GIRLS' LEAGUE

Dinty's Bike Shop	0	1,000
Register-Guard	0	1,000
McDonald Theater	0	1,000
Hellig Theater	0	1,000

A triple program of softball awaits Eugene fans tonight at Hayward field, with the McDonald Theater and Hellig Theater teams tussling in the Register-Guard-Dinty's Bike Shop girls' league game at 6:45, the College Boat Shop meeting Elliott's at 8:30, and Dinty's vying with the Active club at 9:30.

The two girls' teams will be playing their first game of the season, and the winner will go into a tie with Dinty's for the league lead. The Bike girls edged out the Register-Guard club Monday evening 3 to 0 in the season opener.

The nightball clashes will be for cellar honors, since all four teams slated to play have lost at least one game. Should the Boot Shop defeat Elliott's, they will move into fourth place ahead of the K. of C., while a loss will drop them into a fifth place tie. The loser of the Dinty's Active meet will have the cellar reserved.

Chuck Wishard, manager of the nightball contests, expects a large crowd Wednesday evening, for the games under the lights are a decided novelty here, and provide the most exciting entertainment of any summer sport. Many hardball stars are enrolled on the rosters of the competing clubs, and the tilts are fast, combining the skill of the older sport with the speed and flashiness of the newer.

Admission is only a dime, and seats are in the east grandstand, providing an excellent view of the field and comfortable accommodations for spectators. The games are run off rapidly, and there are no long waits.

SPANISH DON WILL MEET COWPUNCHER

Attention, lady wrestling fans! While New York girls feast their eyes on the attractions of Playboy Max Baer in his title fight Thursday night, local women get a break in the appearance here of Don Pascual Castillo, handsome Spanish wrestler, who will meet Cowboy Heinz in the opener of Herb Owen's mat card.

The Don, born and raised in Spain, is of pure Castilian blood, appeared in Portland and Salem Monday and Tuesday evenings, and proved a sensation. "Fana needn't be afraid of another Eddie McMillen when Castillo appears here," Herb Owen announced Wednesday. "He's one of the fastest, trickiest and most sensational grapplers I have ever seen in action. He knows all the ropes of the mat game, wrestles clean, and is faster than a snake.

Castillo will match his clean wrestling, beautiful physique and flashing smile against one of the roughest, and, incidentally, most unlovely grapplers in the ring when he meets Heinz. The Cowboy has tumbled more than one handsome swain, however, and the Don will know he's been in a wrestling match before the night is over.

The bout will be of 30 minutes duration, and will be followed by a 45 minute fray between Noel Franklin, Hill military wrestling instructor, and Del Kunkle, Salt Lake flash, who is on a par with Castillo in mat brilliance.

The main event, Walt Achin's farewell appearance, is to be a six-man battle royal, with the Chinaman, Don Sugar, Henry Hill, Popeye Kirk, Jack Curtiss and the one and only Bulldog Jackson mixing.

FINE PITCHING IS SOFTBALL FEATURE

Two-hit pitching featured two of the three twilight softball tilts last evening, with Big-Five, Farmers' Creamery and Habb's coming out on top in the melees.

Fresh, Big-Five chucker, allowed two bingles, and was given fine support at bat, as his team hammered out a 12-5 decision over Eddie's team, as 12-5 victory, as Erik Callison, coach, allowed but 2 hits. Frank Callison and Gene Shields proved the hitting stars, and the whole team functioned smoothly afield, making no errors.

A swarm of University athletes and coaches proved too much for Kimball's and Habb's wailed away with an 8-0 victory, as Erik Callison, coach, allowed but 2 hits. Frank Callison and Gene Shields proved the hitting stars, and the whole team functioned smoothly afield, making no errors.

WHEN ROSS WON WELTER TITLE!

Here's an action shot of Barney Ross, the Chicago brawler, putting Jimmy McLarnin on the floor in the world welterweight title fight held recently in the East. Ross dethroned McLarnin for the crown, and became the first fighter to hold three championships. The complete round by round motion pictures of the fight will be seen on the McDonald screen Thursday.

