BAD LUCK DEFEATS LEFTY GROVE, 4-1

NEW YORK, May 21.—(U.P.)—The question today seems to be whether Bob Grove is really through or simply the temporary victim of a contrary fate.

The premier left-hander of the Athletics' late heyday has turned in several performances for the Red Sox this season indicating that the lone ace of the 1934 race at best was well again.

But if he isn't admitting a finger to interrupt steady pitching, he is being entangled in errors, a notable example his 4 to 1 defeat by Cleveland yesterday.

Through the eight innings he pitched, until he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the ninth, he allowed the hard-hitting, pennant-mad Indians only four hits and one earned run. Another was made on a pair of errors and thus when Grove was relieved he trailed, 2 to 1. Walberg gave up the remaining two runs in the ninth.

The Yanks continued their drive toward the top with a 7 to 2 win over the leading White Sox.

Tommy Bridges singled in the 11th to start a rally for the Tigers who beat the Athletics, 8 to 6.

Bump Hadley held the Browns to five hits and won his fourth game for Washington, 8 to 2.

The Cubs gained in the National league race by beating Boston, 5 to 0, in one of only two games played. The leading Giants lost to Pittsburgh, 11 to 4, in the other.

LEAGUE MEETS IN GOLF, TENNIS SET

Golf and tennis teams of the University of Oregon wind up a strenuous season this week-end by engaging in the conference playoffs.

The university plays host to six northern division collegiate golf teams in the conference meet, as four man clubs from Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, Washington State, Idaho, and Montana meet over the 36 hole course. The lowest team card wins, and the individual title is also to be awarded.

Washington, winners of the meets for the past few years, will be favored to take the championship, although the sophomore Webfoot team will be a strong contender on the home course. The Huskies won all of their matches this year, including two with Oregon.

The tennis team, coached by Paul Washke, goes up to Pullman for the conference tennis meet. The Ducks, after losing a 5-1 set-to with Washington, have come back to win all their other matches, including series with Willamette, Linfield, Portland, and Oregon State college. The Huskies will likewise be favored to win this event, with Washington State a contender for the title.

HIGHCLIMBER looks 'em over

By RICHARD JOHNSTON

The first turnout, held Monday evening, for girls interested in the formation of a girls' baseball league here this summer, was more than encouraging. There were in the neighborhood of 40 girls out, and this on less than two hours notice.

Last year the Register-Guard sponsored a girls' league, and it was a very successful one. This season this paper is working with Dinty Moore and C. F. Thompson in their efforts to establish a nightball field here. If it goes through, the Register-Guard will sponsor organized leagues for young and old, boys, men, ladies, —a league where EVERYBODY can play ball.

In addition to playing a practice game Monday evening, the girls turning out pledged their support to the nightball project, and agreed to help cover the town in an effort to obtain the pledges carried in coupon form in Monday's Register-Guard.

So, if a good-looking young lady calls at your home sometime this week, you have only to turn over one of the coupons, filled out according to your means or inclination, or fill out one of the coupons she will be glad to furnish.

Remember, this nightball project is not a profiteering enterprise to exploit Eugeneans. It is one of the most worthy moves in many years, and it will be of inestimable benefit to every individual of this city who is interested in sports.

Eugeneans contribute handsomely to the Community Chest and to charity organizations. This project is in no way connected with charity, but it is almost as worthy a cause. It will afford facilities for play which are sadly lacking now, and the community will reap benefits from it in many ways. Support it if you can!

Oaks, Angels Vie In "Make, Break" Series This Week

By United Press

The League-leading Oakland team began its hardest test of the season today whe nit took on the second-place Los Angeles array in a "make or break" series on the Oakland ball lot.

Only two and one half games separated the pace-setters as they began their three-game series.

Attendance records likely will be broken as Oakland fans are backing their winning team 100 per cent better than they supported last year's haphazard aggregation.

In other games opening a new week in the league the San Francisco Seals entertain Seattle; Portland plays at Sacramento; and the Mission Reds meet Hollywood in Los Angeles. All games are daylight battles except the Seals-Seattle meeting.

THUNDERBOLT SIGNS FOR BATTLE ROYAL

Beat the drums! Rattle the sabres! Hail! From the lair of the Thunderbolt, on the stormy banks of the Umpqua, Thursday morning came an edict—a message carrying good news for every wrestling fan from the coast to the high Cascades!

