

NEBRASKA ANNUAL GIVES PICTURE OF YOUTHFUL HUNTER

The caption opposite the picture reads: "Fred M. Hunter joined the Varsity in his sophomore year, and made good at the guard position. He has played this position for the past three years with increased efficiency each year. In graduating Hunter leaves a hole in the team that will be hard to fill. In addition to being an athlete, he is a student of rare ability, being a member of the English club and the German club and having represented Nebraska in the interstate debate in 1901 and 1902."

His name next appears in the list of Phi Beta Kappa members, a scholastic achievement which is seldom won by athletes. Sport fans will remember the columns of publicity received by W. Barry Wood, Jr., of Harvard in 1931 for being both a great quarterback and also a "Phi Beta." A faculty member at Nebraska who was a member of this honorary scholastic group at the time of Hunter was the famous Roosevelt Pound, now dean of the Harvard law school.

A glimpse of Hunter as a member of the English club is afforded as the pages are turned. This group "has occupied itself chiefly with reviews, or criticism, or investigation; sometimes it has inclined almost exclusively to verse or to short story writing; and sometimes it has given itself up madly to club life features connected with club life. Willis Cather, noted novelist, is a member of the English club too.

Hunter next appears in a group of rather solemn faced fraternity brothers, members of Alpha Theta Chi. Faculty members of note listed in the ranks are Roscoe Nathan Pound and Edwin Ford Piper.

And then comes the crowning touch, the humanizing element, so to speak, which rounds out the picture of Hunter as a "well fellow." Under the humor department "Joshiology" is listed. A "Sobriety" contest which is a plan to award a silver flask to the fraternity offering the most lucrative scheme for saving money. Submitted from the Alpha Theta Chi chapel and signed by "Socrates Psychology Hunter" is a letter which reads "Dear Editor, We would like to help in so worthy a cause, but unfortunately our expenses this year have been unusually heavy, for, as is generally known, we have been compelled to pay all expenses incurred by scouting parties from the East sent out by Alpha Delta Phi. Permit us to suggest that a more suitable prize would be a framed motto with some such sentiment as 'If at first you don't succeed, try, try again.' We believe that such a prize would be a more fitting incentive for this grand and noble cause."

Notes from the Senior class close the list and "The Greatest Social Success" is listed as Fred Hunter. Which translated into the 1935 campus vernacular would rate him the term a "smoothie."

Under the debate department a summary of requirement for its debaters is given as "accurate use of the mother tongue, the world's first test of a person's education; intellectual honesty, reverence for the fact; knowledge of how to test evidence to get at the fact; power of effective expression; culture as evinced by manners; power to work and willingness to work without immediate reward;—these are some of the qualifications the University sets for its representatives in intercollegiate debates; these are tests to which the world in awarding its prizes will rigidly subject the young graduates." And qualifications which Frederick Hunter passed with colors high as his record after graduation shows.

Pair Charged With Theft Of Windows

Howard Sippey and Leona Annesia, both of Eugene, were arrested by state police officers Saturday afternoon on a charge of larceny of a number of windows from a house at Sixteenth avenue and Willamette street. The windows were missed a few days ago and officers said they traced them to a place where they were sold by Sippey and the woman. The house is owned by the world war veterans' state aid commission, having taken it over on a mortgage. Sippey was locked up in the county jail and his companion was detained in the women's quarters at the city hall.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY IN SUMMER SEASON SHOWING BIG GAIN

Previous week, as estimate by Cram Reports, Inc.
The week ended June 15, production of electric power advanced 1.0 percent from the previous week and 4.6 percent over the same week a year ago to a point near the peak for 1935 while loadings were up ironed out insuring a continuous supply of bituminous.

Building Is High
With private residential building in May the highest since January, 1931, reports of continued activity were given last week from a number of 3.5 percent from the previous week. More freight cars rattled back and forth across the country because the users of coal feared the much discussed strike which, however, was held in abeyance by presidential intervention. Tonnage stocks of coal currently are reported to be the largest since 1929, a condition which has led analysts to declare there should be a slump when the difficulties between capital and labor have been sections.

Additional building, plus a diminution in labor strife, is credited with boosting the production of lumber. Advances were more than usual for this time of year, although orders in the aggregate were less than the output.
Reports continued to be received on the effect of the abolition of the old NRA—some favorable, some unfavorable—but in the main there remained in evidence a degree of caution about buying for fear price schedules would be revised downward.

commitment. Usually the leaders figure on losing 60 to 70 per cent of the non-committal when the roll is called. With those absent and ill, the 75 votes which republican chiefs said their side would cast against that measure would have been enough to defeat it.
It took the most extreme efforts by new deal chiefs to prevent a roll call on that bill which, they said privately today, would have defeated the measure. Most democratic objections, they reported, came from southern members who felt the bill was unconstitutional.

Irving Hale Named Y.M.C.A. Assistant

Irving Hale has been appointed as associate secretary of the Eugene Y. M. C. A. to assist W. P. Walker, secretary. It was announced Friday after the meeting of the board of directors. Hale will be in charge of all boys' work and manage softball activities. He was formerly with the Salem Y. M. C. A.
At the meeting two committees were named as follows: the physical education committee of Ed Johnson, Rogers Kimberling, Don Smith, Frank Bone and M. B. Castello and the finance committee of Dr. George I. Winchell, J. W. McArthur, Raymond Torrey, J. O. Holt, P. E. Snodgrass, Rev. C. F. Ristow and Donald Husband.

