"Imitation of Life", Great Four Star Picture, Opens At Heilig Today

'Servants Entrance" To Play State Today; New Policy Is Started

Absolute realism was insisted on this production. In the early sequences, Claudette Colbert operates a restaurant, specializing in flapjacks. For the week spent in shooting this sequence, a tank of real pancake batter was mixed, cooked and eaten every day. The daily cost of the food used in this restaurant, bread, butter, coffee, doughnuts, cake and pie was amazing. A replica of the famous Atlantic City Boardwalk was built extending over 250 feet and furnished with shops and booths.

An apartment furnished in modernistic style was built for Warren William's home and the New York town house which was Miss Colbert's home was furnished in every room in Adam style from fireplaces to picture mouldings. A deep sea fishing expedition was outfitted to bring in a collection of rare fish to stock nine small aquariums in the setting representing Warren William's study. William is a marine scientist in the picture. This expedition was out of sight of land for five weeks. A fishing ship had to be chartered for this voyage. Tank trucks were hired and filled with sea water to bring the fish to the studio in their own element. The setting itself beyond all this initial expense, cost upward of $10,000 to outfit, with its plate glass tanks and sheet iron reservoirs from which they were refilled.

All in all, "Imitation of Life" ranks among the most sumptuous productions ever made. This was not extravagance, but economy. Fannie Hurst in "Imitation of Life" wrote a magnificent story. Universal has strained every nerve to make it a magnificent picture in a magnificent setting.

Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres, erstwhile screen sweethearts of "State Fair," have been reunited by popular demand in the Fox Film, "Servants' Entrance," playing currently at the State Theater. Miss Gaynor plays a rich society girl in search of new experiences, and Mr. Ayres portrays a young inventor who has turned to chauffeuring in order to support himself while he perfects his new type motorboat.

The picture is a departure from the usual straight romantic role played by Miss Gaynor. Here comedy is blended with romance, and for the first time on the screen Janet Gaynor is seen as a versatile and able comedienne. Her characterization ranges from the wistful romance, which she portrays so well, to hilarious comedy, at which she proves herself a master.

The theme of "Servants' Entrance" deals with the romance which develops between Ayres, as the family chauffeur and Miss Gaynor as a rich girl who is continually in hot water as an inexperienced kitchen maid. The two give a fine performance, and after viewing the picture it is easy to see why the team was so successful in "State Fair."

The principals receive splendid support from a cast headed by Ned Sparks, Walter Connolly, Louise Dresser, G. P. Huntley, Jr., Astrid Allwyn, and Siegfried Rumann.

"Magnificent" maye be a much abused word, even in Hollywood, but nothing else will adequately describe "Imitation of Life," the Fannie Hurst novel which John M. Stahl made into a picture for Universal, starring Claudette Colbert and Warren William, coming today to the Heilig Theater.

It is a magnificent production. Some notion of the scale on which this film has been produced can be gained from the fact that one single setting cost $10,000. Nothing about this set was extraordinary. The cost came about merely to make the set perfect and authentic.

COMING TO LOCAL THEATRES!

Walker High School

Not until Monday morning did school reopen after the holidays, although Mr. and Mrs. Trout and Miss Pollitt had returned to Walker expecting to have school the last three days of the week. The reason for not commencing classes at the earlier date was that there were two new cases of scarlet fever in Saginaw, and the furnace was being repaired. School had closed three days early, omitting the Christmas program for which everyone had worked so hard, because of a scarlet fever scare.

In spite of the continued vacation, Mr. Trout called his boys together for two basketball practices. Then, the game with Dorena was played Friday night as scheduled. Dorena won by only one basket, the score being 11-9. Dorena has no girls' conference team this year.

The high school students had their Christmas gift exchange three weeks later than originally planned, on Wednesday of this week.

Tuesday evening the basketball teams with Mr. Trout journeyed to Wendling for two practice games with Mohawk high school. Both our teams were defeated however. Scores were: Boys 20-18; girls 33-8.

"Vitamins" was the topic discussed by the foods hobby group of Girls' league Thursday noon.

The national salute to the American flag consists of one shot for each star therein.

Gold Case Involves Vast Debt Changes

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Should the supreme court of the United States uphold the gold clause in bonds of private companies and government issues, government and private debts might be increased in amounts ranging upward to $100,000,000,000 according to a varied number of guesses made in the financial district today.

There are no available statistics to determine the volume of gold bonds in existence. All government issues carried the clause before it was repudiated by the government in 1933. Nearly all railroad and utility bonds are gold bonds and so are issues of many industrial corporations.

CAFE DEL REY CONTINUES POLICY

Six months ago we opened the Del Rey with 14 employes, and in this short period business has increased until at present 20 people are employed regularly, besides extras that are called in during banquets and large luncheons. We feel that we should thank the people of Eugene and Lane county that have made this possible. We attribute this growth to a policy that has not and will not be deviated from—that of buying the best food obtainable and serving it at the most reasonable price in the city. Produce houses complain that we are too hard to please, but we feel we are really buying for you and will continue to select the food we serve with the greatest care.

We wish to thank the faculty and students of the University for their patronage.

At the present time we are assisting four students through the University and stand ready to give even more assistance whenever necessary.

Modern heating and lighting have been installed in the banquet rooms, giving us the largest and most modern banquet rooms in this part of the state. Most every afternoon and evening we are called upon to prepare for banquets, card parties, dances and afternoon teas. Mrs. Yount gives all these occasions her personal attention and I see to it that one important detail is not overlooked—good food.

Now I am going to make a request of you, our patrons and friends. We intend to make the Del Rey the best known and best liked cafe in this part of Oregon, and have many plans which we expect to unfold during 1935. We want you to give us constructive suggestions and criticism that we may make the Del Rey an even better and more pleasant place to dine.

Sincerely yours,
ROY YOUNT,
Manager and Chef.