"Tell the fans I'll be there for the battle royal Thursday night," said the missive. "I think I'm a —— fool for doing it, and it's against my better judgment, but if these cookie-pushers are going to start calling me yellow, I guess I'll have to show them!"

It was signed "Thor Jensen."

So there, ladies and gentlemen, you have the lineup on what promises to be the greatest battle royal ever staged in the city, county or state. The three toughest gents in the business —the mighty Bulldog Jackson, the equally feared Thor (The Thunderbolt) Jensen, and Lightning Rod Fenton. Against them—three of the cleanest, classiest grapplers to hit these parts in many a day, Dynamite Del Kunkle of Salt Lake, The Black Panther and Stacy Hall, the Boston mat artist.

Promoter Herb Owen has also announced the semi-windup, pitting Dorry Detton, clever Salt Lake boy, against Hy Sharman, meanie from Detroit. Both are fast, brilliant grapplers, with Sharman combining rough stuff with his matwork.

The opener will be announced Wednesday. Tickets are on sale at Obak's and the Club.

The man who named thousands of plants and animals, Linnaeus, was himself a man of many names. He used, as signatures at various times, the names Carl Linne, Carolus Linnaeus Smolander, Carl von Linne, and Carl Linnaeus. His father was Nils Ingemarsson.

DUCK TRACKSTERS FAVORED IN O. S. C. MEET ON SATURDAY

Favored to win a dual meet after successive defeats at the hands of Washington State and Washington, Colonel Bill Hayward's Webfoot track and field men take on Oregon State here next Saturday in the final dual meet of the season.

No matter how hard the Colonel figures, he cannot see a defeat for Oregon, for thus far, the Webfoots have shown the greatest first-place strength in the conference. It is this array of winners that Hayward is counting on to carry the Ducks to the top in the conference meet June 1.

Bevos "Not So Hot"

While the Lemon-Yellow athletes have lost by close margins in both of their meets, the Beavers have done little so far this year. In the annual relays between the two teams, Oregon won by taking five races out of eight.

The only events that the Beavers figure to take are the low hurdles and mile run. The Orangemen also have good chances in the high sticks, high jump, and broad jump.

One of the leading attractions of the meet will be the javelin-throwing affair, with three men capable of doing over 210 feet. Although Bob Parke, N. C. A. A. champion, will be on hand, he has bowed to his teammate, Warren DeMaris twice this year. DeMaris is a former northern division record holder. The third performer here will be Jim Daneri, Beaver tosser.

Shoemake Favored

Bud Shoemake, cinder burner, will be favored to sweep both sprints, while Howard Patterson and George Scharpf should prove the class of the middle distance men. Captain Bob Wagner, holder of the northern division two mile title, will have some stiff competition from Dave Shepard, stellar sophomore two miler.

Unless Johnny Stolp shows considerable improvement, the Beaver jumpers, Stoop and Eckman, should take the high jumping event. Stolp has not come through as counted upon to do so, being confined to 6-foot leaps.

All of the weight events figure to go to the Webfoots, as does the pole vault, where Marvin Janak has cleared 13 feet to lead all conference stratosphere travelers.

This will be the twenty-seventh meeting between the two teams, sixteen of past affairs having gone to Oregon. The Beaver meet will be the only home track and field meet for the local followers.

Graduation Class Is Feted at Coburg

COBURG, May 21—(Special)—Miss Margaret Adair entertained members of her graduating class of the Harrisburg high school with a dinner party at her home in Coburg last Saturday evening. During the dinner, each student was called upon to tell about an outstanding event during the senior year.

The color scheme was pink and white. A beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations served as a centerpiece for the table. Favors were pink baskets filled with white after dinner mints with the place cards fastened to the baskets.

Covers were laid for Misses Helen Murphy, Patricia Shields, Ruth Elliott, Velma Simon, Ruth Crawford, Katherine Lowell, Winifred Grimes, Pauline Marts, Hillis Davidson, Melvin Bond, Merlin Burnett, Elden Barber and Miss Margaret Adair.

