Danger of Losing Valuable Relics By Fire To Be Emphasized

A preliminary move to get on the part of the general election ballot for Lane county voters some measure providing for establishment of a pioneer museum will be presented the Lane County Pioneer association in meeting held Tuesday, it was announced, Friday.

Cal Young Fears Fire

For many years, Cal M. Young, county commissioner and an active worker in pioneer projects of this section, has been collecting and storing valuable relics at his residence. Housing of these relics in private homes is not safe, however, because of fire hazards. Also, in private homes the exhibits of the relics are not convenient for the interested public visitors who wish to view them, it is pointed out.

Collection Grows Steadily

Through its three famous pioneer agents, "Trail to Fall," "Sunset Trail" and "The Oregon Trail," Lane county has been able to amass a large collection of pioneer relics that become more valuable with the passing of each year. Many of these articles are likely to be lost forever unless adequate building is provided for their housing.

U-O TO INTERPRET IMPORT OF ISSUES

Legal and constitutional aspects of the recent supreme court decision that rendered the "Blue Eagle" almost as extinct as the dodo will be made available in simple but authoritative form to people of Oregon by the newspapers of the state, it was announced here today.

At the request of Robert W. Sawyer, publisher of the Bend Bulletin, and a number of other state editors, a series of articles dealing not only with the strictly legal phases of this highly important question, but with the social, historical and economic backgrounds of the National Recovery Act as well, will be written by several university professors who are authorities in their fields. These articles will then be distributed to the newspapers for publication.

Staff members of the school of journalism here, under the direction of Eric W. Allen, dean, will shape these articles for press use. The first article will be released about July 15. The financial aspect of the NRA will be the subject of Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the school of social sciences and for many years a professor of economics. Dr. John T. Ganoer, associate professor of history, will prepare historical material on the big issue of state and federal rights, while Dr. Calvin Crumbaker, professor of economics, will take up the commercial and industrial points. Legal aspects will be described by Wayne L. Morse, dean of the school of law.

Riders Start Long Trek Cross Oregon To Molalla Roundup

KLAMATH FALLS, June 21.—(AP)—Eight horsemen clattered out of Klamath Falls this morning at the start of one of the longest road races in the history of the state. The riders, taking the Klamath-Ashland route, will traverse the length of Oregon via the Pacific highway and arrive in Molalla for the July 4 celebration.

Weekend Forecast Is "Dry Weather"

With weather reports for the week-end indicating dry, warm days, forest lookouts are being returned to their posts, it was announced Friday by Perry A. Thompson, supervisor of the Willamette forest. Lookouts in the Cascadia, McKenzie, Oakridge and West Boundary districts will be on the job over the week-end. Monday all forest employes will go to the training school at Oakridge for the three-day session, after which the look-out posts will be filled for the remainder of the summer fire season.

Kunkle Sentenced And Then Paroled

Richard Kunkle, arrested a few days ago on a charge of taking and using an automobile without the consent of the owner, was sentenced by Judge G. F. Skipworth in circuit court Friday to serve six months in the county jail and was paroled to Attorney Howard M. Brownell. Kunkle had waived grand jury action in his case and entered a plea of guilty.

Reugnitz Predicts "Doom" Of A. F. of L. Through Rough Tactics

NEW PLAN PROPOSED

Nation Wide Cooperatives Suggested As Answer To Problems

By H. C. HUNTER WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—The downfall of the American Federation of Labor is predicted by W. C. Reugnitz, president of the cooperative Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen's union, because of "destructive efforts" of its leaders. He proposes a national organization of employers and employees.

Co-ops Claim 2,500,000 Members

The so-called cooperative unions were said to have a membership of approximately 2,500,000 in the United States, while the paid up membership of the A. F. of L. was given at about 4,000,000. The cooperative unions, however, have no central organization, being merely local to each industry, a situation Reugnitz said he hoped to change.

Appeals For Coercing Action

In a circular letter suggesting the national organization of cooperative and company unions, Reugnitz wrote: "The heat of A. F. of L. propaganda is being turned on in an effort to break up all employer-employee collective bargaining organizations. In the western states special attention is being directed toward breaking up the 4-L established in 1917. This

ONCE "MR. AND MRS. EGOIST"!

Not the jaunty braggarts who signed themselves "Egoist" and boasted that brains and education would put them above the law, but two ordinary bedraggled criminals were Harmon M. Waley and his wife, Margaret, as they were arraigned in federal court at Tacoma, with death as the possible penalty for the crime of kidnaping the Weyerhaeuser child. According to the G-men, Margaret Waley was not the girl-wife dupe of her red-headed husband but the "brains" who wrote and devised the letters and shaped the plot.

