BUSINESS PICKUP IS SLOWED DOWN
NEW YORK, July 6.—(AP)—The warm weather of the last week stimulated various lines of retail trade, said the Dun & Bradstreet weekly trade review today. As against this gain, the agency pointed out that wholesale markets turned suddenly quieter "and because of the holiday shutdowns and seasonal factors the sharpest reduction of the year was recorded for industrial operations."
The review asserted that "while the course of production during the third quarter may strike full seasonal recession in a number of instances, particularly where sizeable stocks have been accumulated during the last four months, progress being made on new financing proposals may change the outlook in the next few weeks."
"Volume of wholesale business was under that for the opening week of July last year, when a rush of buying was in evidence to forestall NRA and AAA price advances."

Officers Hunting Local Embezzlers
State and county officers continued search Friday for clues which would help locate C. H. "Jack" Jones and Frank Filipiak, wanted here on charges of theft and bad checks.
Filipiak, camp clerk at Helikan 3-C camp, is sought for making away with nearly $500 of camp funds Wednesday night. He will face federal charges if caught. Jones, who made away with several hundred dollars belonging to the Best Cleaners, where he had been employed, also faces bad check charges, having given one toward the purchase of a used sedan from the Valley Chevrolet company. Jones is said to have had another car here and to have hired a mechanic to work on it where he had been staying instead of taking it to a garage. This car, said to have had a California license, is now missing as well as a woman companion with whom he had spent considerable time while here.
5 ON DEATH LIST
SALEM, July 6.—(AP)—Five deaths out of a total of 532 accidents in Oregon industries during the past week were listed in the report of the state industrial accident commission released today.
Spores that attack potatoes, tomatoes, and fruit crops, travel through the air at a height of approximately 18,000 feet.

BEDE IS SPEAKER AT FORUM LUNCHEON
"What a Chamber of Commerce Does," was the subject of a talk given by Elbert Bede, secretary of the Cottage Grove chamber of commerce, at the regular weekly forum luncheon of the Eugene chamber at McCrady's cafe Friday. The program was arranged by the Cottage Grove chamber which sent a large delegation to the meeting.
In outlining the work of a chamber of commerce, Mr. Bede summarized the activities of the Cottage Grove chamber for the past year, as follows: Sponsored an active road campaign and obtained a good road into the Bohemia mining district; sponsored a Four-H club fair; arranged entertainment for CCC camps; organized producers of the Cottage Grove area; conducted monthly sales days; conducted an "earwig week" during which an estimated ten million earwigs were killed.
Mr. Bede was introduced by O. V. Brees, president of the Cottage Grove chamber, who also introduced other Chamber members at the meeting.
The next meeting of the forum will be at the Del Rey cafe, Stanley R. Stevenson, chamber president, announced.

Pageant Whiskers To Be Judged Here On Saturday Night
Stubble-growing members of the Unadorned Association of Bushwackers will hold their first official meeting Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the Bushwacker stage at Eighth and Willamette streets at which time prizes for the best (or worse) whiskers will be distributed. It was announced Friday by the pageant whisker committee.
Bushwackers of Eugene, Cottage Grove, Oakridge, Westfir, Junction City, Croxwell, and Florence and other parts of Lane county are urged to be present for the whisker judging which will be done by R. S. Bryson, Dan Johnston and Judge E. O. Potter.
Numerous prizes are to be awarded winners of the contest. The first prize for the best whiskers of Eugene will be a tailor-made suit donated by Sherman the Tailor. For out-of-town bushwackers, the prizes are first, two top-price tickets to the pageant; second, one $1.05 ticket to the pageant; and third, one $1.10 ticket to the show.
A noon, the temperature of the moon is hotter than boiling water, but it falls to several hundred degrees below zero at night.