HIGHCLIMBER TALKS 'EM OVER

By RICHARD JOHNSTON
This is, we discover, the day that this department puts its head on the block and marches like a lamb to the slaughter. We're a sucker for punishment. We picked the Cincinnati Reds to win the pennant in the National league. We picked Stanford to beat Columbia 40 points.

And today, we're picking the winner—all it that, folks, just out of courtesy—of the Primo Carnera-Max Baer fight Thursday night for the heavyweight championship of the world. Of course, the man we're about to name will labor under a terrific handicap. A jinx akin to walking under a baker's dozen of ladders and a circus tent full of black cats. But we brave, and we hope he is.

Primo Carnera will win the fight. He'll win it by a decision, or a technical kayo. There will be no knockdowns. Baer will win the first five or six rounds, Carnera the last five or six. That's right, Jasper, six and six don't make 12. But the in-between rounds will be even. Very simple, Watson.

Carnera will get the decision, unless Gimboot Smith referees, by virtue of a stronger finish. Baer may totter himself into a loss by technical kayo in the last round or two, depending on what his condition actually is.

Why do we pick Carnera? Because he is in better shape. Which is no holonym, incidentally. The long line of slightly odorous hokey which has emanated from

New York with regard to Baer's pitiful condition, has not influenced our vote. Max Baer is not on the verge of a complete breakdown. He's in pretty good shape, compared to the average night-club playboy. But like all night-club playboys, no matter how much they punch a bag and shadow box in daylight hours, he's not in good enough shape to beat a man who has trained industriously in the north woods.

We're basing our choice on a talk ex-champ was in Eugene last fall. Said the Man Mauder, "If Max Baer will train hard for six months, cutting out the women and the liquor and the gay times, he MAY beat Primo Carnera."

Max Baer has not trained for six months. He has not cut out the women and the liquor. Although he's gone through the motions of training, he hasn't worked at it. And because of this, on the word of Jack Dempsey, who should be partial, if anything, to Baer, since he owns part of him, we're picking Carnera.

Carnera has trained. He's in perfect condition. He'll outweigh his opponent 50 pounds. He'll wrestle Baer from ring post to ring post, and Mighty Maxie will be at the end of his endurance 10 rounds after the fight opens.

Carnera may not have a dynamite sock. But he's hard to hurt, and he's in shape. And against an opponent that isn't, he's a logical choice for victory.

PAUL RINGS UP 15TH WIN FOR DEAN BOYS

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—A hefty moral lesson concerning the effect of an increase in wages upon curb ball pitching is now being demonstrated by the collaborating Dean boys at St. Louis.

Yesterday the younger Dean, Paul, turned in the Cards' 30th win of the season. He beat Boston, 7-3, registering the 15th triumph by the amalgamated association of Deans, and the seventh he and brother Jerome have accomplished since they returned from a strike for an extra two grand on Paul's pay check.

The Giants' bombing force was in action again in Cincinnati, taking the Redlegs in the series starter, 12-1. The Giants held their advantage of a game and a half over the Cards and two games over the Cubs, who won 6 to 5 over the Phillies.

Chuck Klein joining Zeké Bonura, Mel Ott and Lou Gehrig at the top of the home run brigade, piling out his 15th in one-third with two on.

The Pirates suffered the only setback, among the leaders, at the hands of Brooklyn, 9-7.

Detroit was the only active group on the American front, and the Tigers took advantage of a rainy day in New York to enhance their position at the top of the loop by a half game. The Yankees managed to get a 3-1 lead in the fourth when the down-pour came, voiding that effort. All other teams were washed out. Detroit won 4 to 2 with the Red Sox as victims.

BIG GATE EXPECTED FOR CARNERA-BAER BOUT ON THURSDAY

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Late returns from Madison Square Garden's box office indicate tomorrow night's Carnera-Baer heavy-weight championship fight may attract a gate of nearly $740,000.

This would be the largest since the first Sharkey-Schmeling fight in 1930, which drew $740,000.

Ticket sale "Amazing"

Despite unfavorable publicity, and unfavorable weather during the past 24 hours, the advance ticket sale is simply "amazing" according to the Garden. Slightly more than $250,000 in cash and about $45,000 in assured reservations were in the safe last night.

