

VIENNA PROFESSOR SAYS WESTERN ART HAS GREAT FUTURE

Tall, white haired, and artistically rugged in his classic perfection, is Dr. Eugen G. Steinhof, of Vienna, one of the most noted members of the University of Oregon summer session faculty.

"America," says Dr. Steinhof, "is now in the age when art is coming into its own. Up to the present, she has been occupied with building a civilization out of a wilderness—industry has been man's chief creed, and all his efforts were turned to that goal. Now it has been achieved—and man turns to art for his expression."

"Moving pictures are the photographing of art," Dr. Steinhof explained—but added with a knowing smile, "that is, most of them."

"The colored movies," Dr. Steinhof predicted, are the thing of the future. Not until, however, movie producers discard the present system of coloring the ordinary black and whites—a process which results in a garish conglomeration of colors which becomes offensive to the eye—and unnatural. Right color distribution must be the basic principle followed in the development of color films.

Dr. Steinhof is an expert in colored photography, and noted for his outstanding work in that field. He was educated in Europe, where he attended the University of Technology in Vienna, and studied natural sciences at the Sorbonne in Paris. For a time he designed the stage sets for the National opera in Vienna, and created the stage decorations as well as the stage settings at the Chamber Elysee opera house in Paris. He introduced a unique theory of design for this costume; instead of heading the style of the various periods, he designed costumes from ideas the music suggested.

In 1925 in Paris he was awarded the Hors Concours, the highest award, for his plastic work. In the international exhibition at Barcelona in 1929, he received the golden medal for stage design.

Schmeling On Way To Sign Contract For Joe Louis Go

Berlin, July 13. — (AP) — Max Schmeling was on his way in from the woods today to sign a contract to battle Joe Louis of Detroit in a milk feed battle in New York in September.

Joe Jacobs, the German's American manager, said yesterday that Schmeling, on a hunting trip, called him by telephone and agreed to meet the dusky bomber who slugged Primo Carnera out of the heavyweight title picture recently.

Schmeling was under contract to Walter Rothenburg, European promoter, to fight Max Baer in Amsterdam, Holland, but the condition of Baer's hands threatened to prevent that engagement.

Deer Are Pests in 4-H Club Gardens

Four-H garden club members on Fall creek and Whinery creek have a new pest which they have to contend with these days, according to R. C. Kuehner, county club leader, who visited some of the gardens in those localities Friday. The deer are no numerous around there that young gardeners say they have to sit up at night to keep them from eating up all their garden "apes." One family reported six deer in the garden one night and declared that there were 20 or more standing around on the outside of the enclosure. Others have had similar experiences, Mr. Kuehner said.

MISSION REDS WIN OVER ANGELS, 4-3

(By United Press) The Reds took another from the Angels last night, with Mike Meola as their victim. The score was 4-3. Big Mike couldn't hold the Streetmen in the clutches while Wayne Osborne, allowing the same number of hits, 11, proved steeper than the new Angel No. 1 man.

It was the third win in four games for the team which the Angels used to find the softest pickings in the circuit. The Missions gained a game on the third place Angels as a result.

The Seals clung to their one-game lead over the Missions by beating Hollywood, 5-4, in a ninth inning Frank Merriwell finish. One run behind, Joe Dimaggio and his pals slammed their way to victory by collecting two runs off Lefty Hebert. Di Maggio's winning single, driving home two runs, was his third hit of the game.

Seattle lost a chance to push Los Angeles out of third place. The Indians bowed before Oakland, 3-2, in another of their close battles. This time the Oaks won out in the final frame, scoring the winning counter in the ninth off Pete Dagnall. Pinch Hitter Ken Douglas delivered the winning blow, sending Uhalt home with a single. Vitt was banished from the game in the seventh. Conlan and Haid did the mound labor for Oakland.

With Tom Flynn pitching three-hit ball, Sacramento scored its first win over Portland. The score was 10-1. The Senator batters, held in check for three games, treated four Beaver hurlers roughly in collecting 13 hits. Four Beaver errors also helped.

TIGERS WIN OVER SENATORS, 2 TO 1

NEW YORK, July 13. — (AP) — The Tigers rescued their game yesterday from the Washington Senators in the 8th inning when Greenberg's single scored Fox for a 2-1 victory.

The Yankees trounced the Cleveland Indians 5-2. Lou Gehrig's homer in the fourth with Chapman aboard proved to be the winning marker.

The Chicago White Sox whipped Boston's Red Sox, 13-2, as they blasted four hurlers for 17 hits.

