Life Sentence Is Given to Barnes

BEND, Ore., June 1.—(Special)—A sentence of life imprisonment was imposed on James T. Barnes here yesterday for the slaying last April 29 of Knut Dundin, Lapine rancher. The court denied a defense motion to set aside the verdict of the jury. The motion was based on the contention jurors misbehaved while inspecting premises and that the court failed to instruct the jury properly on self-defense and on contention that enlarged photographs of bullets introduced in evidence were improper.