Coast League Leaders Talk Retrenchment

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—(U.P.)—Directors of the Pacific Coast league met here today more surprised than alarmed by the demands of Earl McNeely, owner and president of the Sacramento club, for drastic retrenchment to save the league from dissolution.

League directors did not echo McNeely's belief that the circuit was dangerously close to the financial rocks and that admission prices should be reduced, salaries of payers cut, and a lower rating than class AA be sought.

With the exception of Sacramento and Hollywood, the teams in the league appeared better set financially than they were at this time last year.

All eight games, it was admitted, experienced slight setbacks at the outset of the campaign when rain interfered heavily with opening games. Adverse weather conditions continued to affect attendance at Sacramento and Hollywood home games but other teams reported increased crowds and improved receipts.

"It was a shot out of a clear sky," Hyland Baggerly, league president, said in discussing McNeely's statements.

"Other league directors had no intimation that anything was wrong. In fact most of the clubs have been optimistic.

"But since McNeely has made these statements we felt it better to clear the entire situation by letting him come before the directors. Just what the board will do in the way of action I cannot forecast."

Ex-Champ Favors Sport Page Study

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion, urged curricular study of sport pages for boys and girls when he addressed the national convention of the boys' clubs of America yesterday.

Suggesting that sports writers exercise more influence upon youth than do any other types of instructor, the former champion asserted it would be possible through them to build in the minds of youth "a true hero of the athletic field" to replace false idols.

Halsey Votes to Build New School

HALSEY, May 21.—(Special)—A majority of local citizens are happy. The count of the votes cast legalizing the union high school district No. 6 and the grade school district No. 41 to issue bonds for the erection of a new school building carried by a vote of 104 in favor and 51 against.

Several elections had been held during the last few years but have been defeated. The present school building and present hall used for athletics was condemned this spring by the state department of education.

The student body of the local high school recently held its election of officers for next year which resulted as follows: Jimmie Smith, president; William Kirk, vice-president; Margaret Hardy, secretary; LeRoy Wade, treasurer; Clifford Bass, sergeant-at-arms; Phyllis Holt, reporter, and Doris Brook, yell leader.

Waldport Man Lost In Alsea Bar Surf

WALDPORT, May 21.—(Special)—Two men, while crabbing in the Alsea bay Friday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, on an outgoing tide, were carried out into the breakers in their rowboat. The boat was swamped and Kenneth Huntley, 24, endeavored to swim to shore for aid, with a life preserver around him. The tide was going out too swiftly, however, and he was drowned. The other man, about 45, managed to cling to the boat until two bridge workers on their way home, saw him about 7 o'clock that evening and rescued him.

PORTLAND BOOSTS EXTRA EGGS CENT

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—The differential between large or special eggs and extras was reduced to 1c, the normal, when an advance of 1c was scored in the latter during the last session of the produce exchange.

The 2c advance in specials and only 1c on extras during a previous session upset the normal differential between the two sizes although the open market failed to follow and continued its usual course.

Receipts of eggs were showing a slight decrease generally with continued good quality. There remained a good demand for storage but the hot weather of the last few days was expected to slow up the movement into ice houses until it finally ceases.

Despite the recent shading of a half cent a pound on two grades of cube butter on the produce exchange, there remained a steady to firm tone on the open market with former values well maintained.

General cut in the price on leghorn hens was showing despite the fact that in this line there continued an acute shortage. The undertone of the white broiler market has been weak for some time.

Improved Oregon and Gold Dollar strawberries out of nearby points were becoming fairly plentiful and in some quarters there was suggestion that by the week-end the supply will fill all trade wants. Prices were lower all around.

Owing to the delayed arrival of halibut boats, there continued a shortage and well maintained price on halibut but instead of the lower prices generally expected by the trade.

Soft shell crabs from Maryland and frogs' legs from Louisiana are being offered $2.50-3 dozen.

Asparagus prices were about steady with a good demand.

California strawberries were firm to $1.60-1.65 for 24s and $1.50 for 20s.

Some gooseberries were being offered around 6c lb.

Local lettuce was selling around $1.75 crate generally.

Hothouse cucumbers were down to $2.25 box generally.

Better demand for hothouse tomatoes since the price dropped.

Some good choice Valencia oranges were offering around $2.65-2.90.

Country killed lambs continued weak and in spots even lower. Other meats unchanged.
