STATE TO ABOLISH WORST CROSSINGS

SALEM, Ore., June 8.—(U.P.)—Fourteen hazardous railroad and highway grade crossings may be eliminated in Oregon with the $2,500,000 in federal funds allocated here, state highway engineer R. H. Baldock forecast today. Advance information to aid in the preparation of projects came this morning from the federal bureau of public roads.

There will be no limitation on the location of grade crossing projects and they may be chosen with respect to relative traffic hazards and possibilities of providing employment. Baldock was informed. Not less than 25 per cent of the work must be on secondary or feeder roads. As on other new federal projects, 90 per cent of the laborers must be taken from relief rolls.

Railroads having the greatest percentage of the 2632 miles of track in the state will get the biggest apportionment of grade crossing money, according to federal regulations. Railroad mileage in Oregon is as follows: Great Northern, 91; Northern Pacific, 50; Oregon Short Line, 248; O. & W. R. & N., 84; Southern Pacific, 143; S. P. & S., 122; and all others, 314.

Federal funds will pay the entire cost of projects, exclusive of any charges for rights of way or property damage, Baldock said. Four types of projects will be: Separation of grades at crossings; protection of grade crossings; reconstruction of existing railroad grade crossings structures; and relocation of highways to eliminate crossings.

TAX TO FOR NRA POL'S IS DISCLOSED

"Retroactive" Employment Insurance Is Essence Of Project

VALIDITY DEBATED

New Dealers Make Frantic Effort to Salvage Main Program

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (Copyright, 1935, by United Press) WASHINGTON, June 8.—(U.P.)—The taxing power of the government would be used to preserve purposes of the NRA under a plan studied today in administration circles. New Deal lawyers have been developing the idea since the Supreme Court struck down the code structure two weeks ago.

The plan proposes a bill to place an emergency unemployment tax on all trades and industries. The tax would be based on the ratio of employees on an employer's payroll to a given date regarded as "normal."

"Retroactive" Employment Insurance The theory back of the plan is that the government is forced to make unusual expenditures for the relief of the unemployed and that their former employers should help bear the burden. In this respect it resembles retroactive unemployment insurance while not subject to some of the objections which might be raised against such an act.

Recent comments on decisions of the supreme court note that there has been little done toward limiting the federal power to tax and still has on the power to spend money.

The constitution gives the govern-

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—(U.P.)—The Portland local of the sawmill and timber workers' union today reiterated allegiance to the "Muir agreement" while dissatisfaction in Washington unions widened a schism in union ranks.

Muir, executive vice-president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and provided for a wage minimum of 50 cents an hour—an increase of five cents or less—a 40-hour week. WEATHER GOVERNS NEXT WHEAT TAX

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(U.P.)—AAA officials kept close watch today on weather conditions which will determine the rate of the wheat processing tax and benefit payments to farmers. They expected to decide within 17 days whether to change the tax or maintain it at 30 cents a bushel.

If hot, dry weather prevails a lower tax probably will result—and a correspondingly smaller benefit payment to growers under acreage control agreements. On the other hand, continued favorable weather would indicate a larger crop than was previously anticipated, farm prices would react downward and a somewhat large tax would be necessary.

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(U.P.)—Dolores Costello, estranged wife of John Barrymore, was depicted in a court action today as an iron-fisted Amazon who once held her husband a virtual prisoner on their palatial yacht.

The charge was contained in an answer Henry Hotelener, Barrymore's manager and financial adviser, filed to Miss Costello's divorce suit against the dosing actor.

Hotelener, who is a co-defendant in the divorce suit which asks that he be compelled to account for his client's financial position, charged that "women guards" were employed to keep Barrymore aboard the yacht, "Infanta." Search Turns to Ogden on Reports of Gang in "Big Green Car"

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 8.—(U.P.)—Stimulated by the recovery of 30 ransom notes in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case, federal officers today pressed search for a green Cadillac sedan, last seen at Brigham City, Utah, and, it was thought, containing the first persons to pass a ransom note in this state.

Department of justice agents, as usual, admitted nothing, but it was learned that search for the car was being made at Ogden, Utah, not far from Brigham City. Ogden was considered the focal point after three men and a woman in the car bought gasoline at Brigham City and search disclosed no trace of the car there.

Still in Ogden is Theory It was assumed the car remained in Ogden instead of continuing toward Evanston, Wyoming.

Assortedly the occupants passed a $10 ransom note in Brigham City. Department of justice agents denied this report but previously police had confirmed it, only to deny the confirmation after contacting federal authorities.

Ransom notes passed here were detected by the local federal reserve bank. Most of them were included in a deposit made by the Walker Bank and Trust company.

Woman Passes One Bill That part of the gang had been in Salt Lake City seemed determined when a ransom bill was checked to the Kress bargain store. It was for $10. A woman had passed it.

Directing the search here was E. J. Connelly, federal agent in charge of the case since the nine-year-old heir to timber millions was snatched from the streets of Tacoma. Reports that he was here were denied by the local department of justice office but from other sources it was learned that he arrived by airplane this morning.

Parks' nearest rival was Jimmy Thomson, the long-distance slugger from Long Beach, Cal., who came in with an aggregate of 301. These two professionals were tied at 223 at the end of the third round, but Thomson missed par by six strokes this afternoon to finish two strokes back of the home town boy whose victory delighted the gallery of some 10,000.
