

"Gay Divorcee" With Astaire, Rogers at Heilig; State Has "30 Day Princess"

Film Is Successor To "Flying Down To Rio" Features "Continental"

"The Gay Divorcee," RKO-Radio's latest musical comedy, is being advertised to be the first "true musical comedy" ever presented on the screen. It opens today at the Heilig theatre. Studio officials, it is said, exhausted every possibility to accurately capture the ruddy, headlong speed of the film, as a stage play starring Fred Astaire, played 238 performances in New York and six months in the Palace Theatre, London.

The weekly Eugene high radio broadcast was given Tuesday, October 23, over radio station KORE. Kathleen Houglum was mistress of ceremonies and Doc Near, student body president, spoke on student body activities. The program consisted of a variety show, "Legends," by Mollie Small; a piano solo, "Falling Stars," was played by Barbara Bush; vocal duet, Helen Gorrell and George Skipworth; a reading by Elva Edwards; the news of the week was given by Mollie Small; the sports by George Flint. This program is put on by the Eugene high staff. George Skipworth was radio editor.

A special reorganization meeting of the Chess club was held last Tuesday, October 23. Future meetings are to be held every Monday night. Anyone is welcome to attend the meetings, and instruction will be given to those who wish to learn the game.

"Where the Caravan Rested," by Juliette Claire Gibson, English instructor, a one-act play portraying a 17th century romance has been selected for the year's mixed chorus act for the Hi-Jinks. The cast includes: Cornelia, a gay spy maid, Linda Lopez; Juan, the gay king, Lawrence Reid; Bonita, the gay queen, Blanche Boykin; Ramon, lover of Cornelia, Charles Devereaux; Carlos, wealthy gay king, Wilfred Devereaux; Margarita, grandmother of Cornelia, Helen Gorrell; Angelo, old man of the tribe, Arrol Roark; Chiquita, girl volunteer, Dorothy Griswold; Maria, woman of another tribe, Alice Rogers; and Conchita, a dancer, Betty McDonnell.

In preparation for the Corvallis H. S. football game, a short pep assembly was held in the gym Friday morning. Bill Kidwell, dean of boys, talked to the students on "Enthusiasm." School songs and yells, led by Robert Banta, yell king, concluded the program.

On Wednesday evening of last week two casts of the junior play met for a potluck supper at the school. During the course of the evening the group practiced the Virginia reel, which is to be given in the act. They also went over some of the lines. Those on the committee were: Natalie Lee, Amanda Nelson, Claudia Marzoni, Geo. Flint, Jim Phillips, and Charles Williams; chairman, Amanda Nelson. Other Flint, Marion Stafford, Marie Barton, Jim Phillips, and Philo Gould. The table was arranged in horseshoe formation and all those who attended were adorned with small white chrysanthemums, placed in their hair.

At the last Archery club meeting held on Wednesday of last week the club discussed plans for the initiation to be held soon. Irma Helgeson was appointed chairman for the committee. Under her were Virginia Lee, Virginia Hester, Al. Furd, Helen Meyer, and Helen Golden. As archery season will soon be over, the president, Marge Conway, appointed a committee of three to talk to Miss Frances E. Baker, girls' gym instructor, as to what the girls could do during the time that they could not shoot. Those appointed on this committee were Marge Conway, Virginia Hester, and Natalie Row.

At a Girls' League assembly held Thursday afternoon at University high school, six E. H. S. girls accompanied by Mrs. Maxine Lamb, chairman, and Miss Maxine Lamb, who were the girls, exemplified the initiation ceremony. The girls who went were Evelyn Wood, Miss Arwater, Roberta Marshall, Phyllis Berkman, Ellen Kinney, and Charlotte Plummer.

Among the various clubs which are being formed at Eugene high is the chess club which is open to any boy. During the past year of work, various projects in wood were worked out by the group. The members in the club will be Martin Peterson and Edna McKelahan.

