Your Preference

Mediocrity stifles and defeats its victims, and is becoming increasingly disappointing as modern machines and methods prevail.

If you like the automobile as contrasted with its outdone competitor, the horse——and if you prefer your mail by air in less than half the train's time—

—if you thing an adding machine preferable to "running the columns"—

—or a typewriter superior to a pen—

—then you will be interested in the STENOTYPE—the modern machine that compares to the pencil as the typewriter to the pen, or the automobile to Dobbin.

The STENOTYPE will give you the advantage of superiority.

We are now organizing a new class to start soon—limited to a small number. Let us give you a free lesson and demonstration—and advise you frankly about taking up this new profession.