Waleys Plead Guilty; Waley Gets 45 Years; Young Wife's Plea Refused By Kind Judge

TACOMA, June 21.—(AP)—Pleas of guilty to charges of kidnaping and conspiracy were made by Harmon W. Waley and Margaret Waley in federal court here today. In connection with the abduction and $200,000 ransom of nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser.

Judge E. E. Cushman had the two prisoners brought before the bar of justice at 2 o'clock and asked them if they were prepared to plead. When they indicated they were, he asked what the plea would be. Both answered guilty. Then Judge Cushman asked if they meant both charges, and both Waley and his wife said "Yes."

Clear Lake Road Open Every Day; Falls Are Named

The recently completed forest service road from Bellnap Springs to Clear Lake will be open every day, beginning Sunday, June 23, it was announced Friday by Perry A. Thompson, supervisor of the Willamette forest. The road has been open to traffic only week-ends up to now. Plans for development of camp grounds and observation stations at the three McKenzie river falls will be started by C. R. Clark, of the forest service here, Monday and it is expected this development work will be completed by CCC labor during the summer season.

Kidnap Suspect Is Proved Not Mahan

JACKSON, Wyo., June 21.—(AP)—Authorities in this resort on the edge of Yellowstone national park were convinced today by the appearance of a man, described by County Attorney W. W. Nielson as bearing a "striking resemblance" to William Mahan, hunted Weyerhaeuser kidnap, that two discrepancies in Bertillon measurements virtually blasted the inquiry.

F-D Takes Day Off To See F-D Jr. Pull An Oar For Harvard

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt arrived here today to witness the annual Harvard-Yale crew races. The president had put crews of state aside for the day's outing. His special train from Washington pulled into a siding close to the United States submarine base early in the morning and Mr. Roosevelt ordered an early breakfast to get out on the Thames river for the morning freshmen and junior varsity races.

Pepco Not Utility, Supreme Court Says

SALEM, June 21.—(AP)—The Portland Electric Power company is not a "public utility" and the public utilities commissioner has no jurisdiction over its budget expenditures, the attorney general held today in an opinion to Frank C. McColloch, commissioner. The opinion held that because the company owns and operates a rail, road, it is a railroad company, and under the 1933 utility budget control act, the commissioner would have no right to control its budgetary operations. Railroads in Oregon are not classed as public utilities under the law.

Flier's Mechanical Genius Brings Triumph To Long Experiments

By HOWARD W. BAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) NEW YORK, June 21.—(AP)—The mechanical genius of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, switched to science, inaugurates a new cycle in medical progress announced today. He has perfected a new mechanical heart and lungs at the Rockefeller institute, where he has been working for several years in seclusion of his own choosing.

It enables surgeons to remove a whole organ, such as kidney, heart, spleen or glands from an animal's body, and keep it alive indefinitely, growing independently, in an artificial chamber. The mechanical heart furnishes artificial blood. It revives organs an hour after death of the animal from which they came.

This reaches a goal medicine has sought 125 years. The goal is to make whole parts of the body live in glass chambers where scientists could see them and learn at first hand how they fight disease and how they secrete the sinews of health.

Heretofore the handicap has been that the removed organs died—they caught bacterial infection just like a person. Lindbergh's new apparatus has wiped out the infections.

His part of the contribution is the mechanical side. He teamed with Dr. Alexis Carrel, and with him signed the announcement made in science. Dr. Carrel won the Nobel prize for achievements in keeping tissues alive outside the body. But this new work is in no sense the old tissue culture.

Will Serve Many Uses "Its techniques, as well as its purposes," the announcement said, "are quite different."

"Its ultimate purposes are the manufacture in vitro, artificially, of the secretions of endocrine glands, the isolation of the substances essential

YOUNG HOLT WINS SEAT IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—The senate today voted to send Senator-Elect Rush D. Holt (D., W. Va.) by defeating a resolution declaring his election void on grounds of insufficient age. His right to a seat was challenged on the ground that his election was void because he had not attained the age of 30 years, set by the constitution for senate membership, at the start of his term.

The senate, in voting to seat him, decided that Holt, now being 30, had removed his ineligibility and was entitled to the seat to which he was elected.

"No Wedding Bells," Is Aimee's Anthem

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, said today there are no wedding bells in the offing for her. "I'm not going to marry Homer Rodheaver, nor am I going to marry anyone else," she declared in answer to reports of an impending romance between the evangelist and the former singing master for Billy Sunday.