A Neanderthal man as a class project. He plans to make models of many more things.

Betty McDonnell was elected president of the girls' dancing chorus. Alice Rogers, vice-president, and Virginia Goodlow, assistant; Cleo Flint, secretary-treasurer; Louise Pursley, acrobatic director; and Betty Wallace, costume director at a meeting held Tuesday, October 16.

At a meeting of the Girls' Letter club held Thursday night the organization decided to buy tables and chairs for their new club room for which a room shower was planned for the club. An initiation ceremony will be held for the new members who are to be selected at the next meeting. Fernie Hewitt was appointed chairman of the initiation ceremony committee. They also discussed the penalties they will make and sell for the University high game.

Making the rounds, a Review of the many different types of dancing and entertainment to be found in New York night clubs, is the theme of the stunt to be presented by the junior class at the annual Eugene high school Hi-Jinks, November 7 and 8.

Under the direction of Betty McDonnell and Vernon Russell, juniors, the junior class has been working hard to perfect its dances. The program to be presented is: first, a colorful puppet number in which Betty McDonnell took the puppets, portrayed by Phyllis Jane Atwater, Marge Morse, Betty Wallace and Bernice Cook. Theme song for this dance will be "Holiday," the second number will be a solo tap dance by Virginia Goodlow; third a bowery number in which Amanda Nelson sings a vocal solo titled "My Man"; Bill and Betty McDonnell will do a bowery dance and skit to the tune of "I'm Goin' to Dance With Guy What Brung Me"; the girls in the bowery chorus are: Cleo Flint, Marie Barton, Claire Brooks, Helen Williams, Alice Gillespie, and Virginia Goodlow; the grand finale is to be the decorative "Black and White" number with a mixed dance chorus of Carol Parker, Katherine Ham, Alice Henderson, Yvonne Atkinson, Marjorie Brown, Paul Hemmingson, Ruth Troxel, Paul Thunemann, Darrel Harbert, Lawrence Reid, Lloyd Hemmingson, and Phillip Gould.

Betty Wallace has charge of all costumes; the mistresses of ceremony are Viola Hard and Juanita Tupper.

Betty Henderson will be the pianist for the entire act.

University High School

At a teachers meeting Monday evening it was decided that report cards would be sent out every nine weeks instead of six to relieve the clerical staff in the office. This means that there will be but two reports of grades each term. Mr. Moore, principal of University high, stated that it would go into effect immediately.

A Girls' League meeting was held last Thursday. Evelyn Wood, president of Eugene high's Girls' League, gave a short talk. Several Eugene high girls gave a model initiation service. Honor pins were distributed by Margaret Moody, chairman. Several musical numbers and a reading were given.

Tryouts for the Scarlet Masque were given last Thursday evening. Those received are not announced yet. At a meeting of the intra-mural council Tuesday, a method of scoring the contests between the classes was decided upon with the winning team receiving 50 points, second team 50 points, and the third team 30 points. The class which finishes with the most points for the year will receive a cup with the class and year engraved on the cup. The drawings for basketball were made with two teams for each class. The games will start Monday.

Miss Mildred Tully, University of Oregon freshman, has been assigned special office duties in the high school office. She will be in the office on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday morning.

Jane Hall was appointed chairman of the finance committee of the junior class at a meeting held last Tuesday afternoon. Dorothea Wilson and Norman Lyman are also on the committee. Catherine Erick, Charles Fox and Ralph Lafferty were appointed for a Halloween dance which has not yet been definitely decided on.

Members of the University high orchestra are indeed fortunate this year in having Vernon Winsomson, assistant director of Salem Symphony orchestra, as their director. With a larger number than last year turning out for organization, the instrumentation will be fairly good.