George Blauvelt blanked his former teammates as the Philadelphia Athletics triumphed 9-0 over the St. Louis Browns.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies were rained out. The other National team were unscheduled.

office after she had heard the jurors request additional instructions she told Chitry "My goodness, I hope that jury don't acquit me."

Mrs. Waley tried twice to plead guilty during her arraignment but was prevented by Judge Cushman on the ground that the only facts before him—statements of her counsel and of her husband tended to exonerate her. Her husband, Harmon M. Waley, 24, pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Judge Cushman to 45 years in the McNeil Island federal penitentiary near here but was not placed on the stand as a defense witness. Chief Defense Counsel John F. Dore told the jury he did not call Waley because he knew Waley would testify they took George Weyerhaeuser into Idaho "and he would be a perjurer and a liar."

The jury was taken to lunch at noon, after having considered the case since 10:44 a. m.

Fashion Showings—Cape Flattery

Edited by LAURA I. BALDIT, A.M. For many years Assistant Professor of Household Arts, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, N. Y.

Many women of fuller figure sigh over the smart cape dresses, realizing in most cases, they are not for her.

Here, however, is a dress with details that create an illusion of slowness, in cape that just turns the shoulders at the front, and in the neckline tied in scarf effect.

turning to their homes, the strikers and sympathizers crowded to entrance of the bridge, intending to block it. Thousands of spectators lined the sidewalks.

The first gas was used about 5 p. m. The crowd, including many women and boys, scurried for safety as masked troopers hurled bombs, vomiting yellow, nauseating smoke, into its midst. It reformed as the wind blew the gas away, into the ranks of the spectators.

As rioters grew bolder, some caught up the gas bombs in their hats and hurled them back at the military. One bomb, thrown either by a guardsman or a striker, landed in an army truck, parked on the street, and set fire to it. The truck was destroyed.

By 7 p. m. 300 militiamen had arrived from Camp Murray. They formed lines, bayonets fixed, and drove the rioters slowly backward, up the hill and out of the business district. As the crowd passed a produce market, members pelled the troops with overripe tomatoes and cantaloupes, from garbage cans in the rear. Gradually the crowd dispersed.

principles expounded last night but I am not wholly in accord with the meeting.

The alleged communistic activity—to which Ryan has led the opposition—was asserted to involve expansion all along the west coast and also in Nevada, Arizona, Utah and Idaho. Although the report chiefly involved maritime activities, it also charged plans for general increase in all communistic activities under the newly created "Pacific coast secretariat."

The report submitted to the convention was under the heading: "Communists in maritime activities."

It said that, following out communist party plans for more intense activity over the west coast, a new secretariat would have jurisdiction over all of the Pacific coast states as well as the four others named above.

The secretariat will be "under direct control of the following central executive committee of the communist party, U. S. A., who direct policy from communist party headquarters in New York:

"Berl Browder, political phase; Jack Stachel, trade union phase; "Appointments made on the Pacific coast area secretariat are: S. M. Darcy, San Francisco, executive secretary; S. Sparks, Seattle, assistant executive secretary."

"California: James Branch, Elmer Hanoff, Liaison officers; James Tracy, Harry Bridges, Ed Black, husband of Elaine Black, and a man known as Scott or Marzales of San Francisco."

HEAT WAVE GRIPS U. S.; EUGENE HAS NEW 1935 RECORDS

In the midwest, but renewed heavy rains threatened a resumption of floods in New York.

The torrid heat for two days beat over an area extending from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border.

In the last 48 hours heat in the New York metropolitan area killed 14. In Wisconsin five were dead, but soothing winds whipped across the lake country late Friday and promised a moderate week-end.

Windstorms and heavy rain descended in the sweltering midwest.

The storm area of the midwest was of such magnitude that its cooling effect will be felt for at least two days, weather observers said. Its ability to blow out the stagnant, heated atmosphere which prevailed in the southwest for ten days was seen as an indication that there will not be a recurrence of last summer's life and plant destroying drought.

The bodies of nine persons were taken from a swollen creek bed near Grandhurst, Colo., where a sudden cloudburst sent a miniature flood racing over farms and homes. So rapidly did the storm strike that several were trapped in their homes.

An electrical storm accompanied by high wind raged across southern Illinois and the Missouri valley Friday, leaving one dead and causing thousands of dollars loss in property.

Before relief came last night temperatures reached new highs. In New York millions gasped beneath a sun that sent temperatures to the highest levels for July in 24 years. Throughout the midwest and south many areas recorded temperatures above 100.

Floods in New York and adjoining states accounted for more than 50 deaths.
