NEW DEAL POINTED TO CRUCIAL PERIOD

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was believed at the capital today to be pointing the new deal determinedly into an epochal political and constitutional struggle.

Whatever uncertainty existed before was offset by his request for the house ways and means committee not to "permit doubts as to constitutionality, however reasonable, to block" the Guffey coal bill.

Other developments this week also supported the prospect.

With challenges of its enactments pending in the courts, the administration finally saw the Wagner labor bill become law and progress of the social security and utility control bills toward the statute books.

Each had been attacked as unconstitutional. The parties divided on the votes.

Suits to annul them will take their place alongside those already pending against the AAA and TVA. Thus a broad range of New Deal legislation will be reviewed by the supreme court, possibly in time to influence the 1936 campaign profoundly.

If the essential principles share the fate of NRA, and no other way can be found to effect them within the constitution, proposals to amend that instrument are expected.

HAPSBURGS AGREE TO AWAIT RECALL

VIENNA, July 8.—(AP)—Archduke Otto and his mother, the empress, have entered into a "gentlemen's and ladies' agreement" not to attempt to enter Austria until neighbor nations are reconciled to the return of the Hapsburgs, it was said authoritatively today.

A government-sponsored bill that legalizes the return of all the Hapsburgs is expected to be enacted Tuesday. Otto and his mother, it is understood, will remain in Belgium until they are recalled.

So portentous to other nations is the name Hapsburg, interlaced with Europe's history and particularly with Europe's wars, that another war might well be precipitated if Otto returned to the country without an international agreement.

Official statements have made it apparent that the 22-year-old Otto and his mother are in close touch with the government, which is eager to give them the signal for a triumphant entry into the capital.

The United Press correspondent at Brussels learned that 14 prominent Austrians conferred until 3 a. m. July 4 at Stenockerkastel, Belgium, where Otto makes his home.

Carnival to Open Here Tuesday to Run For One Week

The West Coast Amusement company will present their carnival Tuesday night and all week at the show grounds located on Second avenue west.

The show has some twenty attractions consisting of the usual thrill riding devices, among which is the newest riding device, the "Loop-a-Plane," the ride that gives all the thrills of a stunt airplane ride and none of the spills.

The company has a personnel of some three hundred people all of whom are housed locally. Strict orders have been given to all employees to patronize local merchants 100 per cent during their stay in Eugene.

The shows are direct from California and are en route for the Midway feature of the Multnomah county fair at Portland.

DAEDALUS

FAR back in the days of Greek fable, Daedalus, a famous architect and sculptor, built a labyrinth for King Minos of Crete. He soon incurred the enmity of the king and was thrown into the labyrinth. Seeking to escape, Daedalus fashioned wings for himself and his son, Icarus, and fastened them to their shoulders with wax. Over the sea to Sicily they flew, but Icarus rose too close to the sun, the wax melted, the wings fell off, and he was drowned. Daedalus, the story goes, arrived safely.

Symbolic of this first flight of man, some of the nations have issued airmail stamps representing Daedalus in flight. The stamp of Hungary is shown here. The latest issue of this type is the new Canadian airmail stamp.

WINGS BREAKING THROUGH THE DAWN!

Here's something for local amateur photographers, interested in the snapshot contest being sponsored by the Register-Guard, Carl E. Baker, Film Shop and the Modern Engraving company, to shoot at. The photographer has turned artist in this depiction of a flock of geese winging their way through a wooded glen as the early sun filters through a morning mist. The ethereal beauty of the picture so impressed judges at the Annual Salon of Photography that they awarded it first place in the pictorial class. It was taken by Eno Vadas, Budapest, Hungary. The salon was held at the San Diego exposition this year.

firm, perfect grapes, and cut off five or six (with the stem) for each individual serving.

The method of frosting the grapes is simple. With a small triangular piece of brown paper (2 1/2 inches long), which has been fringed on the edges, paint the grapes with unbeaten egg white, then sprinkle the grapes unevenly with granulated sugar and allow to dry.—Mrs. Given Broatch, 755 High street.

Tomato-Cantaloupe Salad

Peel medium-sized tomatoes, remove a thin slice from the top of each, cut the seeds and some of the pulp. Sprinkle inside with salt, invert, and let stand 30 minutes. Fill the tomatoes with fresh cantaloupe cut in small cubes and English walnut meats, using 2-3 cantaloupe and 1-3 nut meats, mixed with mayonnaise. Garnish with mayonnaise, halves of nut meats, and slices cut from the tops of tomatoes. Serve on a bed of lettuce leaves. Nics served with cold meats.—Viola DeAdmond, 67 Washington street.

Melon Cocktail

Use watermelon and other varieties of melon. Cut out the meat in small balls. Sprinkle very lightly with fine sugar and dress with fresh lime juice. Pluck cooling sprigs of mint and decorate each cocktail with a little spray. Serve very cold (this side of freezing). Most delicious for breakfast or luncheon.—L. E. McNeese, 1095 W. Seventh, Eugene.

CATHOLIC GROUP CLOSES CONCLAVE

SEATTLE, July 8.—(AP)—Catholic Daughters of America rounding out their 10th biennial conference prepared to go home after a convention marked by strongly worded resolutions against birth control, salacious entertainment, communism and atheism.

Miss Marguerite Martin, state regent for New Jersey and head of the committee campaigning against salacious literature and suggestive art in magazine advertisements, for example, said "We have advocated a publicity campaign to bring decent and enlightening entertainment into the homes of America. There are many magazines on sale which do no good and cause actual harm to the youth. Decent people are rising against them."

Immodesty in dress for church attendance also will receive attention between now and the next convention, she added.