Similarly the betting tempo has speeded up. Such a plethore of Baer money swept into New York yesterday that Jack Doyle, veteran commissioner, temporarily quit taking Baer bets. He wanted more Carnera money to show, to balance his book.

Doyle's overnight odds still had Carnera the favorite. He offered 13 to 20 against Primo winning, and 11 to 10 against Maxie taking the title. He expected to be offered even money or less against Baer's winning before nightfall.

In knockout betting, the challenger is favored. Doyle offers 2 to 1 against Maxie winning by a kayo, and 2 1/2 to 1 against the champion putting Maxie to sleep. The betting is 2 to 1 that if the fight goes 15 rounds, Carnera will win the decision.

Meanwhile Carnera remained in his camp at Pompton Lakes, N. J. He will come to town tomorrow for the weighing in ceremony at 1 p. m. (EST). Baer is believed to be at his camp in Asbury Park, N. Y., although unconfirmed reports had the Livermore Larriper hiding out in a New York residence. Both will be given their third physical examination when they weigh in.

BEVOS DIDN'T LOSE! TILT IS POSTPONED

(By United Press)
The Los Angeles Angels were off today on another winning week, promising to widen the 1 1/2 game lead they already hold in the lopsided Pacific Coast league pennant chase.

The Angels got a running start on another series conquest by defeating Oakland, 6-1, in yesterday's tilt. Garland held the Cubs to three hits, including a homer by Anton. Lillard's homer was one of the nine hits the winners collected from Jim Rego and Salinas.

Sacramento strengthened its grasp on third place by defeating the San Francisco Seals, 2-1, in a duel between Lou Vinici of the Senators and Young Ken Sheehan. Vinici allowed only four hits, while Sacramento found Sheehan for eight.

These games were the only contests in the league yesterday. The Portland club was unable to reach Hollywood on time to open its stretch and wet weather forced postponement of the Mission Reds-Seattle clash.

Russian Rasser Slammed to Sleep

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—(AP)—Count George Zaryoff of Russia, heavyweight wrestler, was under observation today for injuries he suffered when thrown bodily from a ring last night by Vic Cristy of Sunland, Calif.

Zaryoff struck on the edge of the ring platform, and partial paralysis and temporary blindness resulted. Since he could not continue, Cristy was given the decision. Zaryoff had scored the first and only actual fall.

NEW CROP CLOVER HAY BEING BOUGHT HERE FOR $7 TON

The Eugene Townies are going through intensive practice this week for their encounter with the Bend Elks at the Lane county fairgrounds next Sunday.

Last Sunday's game with Albany was the first of a five home day stand so that Eugene fans will be able to see the Townies in four more successive games at the Lane county fairgrounds.

The Albany tilt was featured by the good pitching of Bob Whitshire together with the excellent catching of Dick Bishop, also the good defensive playing of the entire ball club. The Bend game will probably see Hay Koch at second. Last Sunday he was on the bench due to the fact he had dislocated his knee in a game in Portland on Saturday, but with a week's rest and some medical care he will be able to give a credible performance at the keystone sack.

SPECULATORS KEEP BUTTER PRICE LOW

PORTLAND, June 12.—(AP)—With the churn decrease at practically all local points and decreased output suggested along the Pacific slope, demand for butter upon the open market remained quiet active but efforts were still being successfully made by speculative interests to keep the price down.

There remained steady tone and price in the butterfat market, but country stations in general were reported as paying a fractional increase. Many of them did not go down when officially notified of the recent Portland cut.

Market situation for eggs continued good within the local sector and in fact along the coast generally. Portland prices remained the lowest of the leading markets of the country.

Small demand was showing in the northwest for live chickens. Hot weather together with filled up batteries of leading killers were chief factors not only against the demand, but the price.

Higher prices were being named for sweeteners here with a shortage of total offerings and an especial scarcity of large quality fruit. Other berries were about steady.

Leading growers confirm severe damage to the currant crop as a result of aphid and Hessian fly, which are said to have destroyed much of the bloom. Crop is estimated about half of normal.