Dr. Chaney to Take California Church

Many Eugene friends of Rev. S. J. Chaney and his family enjoyed a brief visit with them during the past week. Dr. Chaney was formerly a district superintendent of the Methodist church while residing in this city. He has just been transferred from the pastorate of the First M. E. church at Olympia, Wash., to the First M. E. church in Alameda, Cal., and made a brief stop in Eugene while enroute to the new southern appointment.

CANNERY MAN HURT

LINDY!

Time, fame and tragedy all have apparently failed to leave their impress upon Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, shown in the top photo as he is today and, below, as he appeared when his trans-Atlantic flight thrilled the world. "Lindy's" epochal achievement occurred just eight years ago May 20.

POSTOFFICE MONEY VOTED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—A $224,477,562 deficiency appropriation bill, covering funds for construction of new public buildings in nearly every congressional district in the nation, was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

The bill swept to passage over a republican filibuster yesterday and a prolonged but unsuccessful attempt today to lower a $34,675,192 appropriation for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

It would set aside $64,000,000 for new public buildings, with all but $6,000,000 to be expended outside the District of Columbia. Among major items in the bill is $10,000,000 for river and harbor improvements.

Word that the postoffice appropriation had been approved in Washington was met with the statement that efforts to obtain approval of the Eugene postoffice project would be redoubled here Friday. Stanley R. Stevenson, president of the Eugene chamber of commerce, said the chamber had been unable to get definite information as to the status of the local project, but that since the appropriation had been approved favorable action should be forthcoming in the near future.

Carloadings Reach Total of 653,092; Highest Since 1933

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—Loadings of revenue freight on the nation's railroads in the week ended June 15 totaled 653,092 cars, the highest for any week since October, 1933.

The total reported by the Association of American Railroads was an increase of 22,256 cars or 3.5 per cent over the preceding week and was contrary to seasonal trend. It was 24,211 cars or 3.5 per cent over the corresponding week of 1934 and was 10.2 per cent over the comparable 1933 period.

Two-Hour Battle Is Staged On Redwood Highway South of Town

EUREKA, Cal., June 21.—(AP)—The terror of death and bloodshed stalked into northern California's scenic redwood country from the Pacific northwest timber region today when 200 strikers clashed with a handful of police in a wild lumber strike riot.

A salvo of police bullets and tear gas terminated the melee, which left one man dead, nine injured or wounded, and resulted in arrest of 40 men who participated in the riot.

Elderly Striker Is Slain

The dead man was identified as G. W. Kaarte, 60-year-old striker from the picket lines surrounding the Holmes Eureka lumber mill, a half mile south of Eureka on the Redwood highway, scene of the conflict. He was shot to death, presumably by police.

Two of the wounded, Harold Edlund and Paul Laupella, pickets, were near death in local hospitals. Both were shot. Less seriously hurt were: Ole Nelson, striker, shot; Eugene Miller, picket, shot; John Smith, picket, gassed and injured in the fighting; J. Kinnare, picket, gassed and injured by flying rocks; Police Chief George Littlefield of Eureka, severely beaten about the head; Police Captain Tom Rutledge, head injuries; Traffic Officer William French, head injuries and bruises; Patrolman Peter Carroll, beaten.

Battle Lasts Two Hours

Twenty rioters were jailed by police who began an immediate roundup of participants in the two hour fight, quelled with tear gas and gunfire. Authorities reported the outbreak was precipitated by pickets, seeking to enlist Holmes mill workers in a sympathy strike supporting the Washington and Oregon lumber industry walk-out.

The pickets, they asserted, had blocked off the highway and were waiting for plant workers to appear when a special mill policeman arrived in his automobile to relieve the night watchman. The pickets halted his car and attempted to drag him out, police said. The man fought free, wheeled his car round and speeded back to Eureka, half a mile northward, where he reported the incident to authorities.

MITCHELL TROUBLE HUNTER IS CHARGE

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—Making a sweeping defense of the commerce department against charges of its ousted assistant, Ewing Y. Mitchell, Secretary Ross today in turn accused Mitchell of pursuing obstructive tactics which created a "log jam" of business in the department.

The cabinet member appeared before the Senate commerce committee personally to answer the deposed assistant secretary's accusations of inefficiency and graft in the department. Reading from a prepared statement, he described Mitchell as a man of "exceedingly suspicious temperament" who was "prone to treat every rumor of unsupported statement as true." Committee members listened sympathetically—in contrast to their critical attitude toward Mitchell.
