

DROUGHT ATTRACTS EAST'S ATTENTION TO DAM PROJECTS

By H. C. HUNTER
Associated Press Pacific Northwest Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The drought in the midwest is turning attention of observers to the irrigation and reclamation developments in the far west.

It is freely predicted here that the grand coulee project on the Columbia river in central Washington, originally a power project, will provide irrigation water for 1,200,000 acres of arid land.

The president's visit to the Bonneville project on the Columbia river above Portland and to the Grand Coulee has turned the eyes of the east in that direction. While protests against such developments, and especially against placing of more lands under cultivation, continue to be heard, they are much less violent than they have been in the past.

Whenever irrigation in the vicinity of the Grand Coulee is mentioned by officials, it always is pointed out that such a development would naturally cover a period of at least 25 years and therefore would in no way add to the over production of farm commodities, a situation that has been the government's "sore thumb" for several years.

Inasmuch as Bonneville and Grand Coulee are closely linked by easterners, whenever the subject is approached by officials it is pointed out that Bonneville is solely a power and navigation development and its use for reclaiming of arid land is not yet contemplated.

But the reclamation angle is not the only one on which the two big projects meet with eastern disapproval. A great many persons point out that additional power is not needed, citing figures to show there is a 25 per cent surplus of electrical energy in this country at the present time.

"What are they going to do with all that power once they get it," is a question which is often asked.

And this question generally invokes the answer that it will be at least five years before any material amount of power will be thrown onto the market from those sources, and by that time there will be ample demand for it.

HARLOWS, TANDYS, SNELLINGS RALLY

The Harlow-Tandy-Snellings reunion was held Sunday at the Armitage grove with 122 present. During the afternoon sketches of the lives of Mahlon H. Harlow, Sr. and George B. Day, Sr., were read. Officers of the preceding year were re-elected: President, Mahlon Harlow; vice-president, Edwin Bushnell; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charles Taylor; assistant secretary-treasurer, Miss Daye Marshall.

Of unusual interest was the fact that Mrs. Margaret Peters, 80 years of age, rode from Centerville, Wash., to Eugene Saturday evening to attend the reunion and left Sunday afternoon for the return trip to Centerville.

Among those present were: Mahlon H. Harlow, Bessie Harlow, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harlow, Mrs. Clifton Harlow and daughter Shirley Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Will Bushnell, Mr. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George Saunders, Pat, Carol, George, Gerald, Palmer and Jack Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adler, Joanne and Bobby Adler, of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ayers, Harold Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haley, Donna Mae Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cox, Mrs. Landa Ayers, Lucille Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. John Walls, Mary Alice Sutton, Mrs. Ida Ayers of Prineville, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCormie, Harriette and Bobby McCormie of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Godfrey, Barbara Frances Godfrey, Cal Young, Mrs. Charles Rosen, Mrs. Naomi Burch of Myrtle Creek, Rev. and Mrs. J. Franklin Day, Owen T. Day of Selma, Cal., Mrs. Frances Stearns, Harry Stearns, Lora and Nora Stearns, Mrs. R. L. Scheer of Prineville, Mrs. W. M. Marshall, Daye Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Marshall, Robert, Duane, Anne Marshall, Mrs. S. Naomi Brown of Pasadena, Cal., Mahlon H. Day of Portland, Mrs. Margaret Peters, Paul Peters of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peters, Arthur Jr., Pauline, Billy Peters of Lebanon, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Abshier, Joel Jr. and Paul Abshier of Centerville, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Norton Peters, Mahlon, Jane Alice, Marjorie, Byron, Donald, Jimmy Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Cutting Calef, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Stout, Jacky Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Calef, Fred Calef, Ernest Calef of Monmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Averill of Pendleton, Martha Calef, Mrs. Calef, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Calef, Ira Herbert, Frances, Guerdal, Naomi and Gordon Calef, Mr. and Mrs.

Strange Sea-life Observed by Beebe In 2500 Foot Dive

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Having already set a new deep sea diving record in his metal ball, Dr. William Beebe was quoted today by the National Geographic society as saying that perhaps early next week he planned to go a little deeper.

After telling of Dr. Beebe's descent to 2,510 feet depth, the society added that a deeper descent would be made. It quoted the doctor as saying:

"I have never seen so much stuff in my life, and new stuff too. Much of it is entirely different from that which we observed during previous dives.

"It is the silliest thing in the world to attempt to describe it in a few words, but we saw more fish and larger fish than during any other dive.

"Every dive convinces me of the futility of trying to get the true idea of deep-sea diving life through dragging nets. Many deep sea creatures are such rapid swimmers that they can easily get away from nets.

"One of the most amazing finds of the day was a flesh colored fish which I observed near the 2,500 foot level. We have never caught any fish from this depth."

Dr. Otis Barton, who descended in the bathysphere with Dr. Beebe, the society said, exposed 25 feet of motion picture film at the lowest point of the dive but was uncertain about the results.

Relief For Coast's Flax Men Promised

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The AAA acted today to assure Pacific coast flax growers a market for their 1934 crop of which about 40 per cent is unsold.

It ruled that coast flaxseed crushing firms not having quotas under the licensed oil manufacturing code would be granted allotments if they purchased "sufficient" quantities of California and Arizona flaxseed.

Pacific coast flax production this year is estimated at about 200,000 bushels, of which 100,000 have not been marketed.

Anti-Jewish Threat Closes Algeria Fair

PARIS, Aug. 13.—(AP)—(Jewish Telegraph Agency) French authorities at Bone, Algeria, today cancelled the weekly fair in the city, fearing an anti-Jewish outbreak, it was reported today.

All Jewish shops were ordered closed. Moslem troops, who form part of the local garrison, were disarmed and locked up in their barracks. European troops, including marines from the French battleships Matelot and Lellang, are patrolling the streets.

