

Eugene High Beaten By Salem Monday, 13-7

PURPLE GRIDDERS
ELIMINATED FROM STATE GRID RACE

By RICHARD JOHNSTON

SALEM, Nov. 13.—(Special)—Fritz Kramer's Eugene high football team will not play the Thanksgiving day title tilt in Portland this year. Salem high took care of that Monday afternoon on Sweetland field before an Armistice day crowd that jammed the stadium, piling up two touchdowns in the first half and holding Eugene to a lone score in the second to win 13 to 7.

Although the rain which drenched the Willamette valley Monday evening did not begin until late in the fourth quarter, the field was in terrible condition, apparently equal parts of mud, slippery clay and water, to a depth of about 2 inches. Eugene's plays, built upon precision and exact blocking, foundered in the mire, while Jimmy Nicholson, star Viking half-back, seemed at home there, reeling off long gains.

Strategy Poor
Eugene might well have won or tied the game but for several bits of misguided strategy. The Purple marched to the Salem 20 early in the first quarter, and there, on fourth down with 3 inches to go, elected to pass. The heave was incomplete, and the Vikings took the ball.

Nicholson quick-kicked to the Eugene 20, where Caven, playing safety, fumbled. Salem recovered, and Sherrill and Nicholson accounted for four yards between them. Then Sherrill faded to the right and whipped a nice pass to Nicholson, who took it on the dead run and arched over the goal line, barely inside the corner. Nicholson kicked goal.

Nicholson Gets Hot
Following the kick-off, an exchange of punts and an intercepted pass gave Eugene the ball on their own 41. Kelly made four yards at center, and Warner kicked to the Salem 30. Nicholson suddenly turned on the heat, and ripped to his own 44 on the first play. Sherrill and Nicholson then took turns carrying the oval, making a first down on the Eugene 45. Sherrill, who did all of Salem's passing, dropped back and tossed to Ellie on the Eugene 26, and on the next play the Vikings pulled a razzle-dazzle that left Eugene breathless. It was a triple reverse, Nicholson to Sherrill to Salstrom, and it carried the ball to the Eugene 2 yard line. Nicholson was stopped at the line of scrimmage, but on the next play circled end to score—a play almost identical with the one with which Maury Van Vleet scored against Oregon State Saturday.

Taylor Bashed
The half ended 13 to 0, and the Salem rosters staged an impromptu celebration. When the teams came back for the second half, Eugene showed more snap than at any previous time, and though the remainder of the game was fought almost entirely in Eugene territory, the Purple held doggedly.

It was early in the third quarter that the second hour was pulled by the Eugeneans. Doc Taylor, ace half-back and signal caller, carried the ball, and was tackled by Damon, Salem guard. Taylor disapproved of Damon's methods in making a tackle, and proceeded to land a nice right on the tackler's jaw. He was banished from the game, with Peters replacing him.

Peters Goes Over
Without regard to the motives for the blow, it was a doubtful bit of strategy, for Taylor's services were too badly needed to be sacrificed for one bit of revenge. Although Peters did his best in the fill-in role, he lacked Taylor's steadiness and experience.

Eugene's score came on a break late in the fourth quarter. Nicholson kicked out of bounds on the Eugene 30. Warner hurled a long pass, and Sherrill intercepted on the Eugene 40. Two line plays gained little, and Sherrill cut loose with a wide, flat heave. Peters, in for Taylor, was running wide, and the ball came to him like steel to a magnet. He ran straight down the field to score without being touched.

Power Big Luck
Warner converted, and Eugene tried desperately to pull another score out of the fire in the brief moments remaining, but couldn't shake loose a ball carrier.

The reason for Eugene's defeat was not difficult to analyze. Lacking great power in the backfield, Kramer has built up a razzle-dazzle attack for his team, stressing speed, deception and shiftness. On a dry field this system works beautifully. But it's not made for mud. It might still have been effective had Kramer been able to shoot one consistent line-smasher into center for consistent games, but the continued dependence on the deception plays made it too easy for the Vikings to dope them out.

HIGHLANDER

By RICHARD JOHNSTON
Today's Highlander is a continuation of Sunday's column, being an explanation of the new state high school basketball setup. In Sunday's paper the background of the whole business was explained and detailed. Today the reason for the compromise between the systems rather than a complete break from the old will be discussed.

At the last business meeting of the High School Athletic association in Portland, held last winter, it was decided to hold a "B" league tournament. Because it seemed advisable to have "inside" advice on the matter, a committee of three men from "B" schools was appointed to arrange for the tourney.

This committee reported that it appeared impossible to arrange a "B" league tournament similar to the "A" league meet, and separate from it, that would pay its own way. The "A" system of permitting Salem, the best school, entrance to the tourney was not feasible as far as the "B" leagues were concerned, and the committee believed that such a tourney would end up in the red.

They therefore recommended the plan which has since been adopted, and which, despite much unfavorable criticism, may work out satisfactorily. The state was formerly in 10 districts, as you know. The only way a "B" league could reach the tourney was by defeating the "A" league champion of its district.

Well, the state is still in 16 districts, but the "B" districts have been separated from the "A" districts.

MILK MAN RETURNS
FOR TRIBBLES GO

The boys are coming back! Like the birds who migrate south in the winter, the old-time Eugene wrestling favorites are returning here for the cold months. Thursday night at the armory Hugh Adams, the be-chickled Savoy Island milk man, will meet Les Tribbles in the semi-windup of the Bob Castle-Del Kunkle card.

Adams has wrestled here for some time, and has always been popular in Eugene. Tribbles is a newcomer who is rapidly becoming a favorite. The Savoy Island milk man has just completed a tour which carried him from the Rocky Mountains to Honolulu, and is said to be a much improved grappler.

