

SALES OF STORAGE EGGS HURTS TRADE

PORTLAND, June 28.—(P)—Pres. ent lack of uniformity in the egg market price list here is considered by trade leaders as due to the greatly mixed quality of offerings. Extra grade literally means nothing today in the local trade. Complaints of consumers against receiving storage eggs when paying for extras were increasing and this has hurt sales in some directions.

Formation of a committee to study the egg market and grading rules months ago has failed to improve the situation.

There was no change in the butter trade locally for the day on the open market with speculative interests still trying to buy, although throwing a scare into the trade by talking foreign imports.

Higher prices were being received for live chickens by commission handlers. There was a keen demand all along the line.

There was a trifle easier tone in the market for country killed calves, some of the recent strength disappearing. Sales in general for tops were not above 13 1/2c lb.

Market for country killed hogs was ruling firm with best killers reported at a dime. Lambs were steady but there was a firmer tone and even advance in price for ewes. Yearlings were nominally quoted.

All berries with the exception of strawberries were a trifle weak for the day.

Wool Trade Quiet

BOSTON, June 28.—(P)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Trade in wool remained very quiet in Boston. Mill buyers continued to look around the market for the purpose of examining the new wools that arrive, but they were not making commitments in most cases. Scattered small sales were closed on fleeces. Strictly combing 55s, 60s, 1/4 blood Ohio fleeces sold at 30-32 cents in the grease, some realizing the maximum figure. Strictly combing 55s, 3-8 blood moved occasionally at 32-33 cents.