MRS. F. D. RESTS

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Miss Nancy Cook, her traveling companion, were believed today to be at the summer camp of Reinald Werrenrath at Short Chazy lake. It is known the president's wife was expected there for a week's vacation. The camp is closely guarded and practically inaccessible.

Mountaineers Are Freed of Murder Charges in South

WILKESBORO, N. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A mountain family of five was acquitted today of conspiracy to murder Leoda Childress, 18 year old adopted member of their household.

Freedom came suddenly and dramatically for the defendants on a directed verdict of "not guilty," with the court room full of spectators, mostly bewhiskered mountaineers.

There was no sound. The five, grim and taciturn as they had been throughout the week of the trial, showed no emotion.

The defendants sat in a row behind their array of counsel. In the center was Warwick W. Tilley, 60, patriarch of the family, a robust farmer in overalls; his shoulders high, gaze unflinching.

Beside him was his 58 year old wife, a bespectacled little woman with watery blue eyes; Luther Tilley, their 32 year old son, Luther's wife Minerva, 30 and 18-year-old Clyde, youngest son of the household of which Leoda was an adopted daughter.

For the elder Tilleys and Clyde it meant release from the little jail they have occupied for six months. Minerva has been free on bond and Luther still faces charges in connection with the slaying of Andrew Eldridge seven years ago.

U. OF WASHINGTON GETS REGROUPING OF ALL DIVISIONS

SEATTLE, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Creation of the "university college" and general regrouping of the University of Washington academic divisions were announced today by President Lee Paul Sizemore.

Dr. Edward H. Lauer, newly-appointed dean of faculties, also will be dean of the university college. He will be administrative head of all departments offering instruction in general studies, and all departments of "semi-professional" nature.

The college of science and the college of liberal arts will be administered through the university college. The university college will be coordinated with the professional schools and colleges, whose general activity will not change. They are the schools of law and education, the business, forestry and pharmacy and the graduate school.

Departments in the division of general studies will report directly to Dean Lauer for administrative purposes. Departments in the semi-professional studies division will report to Dean Lauer, present dean of the college of science.

To assist university college students in planning their courses of study, a program of student guidance has been created under Dean Davis Thompson, dean of student academic guidance.

About 8,000 students are expected to register for the fall quarter.

The university college was recommended last spring in the report of a faculty committee, which ended lengthy study of university reorganization with the proposal of the college to teach unclassified students and those without a definite educational plan.

Medford Writer's Comedy Tried Out

Word has been received by friends here that a three act comedy written by Miss Helen Norris, of Medford, was presented by Hollywood professionals at the Hollywood Studios theater three evenings last week.

Miss Norris, who wrote the first plays for radio in this country, is a member of Pot and Quill. The comedy was her first attempt in this field of writing and received high praise from Hollywood critics. The director was Harry Stafford, Belasco's manager for the stage and screen success "Let Us Be Gay."

Bride, Paramour Arrested, Flee; How About Hubby?

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A fledging bride is on her way to Reno today to mend a romance broken here on the stern rocks of justice. The bride of a day is Mary Lou Engstrom, wife of a Seattle musician, who fled from her husband on the day of her marriage to join a former sweetheart, Richmond Hurd, also of Seattle.

Arrested here yesterday on a cohabitation charge, Hurd was fined $100 and was placed on probation for six months. Sentence on the woman was suspended for a period of six months.

The court was told by jurd that the woman was married at Portland recently to a night club musician. A few hours after the marriage, however, she changed her mind, the court was informed, and left her husband while he was at his work with an orchestra. She and Hurd, it was stated, went to Seattle, and then came to Roseburg about two weeks ago, after her husband had followed them to Seattle. Since arriving here they have been living as man and wife at a local hotel and were working, they stated, to secure money to go to Reno where the woman expects to secure an annulment of the marriage, after which she expects to wed Hurd, according to their statement.

The couple was advised by the court to separate until after the divorce is procured and until they can be legally married. They will be required to report weekly by letter until the period of probation expires.

Mrs. Engstrom left immediately by stage for Reno, while Hurd announced his intention of going to California where he states he has promise of employment.

Negro Good Trader But Honest, Too

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—(AP)—An American gas buzzy rattled up to the gates of the Century of Progress Exposition today.

With great dignity Mr. Jefferson Boyle, negro, disembarked and hailed from Memphis, Tenn., he said and would like to trade some gas for a ticket to the fair.

Boyle hoisted several alphas from his car and an attendant offered him three tickets.

"No ma'am, I don't want three tickets, just one," Boyle protested, "I got to go back tonight."

Then, just inside the gate, he marked confidentially: "Them huns ain't fitten to see no how. They're 'most as old as my own

89 Poles Deported From French Mine

LE FOREST, France, Aug. 13.—(AP)—With tears in their eyes, a good meal under their belts and a present of 300 francs (about $19) each in their pockets, 80 Polish miners, accompanied by their families, were started for home today by French authorities.

The Poles—about 200 altogether counting women and children—were deported as punishment for the strike early this week in which they held French miners at the bottom of a pit as "hostages."

They had talked of rioting when told they would be deported, but a heavy guard, coupled with a free meal and the cash bonus from the mining company, calmed the situation, and all went peacefully.

The strike was a fantastic affair, the Poles themselves being in as bad a situation as their hostages at the bottom of a 1,000-foot shaft. Hunger and thirst drove them to climb up the long ladders and surrender after two days and a night.

COPS TO SWING CLUBS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Now that the waterfront strike is over, police departments in Portland and Seattle can turn their attention to their real business in life. Golf teams representing the two cities will meet here next Thursday. It was announced today. Captain of Del Norte Miller will lead the Seattle squad, while Captain West leads the Portlanders.