A requisition has been made for some new and better music. If the requisition goes through, the University high orchestra will be playing grand music. Those who are playing in the orchestra this year are as follows: Rachel Koken, Jane Veblen, first violin: Warren Smith, Milton Pederson and Beverly Sutton, second violin: Jane Hall, Mary Booth, and Catherine Murdoch; cello: Phoebe Breyman, clarinet: Jim Smith, trombone: Donald Wynn, saxophone: Martin McCormick, Ralph Lafferty, and Dan Reed, first, second and third trumpet respectively: Doris Hack, piano.

At their first meeting Friday the Golden U made plans for a public dance which is to be held in the near future. With Donald Brace as the president the group expects to have a successful and well organized year.

The Hi-Y plans to hold initiation for six members in the near future. There are at present two members, Don Brace and Bob Goodpasture, the rest having graduated last spring. Plans are also to be made for the election of more new members at the coming initiation.

"Uni-Hi Code! Buy your Uni-Hi Code!" rang through the halls when the second issue of this year's Code came out Friday. The staff for this year is headed by Jean Howard as editor. Others on the staff are: Elizabeth Stetson and David French, editorial staff; Beulah Chapman, news editor; Catherine Murdoch, Margaret Kelly, Phoebe Breyman, Evelyn Jones, Emilie Brooke, David England, Doris Wulzen and Jean Crites, news staff; Elizabeth Onthank, Thomas Hicks, and Don Child, sports editors; Jean MacLaren, make-up staff; Margaret Rankin, Miriam Caswell and Janice Bord, make-up staff.

Violet Stillman, feature editor; Virginia Whitlock, Betty Thompson, Marilee Glad, Catherine Erick, and Ed O'Reilly, feature staff.

Sue Fliegel, art editor; Marjorie Zane, and Dan England, art staff; Ed A. Carlson, business manager.

TRIANGLE HIGH IS BUSY DURING WEEK

BLANCHLY, Oct. 27.—(Special)—The weekly assembly was held Friday, Oct. 26, in the gymnasium with the sophomore class offering a little stunt called "Hector the Hired Man."

Mr. Dennis, the principal, drove to Eugene on business Wednesday morning, Oct. 24, leaving Mr. Kienzie, the seventh and eighth grade teacher, in charge of the high school. Mrs. Dennis substituted as teacher in Mr. Kienzie's room.

The Halloween dance given by the high school Friday, Oct. 26, proved very successful. Everyone had an enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served at midnight.

Two high school students, Robert and Maurice Lunde, transferred to Monroe High School Wednesday, Oct. 17.

The high school glee club and the community will cooperate in presenting a Minstrel program November 9, in the gymnasium for the benefit of the school band. The entertainment will consist of several double trios, quartets, solos, and choruses. Between songs lively bits of Negro jesting will furnish plenty of amusement for spectators.

The lower bus which Mr. Jones drives was unable to reach school Tuesday morning, Oct. 23, because of a slide in the road. At Cape Jenny passengers were transferred to the yellow bus, and by 9:40 o'clock everyone was busy at work in the classrooms. Mr. Kienzie and Mr. Billings each made a trip to the Lake after the transfer load was delivered.

Walker High School

In spite of the rain, quite a number of the ladies of the community were present at the Girls' League installation held Tuesday afternoon. The guests included: Mrs. Hohmann, Mrs. Clyde Wright, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. R. Sears and Mrs. Trout. Following the installation ceremony the girls presented several skits directed by Mary Cameron, after which the women and girls had a social visit over their tea-cups in Miss Pollitt's classroom.

Thursday noon Mrs. Trout spoke to the girls of the foods hobby division of Girls' League. Her topic was "Food Elements." The girls have decided to study principles of nutrition until they obtain some equipment for actual practice in cookery.

The play, "His Father's Gone South," to be presented by the high school, finally arrived. Preliminary tryouts were held Wednesday afternoon, but as yet none of the characters have been named.

Mr. Trout will attend the state principals' conference in Salem this Friday and Saturday. He and Mrs. Trout drove to Oregon City, where they will make their headquarters for the week-end with the former's mother, Thursday after school. That leaves Miss Pollitt alone with the school Friday.