FOREST LOOKOUTS MUST PASS SPECIAL EYE EXAMINATIONS

Men selected for forest fire look-out duty on the high peaks and towers within the national forests must be able to pass a special new eye test devised by the Pacific Northwest forest experiment station, research branch of the United States forest service in Washington and Oregon, according to Roy Elliott, assistant supervisor of the Willamette national forest.

At the fire guard training camps held on each national forest at the beginning of the fire season this eye test will be given to all candidates for lookout positions. Outdoors, and in the glare of full sunlight, the prospective lookout will be tested, among other things, to determine how far away he can see a circular white spot 3-8 inch in diameter against a dull black background about 1 1/2 by 8 feet. Those with good eyesight can see the white spot when it is more than 450 feet away, and persons with exceptionally keen eyesight have seen it at distances of more than 600 feet.

VOLUNTARY CODES FOR 40-HOUR WEEK

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—A 40-hour work week, with time and a half pay for overtime, emerged today as a possible standard for all voluntary codes under the new NRA.
Despite organized labor demands for a 30-hour week, the longer period apparently was gathering support at NRA and federal trade commission officials continued their studies of how jointly to prepare voluntary agreements.
One important official, who declined to be quoted, contended the 30-hour goal of the American Federation of Labor—even if practical economically—would be impossible of attainment on a strictly voluntary basis. Business groups have opposed it both in NRA and before congressional committees in hearings on 30-hour week legislation.

Mrs. C. L. Curtis, 1753 Columbia street, Eugene.
Chicken a La King
1 1/2 cups white sauce
2 cups chopped chicken
2 cups cooked mushrooms
1 green pepper
1 pint tomato
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Cut up chicken in small pieces. Add chicken and remaining ingredients, cut up, white sauce, which may be made with cream, milk or chicken broth. Serve on toast.
This makes a wonderful luncheon dish.—Mrs. C. R. Parks, 2421 Kincaid street, Eugene.

Chicken Hash Slices
1 cup diced cooked chicken; 2 cups cold mashed potatoes; 1/2 cup celery, cut real fine; 1/2 cup onion, minced; 1/2 cup chicken stock or milk; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 1/2 teaspoon dried parsley; 1/2 teaspoon diced summer savory; 2 tablespoons bacon drippings or chicken fat; 3/4 cup green peas or crushed cornflakes. Combine ingredients and form into a roll. Chill. Then slice in 4 or 5 thick slices. Place slices into a oiled baking pan; top each with a small piece of butter and place in a 350 degree oven. Let bake 15 to 20 minutes. Remove with a wide spatula to a hot platter and top each slice with a slice or quarter of tomato. If desired, the slices of tomato may be dotted with butter and baked on top of the hash slices. This dish will answer the "dinner call" nicely, if served with buttered new peas, cucumber and tomato salad. In watercress with French dressing, hot buttered biscuits, fresh strawberry or raspberry tart and whipped cream, and coffee.

If it's a picnic that's "in the offing"—I'd prepare the hash slices in this manner: After chilling the roll, slice very thin and pan-fry slices until golden brown. When cold, pack carefully and when ready to eat, serve "hamburger style" on sandwich rolls, or between slices of buttered bread. This hash is good hot or cold.—Mrs. W. R. Armstrong, 1392 W. 11th Ave., Eugene.

HOPE FOR EUGENE POSTOFFICE DIMS

to make any attempt to obtain a great sum for postoffice work in this city.
"We queried the deal once before by asking that the sum be increased to $500,000," Mayor Lange pointed out, "the result being we got nothing. If we make any protest over the present allocation, Washington probably will take the attitude that if we are not satisfied with this sum, nothing will be given to this city."

Informed sources have indicated that this will be the last improvement money spent for several years and that if Eugene wishes to get any improvement on the building it would be best to accept what is offered and say nothing.
Unless more space is provided in the federal building in the near future, Eugene stands to lose the Siuslaw forest offices which have been moved from the postoffice building and installed in the Miner building, it was pointed out.
In the event Eugene receives the $225,000, it is believed ground adjacent to the present location would be acquired and a new wing added to the old building.

Woolen Mill Gives Employees Picnic

The Eugene Woolen Mills gave a picnic Saturday for employees at Dilley's Park on the Willamette, 150 were in attendance. Games were features during the day and races and contests with cash prizes.
A baseball game between the wool and dyeing department and the weaving and finishing department proved an exciting one with the wool department winning by a 9 to 8 score.

HIGHWAY SPENDING PROGRAM OUTLINED BY ROAD ENGINEER

Seventy-nine thousand dollars will be needed to defray the state's portion of the expense of a $225,000 federal lands highway program in 1938, and $120,000 to qualify for the same amount in 1937.
The statement of state funds available shows $2,332,000 in 1935, including savings of $1,410,000 carried over from 1934, and $1,167,000 in 1938. These sums will absorb all state money for new construction, surveys and rights-of-way during the two year period.

HIGHWAY PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Presidential approval of the proposed international highway, to connect the United States and Alaska through British Columbia and the Yukon territory, was received today by Delegate Dimond (D-Alaska) in a letter from the White House.
The President's letter said Mr. Roosevelt favored construction of the highway and made several suggestions for changes in the bill authorizing such construction which now is in committee in the house.

A similar bill, introduced by Senator McNary, (R-Ore.) has passed the senate.
The president suggested that the $2,000,000 appropriation for construction of the Alaska section and the $100,000 for negotiations with Canada be removed. Dimond said Senator McNary had agreed to the