The main event, between Kunkle and Castle, also promises plenty of action. Kunkle will be the fair-haired boy, featuring science and skill, while Castle hopes to add dynamite and Del and whoever referees to his string of knockouts.

Grover's Rise to Beat Springfield
COTTAGE GROVE, Nov. 13.—(Special)—Orlo Bagley's Cottage Grove high football team came up with a Garrison finish here Monday afternoon to defeat Springfield 13 to 7 in the Armistice Day feature played on Kelly Field.

The game was scoreless until the fourth quarter when Disque Smith, ace Springfield half, broke away to score a touchdown, running nearly 50 yards for the marker. Mason scored for Cottage Grove shortly after, and then Thorsen broke loose to give the Grovers another touchdown.

WOLFE'S TEAM CHAMPS
LA GRANDE, Ore., Nov. 13.—(Special)—The football championship of Oregon's Normal schools was in the hands of Oregon Normal of Monmouth today, following a 46 to 13 rout here yesterday by Larry Wolfe's men of the Mountaineers of Eastern Oregon normal. Monmouth previously had defeated Southern Oregon normal.

UCLAS STUN GRID
WORLD WITH WIN
OVER ST. MARYS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—(Special)—St. Mary's Calloping Grids had slowed to a jolting walk along the west's football highway today.

A victory-hungry Bruin team from the University of California at Los Angeles, stepped in the path of the Moraga men with a 6 to 0 victory before 40,000 surprised spectators.

The Bruins made good on a break in the third quarter, and then stifled two insistent St. Mary's threats in the fourth to protect the slender lead.

Fumble Responsible
The chance came when Harry Mattos fielded Charles Cheshire's high punt badly on his 10-yard line. Wendell Wamble, alert guard scooped the ball up on the four after it had squirmed out of Mattos' hands and ran across the goal line.

The officials, however, decided Wamble had retrieved the ball after it hit the ground and gave it to Coast Bill Spaulding's men on the four. Fred Funk tied the center of the line and was trilled bumped down for his efforts. Capt. Ransom Livesey then accepted the assignment and drove through for two scant yards.

Funk Goes Over
It was Funk's turn now. He saw a slit of daylight over St. Mary's right guard and squeezed the goal line. Livesey's attempted place kick was slightly deflected and missed the uprights.

The Gaels immediately sought revenge. They started a drive from their own 20 late in the third and went as far as the Bruins' three.

Almost immediately after Cheshire had punted out, the exasperating Gaels were back. Mattos passed sharply to Felix Jennings who ran into opposition on the 21. Another throw was caught by Austin on the 18 but Cheshire again took a hand in the proceeding by intercepting one of Mattos' numerous tosses.

Some slight solace went to the vanquished through the statistics. They outgained U. C. L. A. 11 to 4; outgained the Bruins 200 yards to 103, and were more successful on passes, of which they were 24 from both sides during the afternoon.

University high received the kickoff and were downed on their own three yard line from where it was kicked to the Golden Tide 30-yard line. At this point Hood River, after three plays, kicked to University high. Soon it was necessary for the visitors to punt again, this time to the Hood River 45. Then came the march that resulted in the first touchdown. On reverses and line plays, Hood River soon had the ball with first down and goal to go. From here Lakin scored, after being held twice, from the four yard line around the right side of the Campus line, Morris converted.

The other touchdown came in the fourth quarter. After a march from midfield, and being held for two downs without gain, Beck went over from this point for the Apple city. The Campus boys never threatened, and only once looked like they were going to start a march to touchdown. After Lakin's kick had rolled in the end zone, Ray Soward reeled off a 19-yard run putting the ball on the U. H. S. 39 and Bob Booth made a first down in midfield. Here the Apple defense got together and the march went no further.

Ray Soward, Bob Booth, Don Brace were outstanding for the Campus boys with Lakin, Balster, Beck and Mayers sharing the laurels for Hood River.

News of Trent
TRENT, Nov. 13.—(Special)—The Arthur Rice family of Portland called on friends here last Saturday. They were on their way to Mapleton to visit Mrs. Rice's folks.

Seven delegates from the Trent church attended the convention at Junction City last Monday. They were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wheeler, Mrs. Raubman, Althea and Emma Lou Raubman, Tim Delp and Willie White, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Raubman called on the Frank Dinges family during the noon hour.

A. B. C. study club meets with Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Huntington at the Huntington home, Friday afternoon. The members will make scrap books for Christmas.

Sunday evening the young people will have charge of the meeting at the church house, several different young folks giving talks. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cochran of Springfield visited Sunday with the Lewis West family.

The oratory class and expert endeavor study has been changed from Tuesday evening to Thursday evening at the church house.

Strength in Corn
Aids Grain Prices

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Strength in corn induced buying in wheat futures in the final minutes of the market session today that transformed early losses into net fractional gains.

Reports of frost in sections of Argentina and persistence of dry weather complaints from parts of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and eastern Colorado were only minor stimulants to wheat traders who paid more attention during most of the session to a sharp recession in the Liverpool market. Corn sold at a new high level since early in September.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/2 cent higher compared with Saturday's finish. May at 90 1/4-5/8 cents. Corn was 1 1/2 to 2 1/8 cents higher at the close, May reaching 83 1/4-3/8, the result to some extent of a lack of pressure in the market. Oats and rye gained fractions and provisions were firm.

Wheat:
Dec., old, open, 90 7/8; high, $1.00 1/8; low, 90; close, $1.00 1/8.
Dec., new, open, 90 3/8-1/2; high, $1.00 1/4; low, 90 7/8; close, $1.00 1/4.
May, open, 98 7/8-9/8; high, 99 3/4; low, 98 1/8; close, 99 1/2-5/8.
