Weather Forekash—
The weather in the Cascade mountains has been freakish lately. P. A. Thompson, supervisor of the Willamette national forest, observed Friday. Many different times during the past month the humidity has reached a very low point and danger of forest fire was apparent, but in a day or so rain would come. There has been no thunder and lightning in the mountains than usual so far.
Pleat Plans Go Ahead—
Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, the plans for the Obsidian picnic at the Dorr Hamlin orchard at 8:30 this Friday evening are going ahead. The orchard is located north of the city, across the river, and to reach there the first road to the right of the Ferry street bridge is taken. Obsidian arrows will direct the picnickers the rest of the way.
Pleas Taken Off—
The several firemen sent out to different points in the Siuslaw national forest during the last dry spell have been called in again, according to R. S. Kelley, supervisor. While the rain has not been heavy in the forest lately, it has been sufficient to wet the ferns and underbrush thoroughly.
In Charge Saturday—

There's a RAINBOW in your Coffee!

Strange as it may seem, your cup of mellow'd coffee and a rainbow have much in common.
In the rainbow many separate and distinct colors melt or blend into one another to form beauty in its rarest form—a joy to the eye.
In your cup of S&W Mellow'd Coffee, many separate and distinct varieties of rare coffees, each as individual as the colors in a rainbow, are blended with one another to create a master blend—full, rich, mellow'd—flavor in its rarest form—a joy to the taste.
That is why there is only one mellow'd coffee, only one. S&W!
