a service for hot biscuits, griddle cakes, waffles, etc., instead of serving honey and butter separately. Delicious on nut bread for tea and the "best yet" for steamed puddings in place of hard sauce.—David F. Knox, Route 3, Eugene.

IS MONOPOLY SUPPORTED? The board expressed the hope that when the next report is issued, it will not be held up for NRA men to answer and "pervert" but, that if that is done "we shall insist that at the same time opportunity be given to use to answer Mr. Richberg's misstatements, correct his errors and at least try to draw his attention to the realities of the issues involved.

"Finally, one question: Does the administration wish to be understood as supporting monopolies?" The board suggested that the "explosions" from Johnson and Richberg "might be deemed to justify such a thought."

SOCIALISM ADVOCATED WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt apparently intends to let the Darrow board finish its task of investigating whether there have been monopolistic practices under NRA.

It submitted a partial report last night exhorting the NRA. Clarence Darrow, the chairman of a defense member, advocated government ownership and control of industry.

Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator, who issued a statement in reply to the report, has demanded the immediate abolition of the board. The board, which had been asked by President Roosevelt to review the practices of the National Recovery Administration, staked at the breach of NRA's principles of industrial codes by saying:

"All competition is savage, wasteful and relentless, and can be nothing else. One may as well dream of making war ladylike as of making competition fair."

The socialistic alternative of government ownership was suggested in a supplementary report signed by Darrow, 77-year-old lawyer, and other board members—William G. Thompson of Chicago, former partner of Darrow. It said:

"The choice is between monopoly sustained by government, which is clearly the trend in the National Recovery Administration, and a planned economy, which demands socialist ownership and control.

"The hope of the American people... lies in wise planned use of America's resources following socialization."

One member of the board dissented from the Darrow findings in a minority report. This member, John F. Sinclair, now resigned, denounced the conduct of the majority and labelled its findings as "at times misleading and unreliable."

investigation it had concluded that monopolistic practices existed in certain industries and that small enterprises were oppressed.

These findings, said the statement, were not answered by Johnson and his officials.

The board said that Johnson and Richberg, "apparently are under the impression that the national recovery act is their personal property, break into shrieks of rage at the suggestion that operations are not perfect or are susceptible of improvement."
